100,000 Flee Gulf Coast At Approach of Hurricane

By CARROLL TROSCLAIR

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Tens of thousands of people fled the Louisiana gulf Coast in cars, trucks, buses and jeeps today and left entire towns abandoned to the approaching 150-mile-an-hour fury of Hurricane Hilda.

An estimated 100,000 persons had left or were leaving their homes in the parishes (counties) of the Cajun country. Hundreds were moving inland from the East Texas Gulf Coast as the 400-mile-wide monster storm sent flooding tides to shore.

All of St. Mary Parish was being evacuated. Evacuations were also reported in Plaquemines, LaFourche, Iberia, Jefferson and Cameron parishes.

Officials of St. Mary's Parish appealed for a train — "any kind of train"—to help remove people. The Southern Pacific said it would do its best.

Col. Joseph LeBlanc, Civil Defense director, said officials of Lafayette parish with a population of 38,000, were preparing to remove people from the town of Delcambre South.

Winds lashed around its core at 150 miles an hour. In size it was almost as big as Louisiana and Mississippi combined. Tides began rising today, more coastal towns emptied, and the Coast Guard raced to help a ship feared sinking in the storm.

At 10 a.m. EDT Hilda was reported 250 miles south-southwest of New Orleans and moving north-northwest. However, the hurricane was expected to move northerly in the next few hours.

Hurricane warnings were displayed along all of the Louisiana coast west of the mouth of the Mississippi River.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said winds would reach gale force late today in an area from Galveston, Tex., to Mobile, Ala. Tides were on the rise and were expected to reach 3-6 feet. The bureau said the season's eighth hurricane had the potential to produce tides up to 12 feet near and just east of the center when it storms ashore.

More than 52,000 people were ordered evacuated in St. Mary Parish, which includes Morgan City und Franklin, La. Other evacuations were being carried out.

Damage to Economy Forecast in Auto Strike

By GENE SCHROEDER.

DETROIT (AP) — A nationwide strike by the United Auto Workers against General Motors entered its second week today amid signs that its impact was beginning to be felt in some communities.

Negotiators seeking to end the walkout reported slow progress in efforts to resolve nearly 17,000 local plant demands, the bulk of which apparently must be settled before striking workers return to their jobs.

An Associated Press survey indicated that if the dispute continues for another week the economic effects will start to be felt from coast to coast.

Since the GM payroll lags a week behind the work period, however, most of the strikers had another paycheck coming this week.

More than a quarter-million UAW members were ordered off GM assembly lines in 16 states last Friday when bargainers failed to reach agreement on national non-economic issues for a new three-year labor contract.

Immediately production of new 1965 Chevrolets, Buicks, Oldsmobiles, Pontiacs and Cadillacs came to a halt.

But the UAW instructed workers to continue on the job at GM factories which turn out parts and accessories sold to the giant automaker's chief competitors — Ford and Chrysler.

Accessories destined for GM automobiles began to fill up available storage space, however, and the company ordered a cutback in production.

By the end of the week, layoffs of non- striking workers totaled nearly 15,000 in New York, Indiana, Connecticut, Ohio and Michigan. More were expected next week.

GM said the strike is costing hourly-rated employes more than $7 million daily in wages, and that the figure could rise to $9 million as more layoffs become necessary.

Automobile production for the industry as a whole fell off from last week's 150,924 to 88,762.

Wall Street brokers said the GM strike has had a dampening effect on the stock market, reflected in a lower trading pace and some signs of retreat.

General Motors stock itself, however, remained close to $100 a share, just under its all-time

Pikes Peak Auto Traffic Sets Record

Pikes Peak Highway tolls for this year have now exceeded the 251,003 mark set during all of 1963.

Road Superintendent Jack Sullivan said last year's mark was erased at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday and that this year's total through September was 251,300.

If travel up the mountain during this October stays on a par with last October, when more than 9,000 went through the toll gate — 1964 will move into the ranks of second best year since the city took over operations in 1948.

The all - time travel high was established in 1956 when 280,192 used the highway.

Second best year to date was the 257,882 recorded in 1954 while the third best was 255,152 during 1957. Third best year on record was the 252,947 chalked up in 1959.

Dockworkers Ordered to Go Back to Work

NEW YORK (AP) — The International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO, ordered its 60,000 striking dockworkers to return to work at Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports at 7 p.m. today, New York time.

The move complied with a federal court restraining order Thursday night halting the strike for 10 days in the national interest.

Before the meeting of union officials to set in motion the machinery for obeying U.S. Dist. Judge Frederick VanPelt Bryan's order, ILA President Thomas W. Gleason said: "We all went out together and we'll all go back together."

The order was signed after the customary 3 p.m. hour of "shaping up" the dock gangs for the following day's work. Union officials said this hiring practice was the reason for the delay in bringing the piers back to life.

Some pickets showed up at New York docks this morning, saying they had not received orders from their union shop.

A little later the union notified all ports to withdraw pickets and stand by for return-to-work instructions.

There were indications that waterfront activity would not fully return to normal until Monday because shipping and stevedoring firms would have to pay premium rates for work done tonight or during the weekend.

Medicare Bill Is Dead, Says Congressman

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A last attempt to work out a House - Senate agreement on President Johnson's health care bill apparently failed today, carrying to defeat with it a proposed increase in Social Security benefits.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., announced that a Senate-House conference committee, after meeting for the eighth time, was unable to reach agreement.

Mills said no further meetings were scheduled.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., a key architect of a compromise administration "medicare" plan, indicated that the bill was dead.

"This means the President will have to go to the people and ask for a mandate on this issue in November," Gore said.

Both the House and Senate approved increases in cash benefits for Social Security beneficiaries. But only the Senate bill provided for Johnson's health care program for the aged.

Loss of the medicare bill was not unexpected. Defeat of the Social Security increase was a surprise.

The deadlock tightened earlier this week when the Senate insisted on inclusion of the medicare plan in the compromise bill. The House opposed it.

Students Wreck Police Car In Berkeley

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A mob of 3,500 students continued to defy University of California officials today after wrecking a campus police car and refusing police orders to vacate the administration building.

The demonstration, which started Thursday morning and continued today, was in protest of a university edict banning on-campus solicitation of funds for off-campus political projects.

Expulsion of eight students Tuesday for disregarding the university rule touched off the demonstration, which several times threatened to turn into a full-scale riot.

The crowd began forming shortly after police took into custody a non-student, Jack Weinberg, 24, and prepared to take him to police headquarters on charges of trespassing.

Police said Weinberg refused to stop soliciting funds despite several warnings.

Several flung themselves

Yugoslavs Will Stay Away From Kremlin Talks

By HENRY S. BRADSHER

MOSCOW (AP) — Yugoslavia's decision to stay away from the Kremlin's world meeting of Communist parties next year is a hard blow for Soviet Premier Khrushchev's efforts to rally support against Peking.

The decision announced in Belgrade Thursday creates a third point that might help Communist parties avoid being drawn into the Soviet or Chinese camps.

A number of parties have been reluctant to choose sides in the dispute. They fear the result will be a tightening of discipline within the two camps that will

Three Men Are Arrested in Race Bombings

By ED MCCUSKER

MCCOMB, Miss. (AP) — Three white men, arrested in connection with the wave of racial bombings in this southwest Mississippi city, today faced charges under a 15-year-old state law carrying a maximum penalty of death for illegal use of explosives.

The arrests were the first break in the 16 bombing attacks which fanned racial tension in McComb during the summer.

The Pike County grand jury, which meets next week at nearby Magnolia, will be asked to consider charges against the trio stemming from the bombings of the homes of a Negro minister and a Negro woman active in civil rights work.

Authorities identified the men as Paul Dewey Wilson, 25, a railroad employe; Ernest F. Zeek, 25, an employe of an auto accessory firm; and Jimmy P. Wilson, 38, a service station attendant. The Wilsons are not related.

They were whisked to Jackson Thursday after interrogation by state and federal authorities and held without bail.

City Group Launches Battle Against Proposed Sales Tax

Battle strategy was announced Thursday against what the Consumers Against Sales Tax committee labeled a "discriminatory" tax.

Their target was City Manager John Biery's recommendation that City Council pass a two per cent city sales tax. Biery says the new tax base would allow "an almost unbelievable reduction" in the city mill levy. He also says it would finance a five-year $8.4 million capital improvement program for parks, storm sewers, increased fire protection and more policemen. Council is expected to act on Biery's recommendation at their Oct. 13 meeting.

The consumers' committee of downtown merchants drew an audience that by 3:15 p.m. almost filled the Little Theater of City Auditorium. The crowd was orderly and frequently applauded anti-tax statements.

The committee was introduced: Robert Hibbard, Hibbard's Department Store, president of the Downtown Merchants Association; Norton Bain, Bain's Clothing, a director of the merchant's association; Duane Graham, assistant to the manager of Montgomery Ward and Co.; Joseph Pieper, Pieper's Rexall Drugs; and Max Davis, Zale's Jewelers. Also present was their attorney, Bernard Trott.

The committee sat on the stage, flanked with signs. "No Sales Tax" said one sign. Another had the slogan, "It's Taxation Without Representation." The lectern was plastered with another sign — "No More Taxes."

The other stage decoration was a large map with city boundaries outlined in red. Clearly labeled, encircling the city, were such names as Security, Southgate, Ivywild, Manitou Springs and other con-

New Air Terminal Planned by City

City Council this morning authorized leasing of the Peterson Terminal to the U.S. Air Force and announced plans for a new air terminal facility for the city.

After the council meeting, Col. Howard Cloud Jr., commander of Ent Air Force Base, said the additional facilities would make possible transfer of additional units to Peterson Field. Their identity was "classified information," he said.

City Manager John Biery said disposal of the terminal would make it possible for the city to build its own facility. He was authorized to negotiate for acquisition of land required for a new $800,000 terminal on the west side of the field.

The city manager was also given authority to negotiate for land for "runways or other facilities which will be required in connection with the operation of the municipal airport. . . in connection with the Colorado Springs Master Plan."

The master plan for the airport, Biery reminded, was approved by the Federal Aviation Agency about five years ago.

Biery said that a feasibility report on airport expansion, which was accepted this morning by the council, estimated that 200 to 250 acres could be shaved off original estimates of 770 acres for further development of Peterson Field.

Biery said the new terminal building probably would not be permanently used for that purpose. He said the new facilities could be ready within a year or less and paid for, with other improvements, "entirely from

Farmer Stock Strike Ended After 43 Days

By KENNETH HOPPING

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The National Farmers Organization which had been striving for 43 days to halt the marketing of livestock in a drive for higher prices ended its holding action Thursday night.

But Oren Lee Staley of Rea, Mo., the NFO president said that it was only a recess in the controversial farm group's effort to gain bargaining power on prices with meat processors.

The boycott, which started Aug. 20, was the longest in a series of such moves. Effective in 23 states on cattle, hogs and sheep, it was marked by violent incidents in the Midwest. Two NFO men were killed when a cattle truck backed over them at a loading station in Wisconsin.

Except for a flurry of short supplies during the early days of the boycott the major terminal livestock markets reported little effect on receipts or prices.

But Staley charged: "Reported receipts figures tabulated by processors and marketing interests during the holding action have been ridiculous."

"Each holding action has been much stronger than the last," he said. "Many more farmers have joined the NFO. There is no stopping or turning back. The battle is on and the temporary halt in this action will be used to build strong actions for the future until farmers start receiving fair prices under contract."

No one would say how much livestock NFO men now will be sending to market and what the impact on prices will be. The organization does not disclose its membership.

Staley cautioned members not to dump their supplies. At Chicago Thursday cattle and hog prices were about the same as before Aug. 20 and were around $6 a hundredweight under minimums the NFO sought.

Staley advised members not to sell anything until the market price has been established on the day they plan to sell.

"Keep production away from the terminal markets where

Less Silver, or None in U.S. Coins, Is Proposed

By ADREN COOPER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury is considering proposals to reduce or eliminate the silver in silver coins, authoritative sources said today.

The change in the nation's basic silver policy would require several years. Officials apparently are undecided whether to ask Congress to merely reduce the amount of silver in coins, or to replace it with another metal.

However, there seems to be no doubt that the present high rate of coinage will consume the Treasury's stockpile in a few years.

Ironically, the recognition of a silver shortage comes shortly after Congress directed the mint to resume production of silver dollars for the first time in 30 years. The 45 million cartwheels will contain more than 34 million ounces of silver.

The potential shortage of silver is related to the shortage of coins, but it is afar more basic, long-range problem, than the temporary pinch in coins.

Treasury officials believe they have time to wrestle with the many-sided problem because government supplies total about 1.35 billion ounces. This is enough to supply non-Communist world demands for several years — but the demand is growing and officials believe action should be taken in advance of the danger point.

They have been studying the problem of changing the metal content of dimes, quarters and half-dollars — the ones that contain silver — for more than a year.

Here are some aspects of the dilemma:

An announcement that the silver content of coins would be reduced might cause more hoarding and collecting of the present silver coins. Since the Treasury stands ready to sell any amount of silver at the monetary price of about $1.29 per ounce, there might be a run on Treasury stocks by silver speculators.

The more drastic action of eliminating silver from coinage altogether apparently would leave a plentiful supply of the metal since the mint is the world's biggest consumer, but it might drop the price to a point where silver producers would be discouraged.

Dimes, quarters and half-dollars made of base metal — nickel, copper or lead, for instance — would not work in most vending machines, and a $3-billion-a-year industry might suffer a serious setback.

If no action is taken, the price of silver would jump as soon as the Treasury supply is exhausted. If it rises very far above $1.29 it would be profitable to melt silver dollars; if the price goes significantly above $1.38, dimes, quarters and half-dollars would go into the pot.

Brutality at Nursing Home Is Charged

District Attorney Pat Hinton said this morning that "there had been quite a few reports of brutality against patients at the Hegg Nursing Home and district attorney's office was going to investigate further as to possible other criminal action."

Hinton was referring to a charge of assault and battery which was filed Thursday in Justice of the Peace N. C. McShane's court against Bessie E. Hegg, the operator of the home which is at 314 N. 20th St.

The complaint was signed by Raymond E. Henry who alleges Mrs. Hegg assaulted him Thursday. Judge McShane said this morning that no date had been set yet for a hearing.

Thomas Bell, director of the Colorado Welfare Department said the home would be dropped from the department's list of homes for welfare patients pending the action against Mrs. Hegg.

He admitted an investigation started in August was continuing into "other matters" at the home, but he declined to elaborate further on the matter.

He said the probe was started by Hinton after the State Welfare Board considered dropping the home from its payment list.

U.S.-British Atomic Treaty Draft Prepared

By CONRAD FINK

CAIRO (AP) — The United States isn't invited to the conference of nonaligned nations opening [illegible] Cairo Monday. But it probably [illegible] play the role of whipping [illegible].

Conference sources said the United States — and probably Britain and Communist China also — are bound to be targets of some Asian and African nations whose foreign ministers began preconference talks Thursday night.

The foreign ministers' discussion on the agenda indicated, the sources said, that some participants are planning swipes at the great powers in an effort to gain support for their own private quarrels — quarrels with each other, in some cases.

Unofficial conference ground rules say these private quarrels are not to be brought up. But diplomatic activity in the hotels along the Nile showed they will be, and that the big powers will be linked with them.

Thus tiny Cambodia is expected to "illustrate" its opposition to colonialism by condemning what it calls U.S. interference in Southeast Asia.

Indonesia's President Sukarno is expected to "illustrate" his opposition to colonialism by condemning Britain's part in the Indonesia-Malaysia quarrel.

India is expected to press for a censure of colonialism and racialism, making clear it feels Communist China is guilty of both.

As the foreign ministers sat down in the auditorium of Cairo University, the usual emotional issues were being put forth for discussion — disarmament, imperialism "new and old," and racialism.

Even on these, differences separate the nonaligned nations.

Those angry at the Western powers attack "imperialism" and those fearful of Communist Chinese expansion lash out at "imperialism new and old."

The issue of racialism can be used against the United States or against Peking's concept of Asian and African against the white West.

These different interpretations of hot issues and the Asian and African nations own quarrels indicate there is little chance of the conference giving birth to anything resembling a "third force" between East and West.

India is known to favor a strong attempt to fashion some kind of machinery for economic cooperation among the nonaligned nations. The idea is to reduce the dependence of many Asian and African nations on economic aid from the East and West blocs.

Defendant in Murder Trial Declared Sane

Richard Olon Gooch who has been charged with first degree murder has been found legally sane by Dr. Richard L. Conde.

The announcement was made Thursday by a District Court spokesman. No further information regarding the doctor's report was available to the press as it had been sealed on orders from Judge William M. Calvert.

Gooch, 38, Ft. Carson, is accused of the fatal shooting of his wife, Gloria Dean Gooch, 32, at the couple's home, 705 Main St. June 13.

On July 3 he pleaded innocent and trial date was set for Sept. 15, but on Sept. 4 he entered an additional plea of insanity and the date was vacated. The defendant will appear in District Court today when it is expected that his trial date will be re-set.

Even on these, differences separate the nonaligned nations.

Those angry at the Western powers attack "imperialism" and those fearful of Communist Chinese expansion lash out at "imperialism new and old."

The issue of racialism can be used against the United States or against Peking's concept of Asian and African against the white West.

These different interpretations of hot issues and the Asian and African nations own quarrels indicate there is little chance of the conference giving birth to anything resembling a "third force" between East and West.

India is known to favor a strong attempt to fashion some kind of machinery for economic cooperation among the nonaligned nations. The idea is to reduce the dependence of many Asian and African nations on economic aid from the East and West blocs.

Damage to Economy Forecast in Auto Strike

By GENE SCHROEDER.

DETROIT (AP) — A nationwide strike by the United Auto Workers against General Motors entered its second week today amid signs that its impact was beginning to be felt in some communities.

Negotiators seeking to end the walkout reported slow progress in efforts to resolve nearly 17,000 local plant demands, the bulk of which apparently must be settled before striking workers return to their jobs.

An Associated Press survey indicated that if the dispute continues for another week the economic effects will start to be felt from coast to coast.

Since the GM payroll lags a week behind the work period, however, most of the strikers had another paycheck coming this week.

More than a quarter-million UAW members were ordered off GM assembly lines in 16 states last Friday when bargainers failed to reach agreement on national non-economic issues for a new three-year labor contract.

Immediately production of new 1965 Chevrolets, Buicks, Oldsmobiles, Pontiacs and Cadillacs came to a halt.

But the UAW instructed workers to continue on the job at GM factories which turn out parts and accessories sold to the giant automaker's chief competitors — Ford and Chrysler.

Accessories destined for GM automobiles began to fill up available storage space, however, and the company ordered a cutback in production.

By the end of the week, layoffs of non- striking workers totaled nearly 15,000 in New York, Indiana, Connecticut, Ohio and Michigan. More were expected next week.

GM said the strike is costing hourly-rated employes more than $7 million daily in wages, and that the figure could rise to $9 million as more layoffs become necessary.

Automobile production for the industry as a whole fell off from last week's 150,924 to 88,762.

Wall Street brokers said the GM strike has had a dampening effect on the stock market, reflected in a lower trading pace and some signs of retreat.

General Motors stock itself, however, remained close to $100 a share, just under its all-time

Pikes Peak Auto Traffic Sets Record

Pikes Peak Highway tolls for this year have now exceeded the 251,003 mark set during all of 1963.

Road Superintendent Jack Sullivan said last year's mark was erased at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday and that this year's total through September was 251,300.

If travel up the mountain during this October stays on a par with last October, when more than 9,000 went through the toll gate — 1964 will move into the ranks of second best year since the city took over operations in 1948.

The all - time travel high was established in 1956 when 280,192 used the highway.

Second best year to date was the 257,882 recorded in 1954 while the third best was 255,152 during 1957. Third best year on record was the 252,947 chalked up in 1959.

Dockworkers Ordered to Go Back to Work

NEW YORK (AP) — The International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO, ordered its 60,000 striking dockworkers to return to work at Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports at 7 p.m. today, New York time.

The move complied with a federal court restraining order Thursday night halting the strike for 10 days in the national interest.

Before the meeting of union officials to set in motion the machinery for obeying U.S. Dist. Judge Frederick VanPelt Bryan's order, ILA President Thomas W. Gleason said: "We all went out together and we'll all go back together."

The order was signed after the customary 3 p.m. hour of "shaping up" the dock gangs for the following day's work. Union officials said this hiring practice was the reason for the delay in bringing the piers back to life.

Some pickets showed up at New York docks this morning, saying they had not received orders from their union shop.

A little later the union notified all ports to withdraw pickets and stand by for return-to-work instructions.

There were indications that waterfront activity would not fully return to normal until Monday because shipping and stevedoring firms would have to pay premium rates for work done tonight or during the weekend.

Students Wreck Police Car In Berkeley

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A mob of 3,500 students continued to defy University of California officials today after wrecking a campus police car and refusing police orders to vacate the administration building.

The demonstration, which started Thursday morning and continued today, was in protest of a university edict banning on-campus solicitation of funds for off-campus political projects.

Expulsion of eight students Tuesday for disregarding the university rule touched off the demonstration, which several times threatened to turn into a full-scale riot.

The crowd began forming shortly after police took into custody a non-student, Jack Weinberg, 24, and prepared to take him to police headquarters on charges of trespassing.

Police said Weinberg refused to stop soliciting funds despite several warnings.

Several flung themselves

By ED MCCUSKER

MCCOMB, Miss. (AP) — Three white men, arrested in connection with the wave of racial bombings in this southwest Mississippi city, today faced charges under a 15-year-old state law carrying a maximum penalty of death for illegal use of explosives.

The arrests were the first break in the 16 bombing attacks which fanned racial tension in McComb during the summer.

The Pike County grand jury, which meets next week at nearby Magnolia, will be asked to consider charges against the trio stemming from the bombings of the homes of a Negro minister and a Negro woman active in civil rights work.

Authorities identified the men as Paul Dewey Wilson, 25, a railroad employe; Ernest F. Zeek, 25, an employe of an auto accessory firm; and Jimmy P. Wilson, 38, a service station attendant. The Wilsons are not related.

They were whisked to Jackson Thursday after interrogation by state and federal authorities and held without bail.

Medicare Bill Is Dead, Says Congressman

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A last attempt to work out a House - Senate agreement on President Johnson's health care bill apparently failed today, carrying to defeat with it a proposed increase in Social Security benefits.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., announced that a Senate-House conference committee, after meeting for the eighth time, was unable to reach agreement.

Mills said no further meetings were scheduled.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., a key architect of a compromise administration "medicare" plan, indicated that the bill was dead.

"This means the President will have to go to the people and ask for a mandate on this issue in November," Gore said.

Both the House and Senate approved increases in cash benefits for Social Security beneficiaries. But only the Senate bill provided for Johnson's health care program for the aged.

Loss of the medicare bill was not unexpected. Defeat of the Social Security increase was a surprise.

The deadlock tightened earlier this week when the Senate insisted on inclusion of the medicare plan in the compromise bill. The House opposed it.

Yugoslavs Will Stay Away From Kremlin Talks

By HENRY S. BRADSHER

MOSCOW (AP) — Yugoslavia's decision to stay away from the Kremlin's world meeting of Communist parties next year is a hard blow for Soviet Premier Khrushchev's efforts to rally support against Peking.

The decision announced in Belgrade Thursday creates a third point that might help Communist parties avoid being drawn into the Soviet or Chinese camps.

A number of parties have been reluctant to choose sides in the dispute. They fear the result will be a tightening of discipline within the two camps that will

New Air Terminal Planned by City

City Council this morning authorized leasing of the Peterson Terminal to the U.S. Air Force and announced plans for a new air terminal facility for the city.

After the council meeting, Col. Howard Cloud Jr., commander of Ent Air Force Base, said the additional facilities would make possible transfer of additional units to Peterson Field. Their identity was "classified information," he said.

City Manager John Biery said disposal of the terminal would make it possible for the city to build its own facility. He was authorized to negotiate for acquisition of land required for a new $800,000 terminal on the west side of the field.

The city manager was also given authority to negotiate for land for "runways or other facilities which will be required in connection with the operation of the municipal airport. . . in connection with the Colorado Springs Master Plan."

The master plan for the airport, Biery reminded, was approved by the Federal Aviation Agency about five years ago.

Biery said that a feasibility report on airport expansion, which was accepted this morning by the council, estimated that 200 to 250 acres could be shaved off original estimates of 770 acres for further development of Peterson Field.

Biery said the new terminal building probably would not be permanently used for that purpose. He said the new facilities could be ready within a year or less and paid for, with other improvements, "entirely from

Farmer Stock Strike Ended After 43 Days

By KENNETH HOPPING

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The National Farmers Organization which had been striving for 43 days to halt the marketing of livestock in a drive for higher prices ended its holding action Thursday night.

But Oren Lee Staley of Rea, Mo., the NFO president said that it was only a recess in the controversial farm group's effort to gain bargaining power on prices with meat processors.

The boycott, which started Aug. 20, was the longest in a series of such moves. Effective in 23 states on cattle, hogs and sheep, it was marked by violent incidents in the Midwest. Two NFO men were killed when a cattle truck backed over them at a loading station in Wisconsin.

Except for a flurry of short supplies during the early days of the boycott the major terminal livestock markets reported little effect on receipts or prices.

But Staley charged: "Reported receipts figures tabulated by processors and marketing interests during the holding action have been ridiculous."

"Each holding action has been much stronger than the last," he said. "Many more farmers have joined the NFO. There is no stopping or turning back. The battle is on and the temporary halt in this action will be used to build strong actions for the future until farmers start receiving fair prices under contract."

No one would say how much livestock NFO men now will be sending to market and what the impact on prices will be. The organization does not disclose its membership.

Staley cautioned members not to dump their supplies. At Chicago Thursday cattle and hog prices were about the same as before Aug. 20 and were around $6 a hundredweight under minimums the NFO sought.

Staley advised members not to sell anything until the market price has been established on the day they plan to sell.

Less Silver, or None in U.S. Coins, Is Proposed

By ADREN COOPER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury is considering proposals to reduce or eliminate the silver in silver coins, authoritative sources said today.

The change in the nation's basic silver policy would require several years. Officials apparently are undecided whether to ask Congress to merely reduce the amount of silver in coins, or to replace it with another metal.

However, there seems to be no doubt that the present high rate of coinage will consume the Treasury's stockpile in a few years.

Ironically, the recognition of a silver shortage comes shortly after Congress directed the mint to resume production of silver dollars for the first time in 30 years. The 45 million cartwheels will contain more than 34 million ounces of silver.

The potential shortage of silver is related to the shortage of coins, but it is afar more basic, long range problem, than the temporary pinch in coins.

Treasury officials believe they have time to wrestle with the many-sided problem because government supplies total about 1.35 billion ounces. This is enough to supply non-Communist world demands for several years — but the demand is growing and officials believe action should be taken in advance of the danger point.

They have been studying the problem of changing the metal content of dimes, quarters and half-dollars — the ones that contain silver — for more than a year.

Here are some aspects of the dilemma:

An announcement that the silver content of coins would be reduced might cause more hoarding and collecting of the present silver coins. Since the Treasury stands ready to sell any amount of silver at the monetary price of about $1.29 per ounce, there might be a run on Treasury stocks by silver speculators.

The more drastic action of eliminating silver from coinage altogether apparently would leave a plentiful supply of the metal since the mint is the world's biggest consumer, but it might drop the price to a point where silver producers would be discouraged.

Dimes, quarters and half-dollars made of base metal — nickel, copper or lead, for instance — would not work in most vending machines, and a $3-billion-a-year industry might suffer a serious setback.

If no action is taken, the price of silver would jump as soon as the Treasury supply is exhausted. If it rises very far above $1.29 it would be profitable to melt silver dollars; if the price goes significantly above $1.38, dimes, quarters and half-dollars would go into the pot.

Defendant in Murder Trial Declared Sane

Richard Olon Gooch who has been charged with first degree murder has been found legally sane by Dr. Richard L. Conde.

The announcement was made Thursday by a District Court spokesman. No further information regarding the doctor's report was available to the press as it had been sealed on orders from Judge William M. Calvert.

Gooch, 38, Ft. Carson, is accused of the fatal shooting of his wife, Gloria Dean Gooch, 32, at the couple's home, 705 Main St. June 13.

On July 3 he pleaded innocent and trial date was set for Sept. 15, but on Sept. 4 he entered an additional plea of insanity and the date was vacated. The defendant will appear in District Court today when it is expected that his trial date will be re-set.

Attorney Says Churches Should Pay Tax, Too

By KATHIE DIBELL

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Leonard Kerpelman, an attorney, says he wants to save American taxpayers millions of dollars.

He is trying to outlaw state and federal tax exemptions for church properties and church-owned businesses.

Kerpelman, 39, says he believes the suits eventually will reach the Supreme Court and become a milestone in church-state relationships in the United States.

He estimates that in Baltimore alone, taxation of church buildings would add $76 million to annual tax income. His clients in the suits are the Free Thought Society and the group's president, Lemoin Cree. The society pays Kerpelman a $10,000 retainer fee.

Many states, including Maryland, allow property tax exemptions for church buildings. Kerpelman already has presented opening arguments in Baltimore Superior Court against the Maryland exemptions, contending they violate the constitutional provisions against establishment of a religion.

He says all taxpayers are forced to contribute involuntarily to the support of churches because the churches use public money for such services as streets and police and fire protection.

In another suit, Kerpelman is attacking federal income tax regulations which allow churches tax exemptions on profits from businesses they own, including hotels, service stations and publishing houses.

Some churches voluntarily pay the taxes, but Kerpelman says exemptions run into millions of dollars.

These exemptions also are unconstitutional because they violate the constitutional provision of the separation of church and state, he maintains.

Since he filed the church property suit, Kerpelman says, "Many of my Jewish friends are giving me the cold stare. They're getting an edifice complex."

"However, there's no place in the Bible that says churches have to spend this much money looking good," he said.

Kerpelman says he is an Orthodox Jew, although he and his family attend synagogue irregularly.

He explains his Orthodoxy ironically:

LINDEN, N.J. (UPI) — It might be called the dream of every martini lover. "It" is the 900-gallon cocktail shaker, used here at Distillers Company, Lt to mix individually-bottled martinis for the airlines and railroads.

The glass-lined tank can hold as many as 115,200 martinis, with a ratio of seven parts gin to one part dry vermouth. The flow of the gin and vermouth into the mixer is controlled by measuring devices, similar in principle to the residential water meter, which can be preset to feed the right quantities of each ingredient into the tank.

Florissant News

By MRS. BEN GARVER

An open house, honoring the golden anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sever, was held Sept. 20 at their home in Crystal Peak Estates. Hostesses were Mrs. Marie Monroe, Mrs. Margo Schmitt, Mrs. Dorothy Erb and Mr. Sever's sister, Mrs. Florence Wheeler. Mrs. Fannie Lincoln was in charge of the guest book, which 125 guests from Colorado Springs, Woodland Park and this vicinity, signed. The Severs were delightfully surprised, when three couples who attended their wedding, arrived to celebrate their golden anniversary. They were the Humphreys, the Sewells and the Barkers of Kansas City, who remained a few days as houseguests.

Mrs. Marie Monroe spent part of last week near La Junta, attending and exhibiting her handicrafts at the hobby and Craft Show there.

Mrs. Jewel Locke and Mrs. Betty Oswald of Hartsel were Tuesday visitors at the Wilbur Lewis home.

The Ross Iles of Santa Barbara spent a couple of terrified days as flames threatened to envelop their residential area in the recent disastrous fire. They were prepared to evacuate their home, as ashes fell into the yards, heavy smoke and roaring flames were witnessed. Fortunately fog and shifting winds saved Santa Barbara proper. Mrs. Iles is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Garver.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Demling of Security were weekend callers at the W. F. Schmitt home in Crystal Peak Estates. The group were Sunday visitors at the Nat Snare home.

Miss Mary Miller and Mrs. Everett Johnson who have been here at 11 Mile Ranch, left for Oklahoma last week.

Members of the Snowflake Chapter of OES assisted at the food both in Colorado Springs at the recent convention. Mrs. Fannie Lincoln, Mrs. Dorothy Erb and Mrs. Helen Sever are Florissant members.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sever were called to Davenport, Iowa, due to the death of their son-in-law, following a long illness. He is survived by his widow and three children.

The public is invited to attend a Republican Rally Saturday evening, Oct. 3, at Echo Lodge, 11 Mile Ranch. Come and meet your candidates of both parties, enjoy free eats and an evening of fun and dancing.

The annual barbecue held at 11 Mile Lake Sites attracted the usual large crowd, Sept. 20, who danced to a western band on the newly built pavilion and shared refreshments and friendly hospitality. 11 Mile Lake Sites at present have approximately 40 new homes with many more lots sold, in a matter of a few years.

Sheriff Joe Hurst of Fairplay and Deputy Sheriff Ted Shelver were business callers in the area last Wednesday.

Visitors literally poured into the region Sunday to view the flaming quakies, which should reach the heighth of their beauty the first weekend in October. The golden and exhilarating days of Indian summer are here! A brief and severe snowstorm struck the region Saturday night, leaving welcome moisture, with the snow vanishing as fast as it appeared.

A number of Lake George residents attended the Republican buffet dinner Saturday night at the 4-H building in Fairplay. A lavhrmine-tisdne,e Fairplay. A lavish dinner, meeting of various candidates, both local and state, friendly sociability and an entertaining program made it an unforgettable evening. Unfortunately many were unable to attend, due to the snowstorm but nonethless, the crowd was large. The Republican Woman's Club hosted the affair.

The Paul Imbodens are building a new garage on their property.

Mrs. Hazel LaPorte who spent the summer working at the Lawson Sumner home returned to her home in Kansas last week.

Mrs. Alice Jeffryes has a new trailer home, which has been installed on the Jack Rodgers' property.

The Mountain States Telephone Co. construction crew of Colorado Springs has moved into Lake George and are commencing to build the much desired telephone line and dial system into the Tarryall area.

Candidates Are Urged to Keep Out of Crowds

With a grim reference to the Warren Commission report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, the Senate Democratic leader urged all four major candidates "to avoid exposing themselves unnecessarily to this danger.

"The Warren report underscores American political history in showing that the disaster of an assassination of a national figure not only can be, but is likely to be the work of a single warped mind," Mansfield told the Senate in prepared remarks.

He urged the candidates to comply with security safeguards of the Secret Service and other police officials and protectors.

"It is a matter of basic prudence and has nothing whatever to do with personal courage or confidence in the people of the United States," he said.

Mansfield noted that a national campaign requires that the major candidates "present them selves in person throughout the nation."

But he said the Warren Commission found that precautions can and should be taken "to reduce the risks to the President and other candidates."

"It is imperitive to do whatever may be reasonably done to avoid a catastrophe," he said.

Johnson has frequently mingled with campaign crowds in apparent disregard of his Secret Service and police guards and the Warren report.

"Much of the responsibility rests with the President and the candidates themselves," Mansfield said.

"I repeat, I strongly urge all of them in the interests of the nation to follow the procedures designed to provide for their safety, even if at times it means leaving a few hands unshaken or some autograph books unsigned," Mansfield added.

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Leonard Kerpelman, an attorney, says he wants to save American taxpayers millions of dollars.

He is trying to outlaw state and federal tax exemptions for church properties and church-owned businesses.

Kerpelman, 39, says he believes the suits eventually will reach the Supreme Court and become a milestone in church-state relationships in the United States.

He estimates that in Baltimore alone, taxation of church buildings would add $76 million to annual tax income. His clients in the suits are the Free Thought Society and the group's president, Lemoin Cree. The society pays Kerpelman a $10,000 retainer fee.

Many states, including Maryland, allow property tax exemptions for church buildings. Kerpelman already has presented opening arguments in Baltimore Superior Court against the Maryland exemptions, contending they violate the constitutional provisions against establishment of a religion.

He says all taxpayers are forced to contribute involuntarily to the support of churches because the churches use public money for such services as streets and police and fire protection.

In another suit, Kerpelman is attacking federal income tax regulations which allow churches tax exemptions on profits from businesses they own, including hotels, service stations and publishing houses.

Some churches voluntarily pay the taxes, but Kerpelman says exemptions run into millions of dollars.

These exemptions also are unconstitutional because they violate the constitutional provision of the separation of church and state, he maintains.

Since he filed the church property suit, Kerpelman says, "Many of my Jewish friends are giving me the cold stare. They're getting an edifice complex."

"However, there's no place in the Bible that says churches have to spend this much money looking good," he said.

"Only money is involved. It's not a question of freedom of conscience."

Kerpelman says he is an Orthodox Jew, although he and his family attend synagogue irregularly.

He explains his Orthodoxy ironically:

MIGHTY MARTINI

LINDEN, N.J. (UPI) — It might be called the dream of every martini lover. "It" is the 900-gallon cocktail shaker, used here at Distillers Company, Lt to mix individually-bottled martinis for the airlines and railroads.

The glass-lined tank can hold as many as 115,200 martinis, with a ratio of seven parts gin to one part dry vermouth. The flow of the gin and vermouth into the mixer is controlled by measuring devices, similar in principle to the residential water meter, which can be preset to feed the right quantities of each ingredient into the tank.

Florissant News

By MRS. BEN GARVER

An open house, honoring the golden anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sever, was held Sept. 20 at their home in Crystal Peak Estates. Hostesses were Mrs. Marie Monroe, Mrs. Margo Schmitt, Mrs. Dorothy Erb and Mr. Sever's sister, Mrs. Florence Wheeler. Mrs. Fannie Lincoln was in charge of the guest book, which 125 guests from Colorado Springs, Woodland Park and this vicinity, signed. The Severs were delightfully surprised, when three couples who attended their wedding, arrived to celebrate their golden anniversary. They were the Humphreys, the Sewells and the Barkers of Kansas City, who remained a few days as houseguests.

Mrs. Marie Monroe spent part of last week near La Junta, attending and exhibiting her handicrafts at the hobby and Craft Show there.

Mrs. Jewel Locke and Mrs. Betty Oswald of Hartsel were Tuesday visitors at the Wilbur Lewis home.

The Ross Iles of Santa Barbara spent a couple of terrified days as flames threatened to envelop their residential area in the recent disastrous fire. They were prepared to evacuate their home, as ashes fell into the yards, heavy smoke and roaring flames were witnessed. Fortunately fog and shifting winds saved Santa Barbara proper. Mrs. Iles is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Garver.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Demling of Security were weekend callers at the W. F. Schmitt home in Crystal Peak Estates. The group were Sunday visitors at the Nat Snare home.

Miss Mary Miller and Mrs. Everett Johnson who have been here at 11 Mile Ranch, left for Oklahoma last week.

Members of the Snowflake Chapter of OES assisted at the food both in Colorado Springs at the recent convention. Mrs. Fannie Lincoln, Mrs. Dorothy Erb and Mrs. Helen Sever are Florissant members.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sever were called to Davenport, Iowa, due to the death of their son-in-law, following a long illness. He is survived by his widow and three children.

The public is invited to attend a Republican Rally Saturday evening, Oct. 3, at Echo Lodge, 11 Mile Ranch. Come and meet your candidates of both parties, enjoy free eats and an evening of fun and dancing.

The annual barbecue held at 11 Mile Lake Sites attracted the usual large crowd, Sept. 20, who danced to a western band on the newly built pavilion and shared refreshments and friendly hospitality. 11 Mile Lake Sites at present have approximately 40 new homes with many more lots sold, in a matter of a few years.

Sheriff Joe Hurst of Fairplay and Deputy Sheriff Ted Shelver were business callers in the area last Wednesday.

Visitors literally poured into the region Sunday to view the flaming quakies, which should reach the heighth of their beauty the first weekend in October. The golden and exhilarating days of Indian summer are here! A brief and severe snowstorm struck the region Saturday night, leaving welcome moisture, with the snow vanishing as fast as it appeared.

A number of Lake George residents attended the Republican buffet dinner Saturday night at the 4-H building in Fairplay. A lavhrmine-tisdne,e Fairplay. A lavish dinner, meeting of various candidates, both local and state, friendly sociability and an entertaining program made it an unforgettable evening. Unfortunately many were unable to attend, due to the snowstorm but nonethless, the crowd was large. The Republican Woman's Club hosted the affair.

The Paul Imbodens are building a new garage on their property.

Mrs. Hazel LaPorte who spent the summer working at the Lawson Sumner home returned to her home in Kansas last week.

Mrs. Alice Jeffryes has a new trailer home, which has been installed on the Jack Rodgers' property.

The Mountain States Telephone Co. construction crew of Colorado Springs has moved into Lake George and are commencing to build the much desired telephone line and dial system into the Tarryall area.

Candidates Are Urged to Keep Out of Crowds

With a grim reference to the Warren Commission report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, the Senate Democratic leader urged all four major candidates "to avoid exposing themselves unnecessarily to this danger.

"The Warren report underscores American political history in showing that the disaster of an assassination of a national figure not only can be, but is likely to be the work of a single warped mind," Mansfield told the Senate in prepared remarks.

He urged the candidates to comply with security safeguards of the Secret Service and other police officials and protectors.

"It is a matter of basic prudence and has nothing whatever to do with personal courage or confidence in the people of the United States," he said.

Mansfield noted that a national campaign requires that the major candidates "present themselves in person throughout the nation."

But he said the Warren Commission found that precautions can and should be taken "to reduce the risks to the President and other candidates."

"It is imperitive to do whatever may be reasonably done to avoid a catastrophe," he said.

Johnson has frequently mingled with campaign crowds in apparent disregard of his Secret Service and police guards and the Warren report.

"Much of the responsibility rests with the President and the candidates themselves," Mansfield said.

"I repeat, I strongly urge all of them in the interests of the nation to follow the procedures designed to provide for their safety, even if at times it means leaving a few hands unshaken or some autograph books unsigned," Mansfield added.

Jacqueline Donates Two Irish Deer

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy has donated two Irish deer to the Children's Zoo in New York City's Central Park.

The deer arrived Wednesday from the Kennedy estate, "Wexford," in Virginia. They were given to her in 1936 by Eamon de Valera, president of Ireland.

Mrs. Kennedy recently purchased an apartment on Fifth Avenue, a few blocks from the zoo.

Union, General Electric Reach New Agreement

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—The General Electric Co. and a local of the International Union of Electrical Workers reached agreement early today in a dispute over a pay plan to avert a possible nationwide strike against GE by the union.

Negotiators worked out the final details of a new pact about an hour after the midnight deadline set by the company. GE had threatened to cancel a $80-million modernization program here if the IUE did not accept a new pay schedule for piece-work employes.

The union had charged that GE plan to switch about one-third of the plant's 9,000 employes from their piece - work rates to lesser straight-hourly wages violated GE-IUE contracts.

The company contended that the piece-work rates were pricing it out of competition with foreign manufacturers and other domestic firms.

Under the new pact, all employes would be on a straight-hourly pay system. The former piece-rate workers would receive compensatory "transitional allowances."

The company agreed to put at least 250 workers on piece-work rates on each anniversary of the signing of the agreement.

A GE spokesman said the future piece - work employes would be governed by "procedures designed to prevent the deterioration of incentive applications which occured in the past."

The agreement, which must be approved by the international union, was hailed by local union and GE spokesmen as "a landmark" in company-labor relations.

The union's GE conference board had authorized a strike, saying that, if the Schenectady local were forced to strike, it would urge strikes at other GE plants and shops where the union has members.

Jewelry Recovered From Arabian Plane

CUNEO, Italy (AP) — Police reported today they have recovered several hundred thousand dollars worth of jewelry lost last year in the crash of King Sauds private jetliner along the Alpine border between France and Italy.

The police said they stopped three teen-agers in the Turin railway station Thursday, found mountain climbing this summer part of the jewels on them and and we thought we could keep them. We did not know of any obligation to turn them over to the authorities," one youth told police.

The Saudi Arabian king's jet crashed March 20, 1963, against a 9,000-foot rock wall in the Argentera Mountains 30 miles southwest of Cuneo while on a flight from Geneva to Nice.

Saud was not in the plane, which was carrying his luggage. Eighteen crew members and members of Saud's household were killed.

NEW ONES BY NEWLEY AND BART

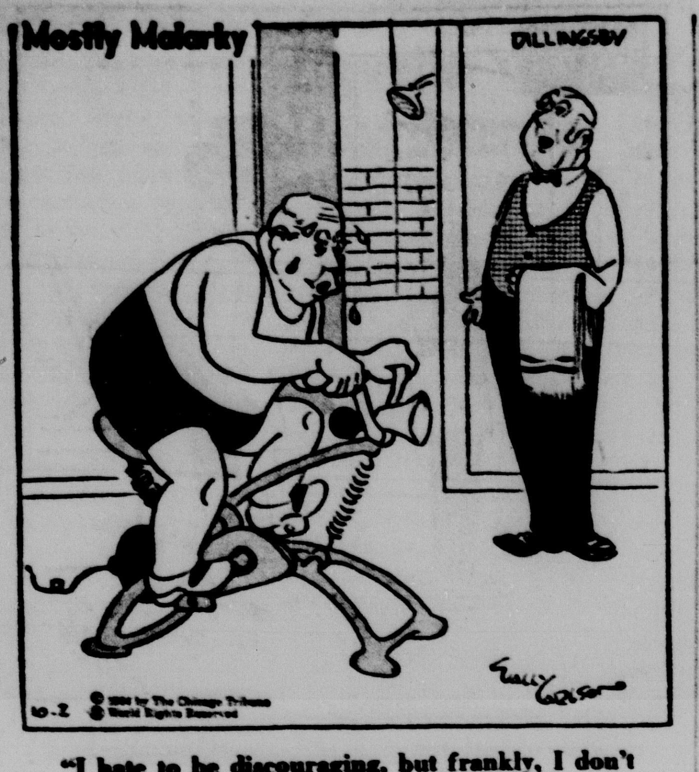
LONDON (AP) — Anthony Newley and Lionel Bart, the British composers of two of Broadway's biggest musical hits a season back, again have two shows in parallel preparation.

Newley, the sire of "Stop the World-I Want to Get Off," has again collaborated with Leslie Bricusse on "The Roar of the Greasepaint - The Smell of the Crowd." Bart, the author of "Oliver!," is teamed with Alun Owen on "Maggie May."

Both productions, being tested in England this year, are under option for subsequent White Way exhibit to David Merrick, who sponsored the previous displays.



"I hate to be discouraging, but frankly, I don't think you're getting anywhere."

Beaver Park Grange 396 met for a potluck supper and election of officers. A total of 17 members were present. Mrs. Robert Stebbins, lecturer, took charge, in the absence of the worthy master and overseer. The Grange will be in charge of the Country Store on Apple Day. Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Blades are co - chairman. The following were elected: Mrs. Evelyn Werner, worthy master; John Sandefur, overseer; Mrs. Jeanette Stebbins, lecturer; Leroy Harvey, steward; Fred Sandefur, assistant steward; Mrs. Ethel Lindley, chaplain; Oscar Blades, treasurer; Mrs. Sadie Blades, secretary; Mrs. Dorothy Harvey, gatekeeper; Mrs. Bertha Beeson, Ceres; Mrs. Mrs. Leora Rusler, Pomona; Mrs. Arlene Berg, Flora; Mrs. Sharon Sandefur, lady assistant steward, and Mrs. Ethel Lindley, home economics chairman. Mrs. Neva Buchanan was elected to the Executive Committee for a three-year term.

The Baptist Womens Missionary group met September 22 at the home of Mrs. Vernon Ruckman. Election of officers was held. The following were elected: Mrs. E. E. Wilson, president; Mrs. Robert Wilburn, vice president, and Mrs. Richard Trevithick, secretary - treasurer. Mrs. Wilburn reported on the Gold Bond stamp project. Mrs. C. L. Baker presented the lesson, taken from the book of Jonah. Mrs. Ruckman served refreshments to the nine present.

The regular business meeting of the Baptist church will be held Oct. 1, at the church. A potluck supper will be held at 6:30 p.m., the business meeting following. Election of officers will be held and yearly reports will be given.

Miss Pat Combs has returned after an extended visit with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Moore Jr., of Wilmington, N.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Shipman and family, of Fort Collins, were overnight guests on Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Shipman.

Mrs. Bernice Rathke, one of the early day pioneers of this vicinity will be the honored guest for the 29th Apple Day. Mrs. Rathke was born in Love, Colo., a town located on the Short Line between Cripple Creek and Colorado Springs. She lived in Cripple Creek for a while, then moved to Rosemont, where on July 14, 1915, she was married to Harry C. Rathke. In 1923 they moved to Penrose, where they owned one of the fine orchards, growing aples, cherries, and small fruits, besides operating their cattle ranch at Rosemont and surrounding territories. Besides their cattle, they had separate pastures for elk and buffalo, which were available to hunters. Riding with Mrs. Rathke will be her children, who have settled here and have played such an active part in the affairs of the community. There are four generations of the pioneer family now residing in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Ellis and family, of Pueblo, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Chockley and girls.

G. G. Stroud and Susie have returned from visiting relatives and friends in Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Stephens and Kevin, of Pueblo, were Sunday guests at the George Stephens home.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Gillespie were overnight guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thalken and Stacy of Fort Collins. The Gillespies returned home on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Buchanan were weekend visitors in Lincoln, Kan. They visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Decker. Mrs. Decker is a sister of Buchanan. Sunday the six brothers and sisters met in Lincoln for a reunion. This is the first time in several years the brothers and sisters have been able to be together.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Niehans, of Portland, Ore., are visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Niehans. Niehans presented a paper from the University of Oregon Medical School to the AMA convention. Niehans is chief of public relations at the University.

Mrs. Letha Ham has returned home after a lengthy stay in the hospital.

Each family in our community is planning to make enough apple pie to serve each member of their family and at least two extra pies for our guests. Please cut the pies at home. Niehan's store will distribute the apples for the pies. Just go into the store and ask for apples for the number of pies you wish to bake. The Albert Molellos and John Molellos and other private growers and the company orchards are furnishing the apples.

Martin Plant May Build More Rockets

DENVER (UPI) —The Rocky Mountain News reported today that the Martin Co., which operates a plant in the Denver area, had been asked to prepare a multi-million dollar basic plant for the Titan nX-Agena flight program.

The newspaper said it learned of the proposed program from Rep. Don Brotzman, R-Colo. Brotzman said un Air Force Pentagon official had approached martin copany leuders about the job.

Brotzman said he did not know how large a contract was involved, but noted it was "awfully big."

"This porgram will be a tremendous boost to the space effort of this nation and to the economy of the Rocky Mountain region," he said.

A giant three-stage Titan III was fired from cape Kennedy last month in which officials described as a "95 per cent successful" flight

Miss Pat Combs has returned after an extended visit with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Moore Jr., of Wilmington, N.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Shipman and family, of Fort Collins, were overnight guests on Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Shipman.

Mrs. Bernice Rathke, one of the early day pioneers of this vicinity will be the honored guest for the 29th Apple Day. Mrs. Rathke was born in Love, Colo., a town located on the Short Line between Cripple Creek and Colorado Springs. She lived in Cripple Creek for a while, then moved to Rosemont, where on July 14, 1915, she was married to Harry C. Rathke. In 1923 they moved to Penrose, where they owned one of the fine orchards, growing aples, cherries, and small fruits, besides operating their cattle ranch at Rosemont and surrounding territories. Besides their cattle, they had separate pastures for elk and buffalo, which were available to hunters. Riding with Mrs. Rathke will be her children, who have settled here and have played such an active part in the affairs of the community. There are four generations of the pioneer family now residing in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Ellis and family, of Pueblo, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Chockley and girls.

G. G. Stroud and Susie have returned from visiting relatives and friends in Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Stephens and Kevin, of Pueblo, were Sunday guests at the George Stephens home.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Gillespie were overnight guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thalken and Stacy of Fort Collins. The Gillespies returned home on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Buchanan were weekend visitors in Lincoln, Kan. They visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Decker. Mrs. Decker is a sister of Buchanan. Sunday the six brothers and sisters met in Lincoln for a reunion. This is the first time in several years the brothers and sisters have been able to be together.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Niehans, of Portland, Ore., are visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Niehans. Niehans presented a paper from the University of Oregon Medical School to the AMA convention. Niehans is chief of public relations at the University.

Mrs. Letha Ham has returned home after a lengthy stay in the hospital.

Each family in our community is planning to make enough apple pie to serve each member of their family and at least two extra pies for our guests. Please cut the pies at home. Niehan's store will distribute the apples for the pies. Just go into the store and ask for apples for the number of pies you wish to bake. The Albert Molellos and John Molellos and other private growers and the company orchards are furnishing the apples.

Martin Plant May Build More Rockets

DENVER (UPI) —The Rocky Mountain News reported today that the Martin Co., which operates a plant in the Denver area, had been asked to prepare a multi-million dollar basic plant for the Titan nX-Agena flight program.

The newspaper said it learned of the proposed program from Rep. Don Brotzman, R-Colo. Brotzman said un Air Force Pentagon official had approached martin copany leuders about the job.

Brotzman said he did not know how large a contract was involved, but noted it was "awfully big."

"This porgram will be a tremendous boost to the space effort of this nation and to the economy of the Rocky Mountain region," he said.

A giant three-stage Titan III was fired from cape Kennedy last month in which officials described as a "95 per cent successful" flight

Second Encephalitis Death Investigated

DENVER (UPI)—The Colorado Health Department Wednesday reported its first confirmed death this year due to encephalitis and said it was investigating a second death, also believed caused by the disease.

The confirmed case was that of Shirley Avara, a two-year-old la Junta, Colo., girl, who died Sept. 10 of the western equine variety of the disease.

The western equine variety generally is considered less serious than the St. Louis strain which recently broke out in epidemic proportions in parts of Texas.

The second death was that of Mrs. Sharon Salamino, 23, of Pueblo, a newly-wed of only two months. Officials said it would be two weeks before an autopsy would confirm if she died of the disease.

The Avara girl's death was the first recorded encephalitis-caused death in the state in several years. There already have been 15 confirmed cases of encephalitis in Colorado, the worst outbreak since 1941. Eleven were of the western equin variety.

MY ANSWER

by Billy Graham

© 1964 by Chicago Tribune
N.Y. News Syndicate, Inc.

QUESTION: The needs of this world are so great, and I am just one, small, finite person. I would like to be of use in God's service, but it all seems so futile—in the face of the world's staggering problems. What is tht right attitude to take? —G. B. N.

ANSWER: Someone has made this poignant comment: "What a potent deity is this who sets such power in little things, and uses 'things that are not that he might bring to naught things that are Little children that seemed so small and insignificant as not to count at all; a Moses in his ark of bulrushes; a Joseph with his childhood dreams; a Samuel with his childlike faith; a David with his boyhood sling; a Jesus wrapped in swaddling clothes and laid in a manger, all so little and small that it seems nothing could ever come of them — it is all so wonderful and so passing strange."

Jesus was not dismayed when He was faced with the problem of feeding the multitude. First, He found a little boy willing to give Him "all he had". He took that dedicated "pittance," and blessed it, and broke it, and it was sufficient to feed the multitude. God does not always look for big things to get His work done—He looks rather for the 'dedicated' small things. As we so often sing, "Little is much when God is in it". He is still using the weak things of the world to confound the wise. Give Him what little you have, and in his hand it will be much.

QUESTION: I am eleven years old and I resent the fact that my mother punishes me with a switch when I do something wrong. My teacher at school says this is wrong and illegal. What do you think? —E. R.

ANSWER: A disciplinary experience is a hard or harder on the parent than it is on the child. It would be much easier for your mother to skip the switch bit and let you have your own way. But she loves you enough to hazard your emotions and hers that she might make you a better boy. When my father used to say (before a spanking), "This hurts me worse than you", I thought he must be kidding. But now that I have children of my own, I know what he meant. Actually, emotionally, a parent who loves his child suffers more in a disciplinary experience than the child.

A good way to offset the resentment you feel because of these "switchings", is to remember the times your mother has bragged about you, picked you up after you, prepared a good meal for you, gone out of her way to take you to a ball game, or some other place of amusement, and been a valuable friend and confidante. Since mother is an expert cook, chauffeur, counselor, char-woman, laundress, maid, and hostess, you shouldn't feel too badly if now and then she has to play "policewoman". Just be thankful that she cares enough about you to discipline you when you need it.

School Buses To Run Again, Wagner Says

NEW YORK (AP — Mayor Robert F. Wagner announced at 3 a.m. today that Children's Bus Service, Inc., which suspended operations Thursday, would resume transporting 87,000 school pupils daily.

The suspension had come after four days of a "slowdown" that union drivers said was caused by mechanical failures and unsafe vehicles.

The company and the Board of Education called it a union jurisdictional dispute.

Wagner made his announcement after meetings with the company, the union and the school board over a period of nearly seven hours.

There was no immediate comment from union officials.

Asked if there was any possibility the city might take over school bus operations, Wagner said, "We hope it won't be necessary."

Then he added: "If the proper service does not take place or is not maintained, we would have to give some thought to these matters."

Children's Bus Service has contracts with the school board to carry 87,000 of the 92,000 pupils who use school buses each day. That's about 10 per cent of the total enrollment.

Thousands of children were left standing at street corners for four days starting last Friday. They missed classes or were late.

Thursday, the only day service was suspended, about 85 per cent of the pupils affected were in school, officials said.

The company said it had suspended service because of the "inconvenience and possible injury to school children resulting from the slowdown."

Olympic Television To Span Pacific

WASHINGTON (AP) — Preliminary test pictures relayed from Japan by the Syncom 3 communications satellite have boosted hopes for good U.S. reception for television shots of the Olympic Games, which open in Tokyo next week.

The satellite is hovering over the Pacific Ocean and is 22,300 miles in space.

Information Director Matthew Gordon of the Communications Satellite Corporation said Thursday the test transmission performance was "very good" considering Syncom was not originally designed for television relay.

COMSAT promised even better pictures for the formal inauguration on Tuesday of the trans-Pacific television space link, with the installation of highly refined specialized equipment flown from Tokyo to this country with a team of Japanese engineers.

The National Broadcasting Company will televise opening ceremonies of the Olympics and, using Syncom, will make the pictures available for simultaneous use by other networks and stations.

The pictures will be transmitted via Syncom to Point Mugu, Calif., and microwaved from there to Los Angeles for network showing.

Deaths

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Miss Nina Almond, the first head librarian at the Hoover Institution at Stanford University, died Thursday at the age of 82.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ernst Toch, internationally known composer who came to the United States from Germany when the Nazis moved into power in 1933, died Thursday following abdominal surgery. He was 75.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, M.D., Ph.D.

THE WORRY CLINIC Fri. Oct Dads, be sure to read this case, for Clyde is faced with the very same problem confronting millions of fathers. Alas, may dads use the wrong psychology so they drive their children into other trades or professions. So send for the booklet below.

By — George W. Crane,
Ph. D., M. D.

"Dr. Crane," he began during our luncheon, "my oldest son is 16 and a sophomore in high school.

"Since I have built up a thriving medical practive, I'd like for him to go to medical school and then join me afterwards.

"But he seems disinterested in medicine. In fact, I have the feeling that he'd rather do anything else than become a physician.

"So how can I change his mind and get him to go on to medical school?"

Many children develop a phobia of blood, so they shy away from medicine or dentistry.

Other boys have a secret resentment against their father for being so bossy and autocratic.

And this is doubly true of busy executives, wheter in business or medicine, for such a man comes home tired and ofte irritable.

He thus lacks patience with his son, so he may begin to shout and "bawl out" the youngster.

"LIKE FATHER LIKE SON"
T-480

* * *

As a result, the child withdraws and even shuns his male parent.

Furthermore, he wants to shun the latter's business, trade or profession.

If father and son have fun together, then the boy is more likely to go into the father's field of occupation.

Camaraderie between father and son is thus the best single factor in persuading the youngster to follow in his dad's footsteps.

When I addressed the American Funeral Directors Association, I had dinner with some of the leading morticians.

"How did you happen to decide to enter the mortuary field?" I asked.

Most of them did so becaue their ego was inflated by some local mortician in their town.

"He asked me to help him drive the ambulance," was a typicl reply.

"Since I was only 17 and in high school, I got a big threll out of driving the ambulance with the siren sounding and the red light flashing.

"So I guess that's what started it."

Physicians, dental surgeons and other parents can take a lesson from this, for about half of those morticians were first attracted to that field by being allowed to drive the ambulance.

Fathers, ask your children for help in a tactful way as regards your profession.

And by "tactful way" I mean, see that their ego is inflated by what they do.

Make them feel important!

"I WANT TO FEEL IMPORTANT!"

So lean upon your children even though you must manufacture glib reasons to appear relatively helpless. For it inflates the ego of youngsters to have their parents come to them for advice!

Usually, children are told off! They are ordered around. So it is a wholesome reversal to ASK them for opinions, advice and suggestions.

So send for my booklet on "Vocational Guidance," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. Use it to help guide your child's caree

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

DEPRESSION AFTER DELIVERY

A Chicago grandmther writes: "My daughter gave birth to a baby two months ago and she has been depressed for the last month. This condition is getting worse. This is her sixth child and this never happened before. She is the most patient and understanding mother I have ever know. Her husband just keeps telling her to snap out of it. Is there some suggestion I can make to him?"

Yes. This woman needs help, provided your conclusions are correct. Some women go into a depression following the birth of a child, and this mental state should not be treated lightly or blamed on physical exhaustion. You daughter should talk it over with the physician and not be left alone, especially when she appears listless.

Pregnancy does not cause psychiatric disturbances. Real or imaginary problems, worries, and fears during and after pregnancy usually are responsible. In some instances there is a residual infection that saps the woman's strength and creates a handicap that is difficult to overcome when caring for several children and keeping house.

Many of these women feel low and view the future without hope. They fear becoming a burden to family and friends. Some have shifts in mood and in the amount of energey they have; others lose appetite.

Now and then depression is obscured by a variety of other symptoms that are more physical than emotional. These complaints include fatigue, backache, headache, insomnia, abdominal distress, or chest pain. Weight loss is common, when these women do not enjoy food and cannot sleep. They may become violent or irrational. They seldom "snap out of it" and the sooner psychiatric care is started, the quicker the response to treatment.

Physicians are aware of these problems and try to prevent them by making the mother's stay at the hospital pleasant and enlightening. This means answering all questions that arise before and after delivery of the child.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

BUMP ON HEAD

G. T. writes: Several months ago, I happened to be rubbing the top of my head and felt a small bump as though someone had hit me. It doesn't bother me but I wonder if I ought to do something about it.

REPLY

Various types of cysts and tumors may develop on the skull. The most common — like the wen — is not serious. But there is no way to find out without an examination.

RECURRING GOUT

T. L. writes: Will one attack of gout lead to further bouts?

REPLY

Yes, though the chances of recurrences are decreased with proper diet and medication. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on gout, which discusses these factors.

SWOLLEN LIDS

F. C. writes: Does puffiness between the eybrow and eyelid indicate a kidney disorder?

REPLY

Some persons with kidney disease have puffy eyelids on awakening in the morning. But why guess? A simple urine test will answer your question.

SLUGGISH THYROID

M. J. S. writes: Could an underactive thyroid cause difficulty in speech, vision, and hearing?

REPLY

No, but hypothyroidism might make these senses less acute.

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — A Canadian cardinal told the Ecumenical Council today that "an indiscreet emphasis on infallibility" of the teaching role of the church should never take the place of the eyewitness testimony of apostles to Christ's life.

Paul Emile Cardinal Leger, the archbishop of Montreal, brought up the infallibility doctrine of the church in leading off the debate on the disputed theological issue of how God reveals himself to man.

"The apostles were eyewitnesses of revelation, while we today necessarily have a different view of revelation," the cardinal said.

He told the 2,200 cardinals, archbishops and bishops in St. Peter's Basilica that "undue emphasis has at times been placed on the magisterium (teaching role) of the church."

Long-Range U.S. Cigarette Trend Uncertain

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says the long-range trend of cigarette smoking remains uncertain.

Smoking, which dropped earlier this year after issuance of the surgeon general's report which condemned smoking as a health hazard, has increased recently. The domestic output of cigarettes this year, however, is expected to be 532 billion — 3 per cent below last year.

The decline, which reached as much as 8 per cent in February-April, was 2 per cent in May-July.

"If cigarette use continues fairly near the level indicated for mid-1964," the department said Wednesday, "output and consumption might be up a little in 1965.

"The immediate and longer range trend of cigarette consumption, however, will remain somewhat uncertain for some time."

It also reported a continuing increase in cigars and cigarillos with consumption this year expected to be 30 per cent larger than last season.

AT&T Reports Record Earnings

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. reported today it had record earnings during both the three-month and the 12-month periods ended Aug. 31.

The company, whose stock is owned by more persons than any other corporation, said net income for its fall quarter was $419,629,000 or 81 cents for each of its 519,416,000 outstanding shares. This was more than in any other quarter.

Net income for the 12-months was $1,597,618,000, or $3.19 a share, the greatest figure for any 12-month period.

The earnings figures compared with $383,148,777, or 78 cents a share, for the fall quarter of 1963, and $1,441,958,000 or $2.96 a share in the 12-months ended in August 1963.

School Buses To Run Again, Wagner Says

NEW YORK (AP — Mayor Robert F. Wagner announced at 3 a.m. today that Children's Bus Service, Inc., which suspended operations Thursday, would resume transporting 87,000 school pupils daily.

The suspension had come after four days of a "slowdown" that union drivers said was caused by mechanical failures and unsafe vehicles.

The company and the Board of Education called it a union jurisdictional dispute.

Wagner made his announcement after meetings with the company, the union and the school board over a period of nearly seven hours.

There was no immediate comment from union officials.

Asked if there was any possibility the city might take over school bus operations, Wagner said, "We hope it won't be necessary."

Then he added: "If the proper service does not take place or is not maintained, we would have to give some thought to these matters."

Children's Bus Service has contracts with the school board to carry 87,000 of the 92,000 pupils who use school buses each day. That's about 10 per cent of the total enrollment.

Thousands of children were left standing at street corners for four days starting last Friday. They missed classes or were late.

Thursday, the only day service was suspended, about 85 per cent of the pupils affected were in school, officials said.

The company said it had suspended service because of the "inconvenience and possible injury to school children resulting from the slowdown."

record level.

Other business firms have felt the shock, though.

In Alpena, Mich., the strike closed down Draser Products Corp., which has two plants employing about 200 workers. The company manufactures seaming lace for seat covers as well as floor mats for Buick and other GM divisions.

In Kansas City, Mo., Charles Tyler, acting president of UAW Local 93 at the Chevrolet and Fisher body plants, told The Associated Press:

"I'm really concerned. It doesn't look to me like much progress is being made. And I'm not the only one. There is quite a bit of concern among the other union officers, too."

Joe Petrecelli, president of UAW Local 1364 in Fremont, Calif., said: "So far, the feeling is good as far as money is concerned because there's another check coming. Of course, some families are beginning to feel a little pinched — those with lots of kids. And I guess some guys might be looking for work elsewhere."

Anroldo Leal, 32, of Chicago, a press operator with a wife and four children aged 3 to 7 said he preferred to be back at work.

"I think they pay as good as anyone. They treat me right," he stated.

In Buffalo, N.Y., Mike Lograsso, a member of Chevrolet Local 424 said: "Well, strikes are hard all over. But in order to win a principle, we don't care. I don't think a hungry gut is going to bring us back."

The UAW has a $67 million strike fund, from which workers will start collecting benefits next week ranging from $20 weekly for a single employe to $25 for a married couple to $30 for a family.

Yugoslavs Will Stay Away From Kremlin Talks

Belgrade's announcement came as the Soviet Communist party was reported circulating its proposed platform for a preparatory meeting of 25 parties on Dec. 15. Yugoslavia was not invited to that meeting.

European Communist sources in Moscow said foreign parties are being told five points will be the basis of discussion. They include a strong denunciation of nationalism, aimed at such Communist countries as Romania. They also include a broad hint that Khrushchev is the correct interpreter of Marxism and Leninism — something the Chinese deny and a lot of other Communists hesitate to concede.

The central committee of the Yugoslav Communist party apparently knew of these Soviet ground rules for the preparatory meeting when it decided not to attend the later meeting.

Red China and North Korea rejected invitations to both the preparatory and the full meetings with charges that Khrushchev is splitting the Communist movement and thereby benefiting anti-Communists. The Kremlin in turn accuses Peking of splitting activities that help "imperialists."

The pro-Chinese parties of Albania, Indonesia, Japan and North Viet Nam also are expected to refuse the invitation for Dec. 15. Nine parties have accepted, seven are expected to accept and Cuba, Poland and Romania are reluctant.

The ground rules for the Dec. 15 meeting — and therefore for the world conference — reportedly were laid down in a speech on Monday by Boris N. Ponomarev, a secretary of the Soviet Communist party.

Speaking on the 100th anniversary of Marx's first international, he said that on the centenary "the Communist movement draws important conclusions for the future," including a need to avoid "reactionary wars" or a world war. The Soviet Union accused China of failing to realize the importance of avoiding war.

In another obvious poke at China, Ponomarev concluded that loyalty to Marx and Lenin [illegible] that "do everything to keep intact and cement the [illegible] of our movement."

[illegible] point was a reference to [illegible] Communists doing [illegible] in their own areas for "the [illegible] of the common revolutionary cause."

New Air Terminal Planned By City

airport revenue."

Biery was authorized to investigate and negotiate financing of the terminal and engage engineers and architects.

The lease of the existing terminal to the government for $37,000 a year included an option for purchase of the terminal and adjacent land for $375,000. The lease, if approved by the government, said they would take over the terminal July 15, 1965 at the earliest and no later than Oct. 1. The leasing agreement also included the Maytag Hangar, now used in connection with city facilities.

The resolution authorizing the lease said the Air Force is "actively using the municipal airport facilities and contributes more than one half of all the annual operating expenses of the airport."

There was some discussion among the councilmen on if the lease should be authorized to dispose of the terminal before the resolution was passed giving the city manager power to negotiate for additional land.

"I'm not trying to complicate it. I just don't want to get us in trouble," said Councilman William Becker. Finally, Biery pointed out that the city could condemn land if necessary for a new terminal and hangars, ramps, runways and other expansion. Mayor Harry Hoth said that Sproul Investment Corp. would probably be willing to sell the city the land it needs.

After the council said they were assured that they would have a place to build a new terminal after leasing the present one to the government, they unanimously approved the lease.

Farmer Stock Strike Ended After 43 Days

receipts figures are given all the publicity and will be used to depress prices," he said.

The NFO disclaimed responsibility for much of the violence that occurred in September in Minnesota, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Missouri and other states and blamed outsiders.

There was a steady stream of scattered reports from livestock truckers that shots were fired at their vehicles or that their tires were cut by devices thrown on the highways.

More numerous were reports of farm fences being cut. In Iowa some farmers organized patrols of the roads to look for fence cutters.

But many of the demonstrations staged by NFO groups at buying stations were orderly, though noisy. Law enforcement officers were called out to break up blockades caused by the parking of trucks at buying stations.

Texas Men Skip Paying Motel Bills

Don Quigley of the Brave-Manor Motel, 1708 S. Nevada Ave reported to the sheriff's office Thursday two cases of motel skips both involving men from Texas.

According to Deputy Sheriff Bob Snaggs, one man from Phoenix left Sept. 10 owing a $26.32 bill and the other from Amarillo got out Sept. 18 owing $20.00. The sheriff's office is getting in touch with them.

Quigley also reported the theft of a television set worth $150. He said the door was locked in the unit and there were no indications of forced entry. The theft happened sometime between Sept. 26 and Tuesday.

City Group Launches Fight Against Sales Tax Plan

Hibbard, speaking first, stressed that the Pikes Peak region was an entity. He said a tax against business within city limits was unfair because only a "small portion" of the region would be taxed.

Hibbard guessed that appliance dealers in the city could lose more than 20 per cent of their business if the sales tax drove shoppers outside city limits.

Bain stabbed his finger toward the map and called the Knob Hill business district (outside city limits) an "island." He pointed out that Southgate (also outside the city) was "the largest single shopping center in El Paso County."

Bain said the merchants were not fighting the sales tax just for their own benefit, saying: "I think we are modern, progressive, up-to-date business people."

He said that the merchants were doing more than talking. We collected over 1,000 signatures on petitions against the sales tax between 2 p.m. Wednesday and now, Bain said. He said the petitions would appear "in practically every business in the city."

"This is everyone's battle," he enjoined the crowd.

This was the wording on the petitions: "We the consumers of the Pikes Peak region, who spend our money in Colorado Springs, vigorously protest the enactment of a sales tax. . . .

"We urge the City Council to reconsider the action that the city manager states they have unofficially taken and withdraw their support of a city sales tax."

The last statement, Bain said, was made when Biery participated in a panel last Saturday at Colorado College sponsored by the Colorado Springs Charter Association, and said: the City Council "has determined unofficially that a sales tax is the only method to keep city government running in Colorado Springs."

The committee passed out more ammunition — listings of the home and business phones of Biery and the nine city councilmen. After the phone numbers was the message, "Contact these people to protest the enactment of a city sales tax."

Bain said, "These people represent you and want to hear from you. Isn't that right Mr. Roe?"

Councilman Bill Roe had been busy jotting down notes at the rear of the theater. Later the councilman received warm applause when Bain said: "Bill Roe has shown that he's open minded. This is all we can ask."

Another circular was passed out, titled: "Consumers: Don't Be Fooled."

It said a seven mill reduction in the city property tax levy if made possibly by a two per cent sales tax will mean "more taxes." One example was a family of four in an $8,000 house with yearly income of $4,000. A seven mill reduction in the city property levy would save $14, but the two per cent sales tax would cost the family $60 a year, the circular said.

"You have no assurance that the school district will not raise its mill levy and absorb the city reduction," the circular said.

(The proposed Colorado Springs School District 11 budget for 1965 calls for a 1.50 mill levy increase.)

It was mentioned at the meeting that the people should be allowed to vote on a sales tax.

One man also suggested that areas secede from the city to avoid the sales tax. This is legally impossible, Attorney Trott advised.

Three Men Are Arrested in Race Bombings

Wilson was in the process of moving from McComb to nearby Jayess.

"He finally broke down," the sheriff said, "and told us a little bit of what had happened. He implicated the other two."

The illegal use of explosives law, under which Dist. Atty. Joe Pigott said he would charge the two Wilsons and Zeek, was passed 15 years ago during a violent statewide bus company strike.

Police said Paul Wilson admitted bombing the homes of the Rev. James Baker Sr., in rural Pike County and Aylene Quin in McComb.

There were no injuries as a result of the explosions although both houses were occupied at the time. Damage to the Baker house was slight but the explosion at Mrs. Quin's home ripped off the front porch, destroyed a wall and shattered windows.

FBI agents here displayed on two large tables weapons, ammunition, clubs and other items seized when the three were arrested. They also showed four cards titled, "Knights of the Ku Klux Klan" and a membership card in the "Americans for the Preservation of the White Race."

U.S. Not Asked To Attend Big Cairo Meeting

MANCHESTER, England (AP) — Prime Minister Douglas Home said today that the United States and Britain have prepared a draft treaty to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons and he hopes they can push it soon after the American election.

The draft is "ready and could be produced at any moment if wanted," the Conservative party leader told a news conference as he brought his campaign to Britain's Midlands. The British general election is Oct. 15.

Douglas-Home said he doesn't believe "any practical steps" on the nuclear pact can be taken "until after the American election, but I hope it will be quickly after that."

The draft makes provision for participation of Red China, the prime minister said, adding: "Indeed, you cannot get international disarmament arrangements without bringing in China."

Red China rejected the limited nuclear test ban treaty signed by the United States, Britain, and the Soviet Union, and is believed preparing to explode its first nuclear device.

At the Geneva disarmament conference earlier this year the United States made proposals for a treaty to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons, but the Soviet Union in reply demanded that the United States and its allies cancel plans for the proposed NATO multilateral nuclear force.

The U. S. proposals included international control of all transfers of fissionable material for peaceful purposes and arrangements for such bodies as the International Atomic Energy Agency to control the nuclear activities of the atomic powers.

The United States denied that the multilateral force would represent a spreading of nuclear weapons to nations that don't have them because U.S. approval would still be required for the firing of the missiles on the ships.

He said he believed the next move in seeking general nuclear disarmament is to strive for agreement to halt the spread of atomic weapons.

"If a multilateral force came into operation it would be quite simple to make it consistent with a nondissemination agreement," he said. He did not elaborate.

Another practical move toward disarmament, Douglas-Home said, would be the stationing of observers in the NATO and Warsaw Pact countries to watch for secret military buildups.

"In these two directions — a nondissemination pact and observers — I hope it will be possible to make progress when the disarmament talks take up active work again," he said.

The Geneva disarmament conference began a five-month recess last month.

Douglas-Home observed in passing that he did not believe the Russians were "in the mood" at the moment for any further progress toward nuclear disarmament.

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another political set-to over the revived Bobby Baker investigation appeared to be in the making today as the Senate Rules Committee called for additional testimony about the District of Columbia stadium contract.

Among the scheduled witnesses were officials of the District Armory Board — but none of the principals involved in a political payoff charge leveled a month ago by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., against Philadelphia contractor Matthew McCloskey.

Williams told the Senate that McCloskey made a $35,000 overpayment on the performance bond for the stadium and quoted a local insurance agent, Don B. Reynolds, as telling him that $25,000 of this was channeled into the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund through Baker.

McCloskey, who was finance chairman of the Democratic National Committee at the time and who later was appointed ambassador to Ireland by the late President John F. Kennedy, has said he paid Reynolds the exact amount for which he was billed — "no more and no less."

Baker resigned nearly a year ago as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority after questions were raised about his outside business dealings. He had been closely associated with President Johnson while Johnson was Democratic leader of the Senate.

The Rules Committee's investigation of Baker's affairs, closed down last spring amid GOP cries of whitewash and coverup, was reopened Thursday under orders from the Senate to probe Williams' payoff charge.

But Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., indicated that today's hearing was likely to be the last for at least a week — and perhaps longer.

He told newsmen that next week he is going on "The Lady Bird Special," the train that leaves here Tuesday to take the President's wife on a campaign swing through eight Southern states.

But Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., the only GOP member of the committee on hand for Thursday's hearing, said in a separate interview that "I want to stay here and press this to a finish."

He said the Republicans will "insist that the hearings continue after Congress adjourns," but Jordan said it will be up to the committee to decide whether to continue if all the contemplated witnesses have not been heard before adjournment.

The Democrats outnumber the Republicans on the committee 6 to 3.

Shadrick Thomas Boyd Died Here Wednesday

Shadrick Thomas Boyd, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond V. Boyd Jr., 322 N. Spruce St., died Wednesday, at his home after a long sickness. He was born in Enid, Okla., Oct. 12, 1960. Besides his parents he is survived by three sisters, Clarissa, Yvette and Beverly Boyd, all of Colorado Springs; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Smith, of Colorado Springs; Mrs. Lois Sadler and Raymond Boyd, Enid, Okla. and Tom Patterson, Independence, Kan. and a great-grandmother, Mrs. Gladys Price Enid, Okla.

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. today at Emmanuel Baptist Church. The Rev. T. J. Morgan officiated. Burial was in Evergreen Cemetery. The [illegible] Mortuary had charge of arrangements.

Canon People Attend Denver Safety Meet

S. B. Chatfield, Claude Cline and Mr and Mrs. Rollo Gebhardt, of the Canon City Safety Council attended the Governor's Traffic Safety Council last Friday at the Unniversity of Denver College of Law.

More than 400 persons attended the affair. Gov. John Love presented the welcome and keynote address. Jefferson County Judge Daniel J. Shannon and District Judge Sherman G. Finesilver of Denver led a discussion on legislation.

The meeting closed with Justice Edward C. Day of the Colorado Supreme Court giving the challenge of the day.

Mrs. Chatfield and Mrs. George Edmisson accompanied the local council members to the Denver meeting.

Precipitation Last Month Shows Increase

September was the third month in 1964 to exceed its normal precipitation, the others being March and May.

The precipitation counted during the month by weathermen at the U.S. Weather Bureau at Peterson Field was 1.33, giving the month an excess of .26, the normal being 1.07 inches.

The total precipitation thus far this year is 7.88, for a deficiency of 3.98 for 1964.

September was almost a normal month, however, as the mean maximum was 75, against the normal of 76; with the mean minimum 48, against the normal of 47. The mean temperature equaled the normal, which was 62.

The highest temperature recorded during the month was a 92 on Sept. 2; the lowest was 34 on Sept. 27. The previous all-time high was 95, recorded on Sept. 17, 1936, and the previous all-time low was 20 degrees, recorded on Sept. 27, 1908.

The greatest amount of precipitation in any 24-hour period was 1.12 inches on Sept. 15.

September brought 11 clear days, 10 partly cloudy days, and nine cloudy days.

There were no days when was 32 degrees or below, and one day when the maximum was 90 or above.

Miss Marchand Guest Speaker at Canon City

Miss JoAnn Marchand of Canon City was guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Canon City Geology Club.

Miss Marchand, who recently returned from Nepal where she spent two years as a volunteer in the Peace Corps, showed slides of Nepal, and wore a native costume as she described the work of the Peace Corps.

She also displayed some of the handicrafts, jewelry, coins and articles of copper and bronze. The talk was followed by a lengthy question and answer period.

The Geology Club has scheduled a two-day field trip in the Lamar area, leaving Canon City at 8 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 3.

Windshield Reported Broken by Rock

Eddie Magel, 236 Altura Way, reported to the sheriff's office Tuesday that the windshield in his car was smashed with a rock causing $50 damage.

Magel said he was driving between Cresta Road and the Cheyenne Mountain Junior High School at the time of the incident.

$600,000 Suit Settled Out Of Court Here

A personal injury suit in which requested damages totaled more than $600,000 was settled out of District Court Thursday.

No details regarding the settlement were revealed.

The case started Tuesday before a jury with Judge C. Russell Miller on the bench.

Jake and Marjorie Cordova of Denver were suing Charles W. Copus and Claude E. Kleist for $146,900 plus interest and costs. The case was brought from Denver District Court to Colorado Springs after a request for a change of venue.

The Cordovas alleged that on Feb. 17, 1963, three miles south and three east of Kiowa on a county road, Copus drove his car head-on into another driven by Jake Cordova in which Marjorie Cordova was a passenger.

It was further alleged that the accident was caused by the negligence of Copus and that the Cordovas were injured.

In a counterclaim Copus admitted driving the car but charged that Cordova drove recklessly and on the wrong side of the road. He requested $100,000.

In a further counterclaim Kleist alleged the accident and injuries received by the plaintiffs were due to their own negligence. Kleist stated he was injured and sued for $430,000. He also requested a body judgment that the Cordovas be confined in County Jail until the sum was paid.

Football Gear Saves Boy in Bike Accident

A boy riding home on his bicycle escaped serious injury because he had a football helmet and uniform on when he collided with an automobile, the State Patrol said.

Eddie Bennett, 12, of 105 Judson St., was southbound on Security Blvd. Thursday at 4:40 p.m. when he veered into the path of a car driven by Robert L. Cannon, patrolman Paul Cornell said. Cornell said both Bennett and Cannon were southbound on Security when the youth went out on the road. Cannon, of 105 Judson St., tried to stop, and skidmarks made by his vehicle were approximately 31 feet, Cornell said.

Bennett suffered abrasions to his right elbow and was treated at the scene.

Man Reports Attack At Local Dog Track

Alvis W. Craighead of Denver, reported to the sheriff's office that he was attacked with a knife and cut on the cheek at the dog track Thursday night.

According to Deputy Sheriffs Lee Quale and Dave Sturgeon, Craighead got into an argument with four men in the club house at the track and all of them were ejected. As they were coming through the door Craighead continued to exchange words with the men when one of them pulled out a knife and cut him on the cheek.

Goldwater To Be On Channel 11 Tonight

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential candidate will appear on television tonight from 10:30 to 11:00 p.m. on channel 11.

Republican Headquarters spokesmen indicate he will speak on the election issues.

Thirty-two million Americans entered Canada last year and spent 300 million, according to the Canadian Government Travel Bureau.

Barry Proposes Rebuilding of NATO Alliance

The Republican presidential nominee, proclaiming himself a man of "peace through strength," criticized Johnson's announced intention to visit Europe after the November election to confer with heads of North Atlantic Treaty Organization states about mutual defense problems.

"I have news for Lyndon-come-lately," Goldwater said in remarks prepared for a Cairo, Ill., audience. "There is one thing that can be done to help NATO. Elect a president of the United States who believes in NATO, who wants to rebuild NATO — and reject the President who didn't even act as though he knew NATO existed until Republicans forced him to act differently."

Fresh from a rousing campaign rally in Hammond, Ind., where so-called white backlash against the progress of Negro integration presumably may affect the November election results, Goldwater had avoided any mention either there or other stops in Ohio or Indiana of the civil rights issue.

He said: "How wrong can a man be? Lyndon-come-lately may not realize it, but this America of ours has been a great society ever since it began."

He suggested the President "has to wait for the latest poll to tell him what to do and what to say and what to think."

The Arizona senator said Johnson had only swung into action to bolster local law enforcement and to end the draft after Goldwater first had suggested such moves.

Fighting hard to rub out the "trigger-happy" label Democrats have tried to hang on him, the Republican presidential nominee pounded away on the theme that Democratic presidents have always occupied the White House in the 20th century when the country was involved in war.

Police said the patrol car was a total wreck from students clambering over it.

At one point, 17 policemen attempted to evict hundreds of students who had jammed into Sproul Hall, the administration building.

They were met by a jeering, shoving throng and forced to retreat. All but five of the students later left the building. Those who remained were locked in for the night.

During the demonstration, university officials said, some 25,000 other students remained in classes or away from the demonstration.

New Air Terminal Planned By City

airport revenue."

Biery was authorized to investigate and negotiate financing of the terminal and engage engineers and architects.

The lease of the existing terminal to the government for $37,000 a year included an option for purchase of the terminal and adjacent land for $375,000. The lease, if approved by the government, said they would take over the terminal July 15, 1965 at the earliest and no later than Oct. 1. The leasing agreement also included the Maytag Hangar, now used in connection with city facilities.

The resolution authorizing the lease said the Air Force is "actively using the municipal airport facilities and contributes more than one half of all the annual operating expenses of the airport."

There was some discussion among the councilmen on if the lease should be authorized to dispose of the terminal before the resolution was passed giving the city manager power to negotiate for additional land.

"I'm not trying to complicate it. I just don't want to get us in trouble," said Councilman William Becker. Finally, Biery pointed out that the city could condemn land if necessary for a new terminal and hangars, ramps, runways tnd other expansion. Mayor Harry Hoth said that Sproul Investment Corp. would probably be willing to sell the city the land it needs.

After the council said they were assured that they would have a place to build a new terminal after leasing the present one to the government, they unanimously approved the lease.

Farmer Stock Strike Ended After 43 Days

receipts figures are given all the publicity and will be used to depress prices," he said.

The NFO disclaimed responsibility for much of the violence that occurred in September in Minnesota, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Missouri and other states and blamed outsiders.

There was a steady stream of scattered reports from livestock truckers that shots were fired at their vehicles or that their tires were cut by devices thrown on the highways.

More numerous were reports of farm fences being cut. In Iowa some farmers organized patrols of the roads to look for fence cutters.

But many of the demonstrations staged by NFO groups at buying stations were orderly, though noisy. Law enforcement officers were called out to break up blockades caused by the parking of trucks at buying stations.

Texas Men Skip Paying Motel Bills

Don Quigley of the Bravo-Manor Motel, 1703 S. Nevada Ave reported to the sheriff's office Thursday two cases of motel skips both involving men from Texas.

According to Deputy Sheriff Bob Snuggs, one man from Phoenix left Sept. 10 owing a $16.32 bill and the other from Amarillo got out Sept. 18 owing $10.50. The sheriff's office is getting in touch with them.

Quigley also reported the theft of a television set worth $150. He said the door was locked in the unit and there were no indications of forced entry. The theft happened sometime between Sept. 24 and Tuesday.

City Group Launches Fight Against Sales Tax Plan

Hibbard, speaking first, stressed that the Pikes Peak region was an entity. He said a tax against business within city limits was unfair because only a "small portion" of the region would be taxed.

Hibbard guesssed that appliance dealers in the city could lose more than 20 per cent of their business if the sales tax drove shoppers outside city limits.

Bain stabbed his finger toward the map and called the Knob Hill business district (outside city limits) an "island." He pointed out that Southgate (also outside the city) was "the largest single shopping center in El Paso County."

Bain said the merchants were not fighting the sales tax just for their own benefit, saying: "I think we are modern, progressive, up-to-date business people."

He said that the merchants were doing more than talking. We collected over 1,000 signatures on petitions against the sales tax between 2 p.m. Wednesday and now, Bain said. He said the petitions would appear "in practically every business in the city."

"This is everyone's battle," he enjoined the crowd.

This was the wording on the petitions: "We the consumers of the Pikes Peak region, who spend our money in Colorado Springs, vigorously protest the enactment of a sales tax. . . .

"We urge the City Council to reconsider the action that the city manager states they have unofficially taken and withdraw their support of a city sales tax."

The last statement, Bain said, was made when Biery participated in a panel last Saturday at Colorado College sponsored by the Colorado Springs Charter Association, and said: the City Council "has determined unofficially that a sales tax is the only method to keep city government running in Colorado Springs."

The committee passed out more ammunition — listings of the home and business phones of Biery and the nine city councilmen. After the phone numbers was the message, "Contact these people to protest the enactment of a city sales tax."

Bain said, "These people represent you and want to hear from you. Isn't that right Mr. Roe?"

Councilman Bill Roe had been busy jotting down notes at the rear of the theater. Later the councilman received warm applause when Bain said: "Bill Roe has shown that he's open minded. This is all we can ask."

Another circular was passed out, titled: "Consumers: Don't Be Fooled."

It said a seven mill reduction in the city property tax levy if made possibly by a two per cent sales tax will mean "more taxes." One example was a family of four in an $8,000 house with yearly income of $4,000. A seven mill reduction in the city property levy would save $14, but the two per cent sales tax would cost the family $60 a year, the circular said.

"You have no assurance that the school district will not raise its mill levy and absorb the city reduction," the circular said.

(The proposed Colorado Springs School District 11 budget for 1965 calls for a 1.59 mill levy increase.)

It was mentioned at the meeting that the people should be allowed to vote on a sales tax.

One man also suggested that areas secede from the city to avoid the sales tax. This is legally impossible, Attorney Trott advised.

Wilson was in the process of moving from McComb to nearby Jayess.

"He finally broke down," the sheriff said, "and told us a little bit of what had happened. He implicated the other two."

The illegal use of explosives law, under which Dist. Atty. Joe Pigott said he would charge the two Wilsons and Zeek, was passed 15 years ago during a violent statewide bus company strike.

Police said Paul Wilson admitted bombing the homes of the Rev. James Baker Sr., in rural Pike County and Aylene Quin in McComb.

There were no injuries as a result of the explosions although both houses were occupied at the time. Damage to the Baker house was slight but the explosion at Mrs. Quin's home ripped off the front porch, destroyed a wall and shattered windows.

FBI agents here displayed on two large tables weapons, ammunition, clubs and other items seized when the three were arrested. They also showed four cards titled, "Knights of the Ku Klux Klan" and a membership card in the "Americans for the Preservation of the White Race."

U.S. Not Asked To Attend Big Cairo Meeting

MANCHESTER, England (AP) — Prime Minister Douglas Home said today that the United States and Britain have prepared a draft treaty to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons and he hopes they can push it soon after the American election.

The draft is "ready and could be produced at any moment if wanted," the Conservative party leader told a news conference as he brought his campaign to Britain's Midlands. The British general election is Oct. 15.

Douglas-Home said he doesn't believe "any practical steps" on the nuclear pact can be taken "until after the American election, but I hope it will be quickly after that."

The draft makes provision for participation of Red China, the prime minister said, adding: "Indeed, you cannot get international disarmament arrangements without bringing in China."

Red China rejected the limited nuclear test ban treaty signed by the United States, Britain, and the Soviet Union, and is believed preparing to explode its first nuclear device.

At the Geneva disarmament conference earlier this year the United States made proposals for a treaty to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons, but the Soviet Union in reply demanded that the United States and its allies cancel plans for the proposed NATO multilateral nuclear force.

The U. S. proposals included international control of all transfers of fissionable material for peaceful purposes and arrangements for such bodies as the International Atomic Energy Agency to control the nuclear activities of the atomic powers.

The United States denied that the multilateral force would represent a spreading of nuclear weapons to nations that don't have them because U.S. approval would still be required for the firing of the missiles on the ships.

He said he believed the next move in seeking general nuclear disarmament is to strive for agreement to halt the spread of atomic weapons.

"If a multilateral force came into operation it would be quite simple to make it consistent with a nondissemination agreement," he said. He did not elaborate.

Another practical move toward disarmament, Douglas-Home said, would be the stationing of observers in the NATO and Warsaw Pact countries to watch for secret military buildups.

"In these two directions — a nondissemination pact and observers — I hope it will be possible to make progress when the disarmament talks take up active work again," he said.

The Geneva disarmament conference began a five-month recess last month.

Douglas-Home observed in passing that he did not believe the Russians were "in the mood" at the moment for any further progress toward nuclear disarmament.

More Digging Is Done Into Baker Scandal

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another political set-to over the revived Bobby Baker investigation appeared to be in the making today as the Senate Rules Committee called for additional testimony about the District of Columbia stadium contract.

Among the scheduled witnesses were officials of the District Armory Board — but none of the principals involved in a political payoff charge leveled a month ago by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., against Philadelphia contractor Matthew McCloskey.

Williams told the Senate that McCloskey made a $35,000 overpayment on the performance bond for the stadium and quoted a local insurance agent, Don B. Reynolds, as telling him that $25,000 of this was channeled into the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund through Baker.

McCloskey, who was finance chairman of the Democratic National Committee at the time and who later was appointed ambassador to Ireland by the late President John F. Kennedy, has said he paid Reynolds the exact amount for which he was billed — "no more and no less."

Baker resigned nearly a year ago as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority after questions were raised about his outside business dealings. He had been closely associated with President Johnson while Johnson was Democratic leader of the Senate.

The Rules Committee's investigation of Baker's affairs, closed down last spring amid GOP cries of whitewash and coverup, was reopened Thursday under orders from the Senate to probe Williams' payoff charge.

But Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., indicated that today's hearing was likely to be the last for at least a week — and perhaps longer.

He told newsmen that next week he is going on "The Lady Bird Special," the train that leaves here Tuesday to take the President's wife on a campaign swing through eight Southern states.

But Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., the only GOP member of the committee on hand for Thursday's hearing, said in a separate interview that "I want to stay here and press this to a finish."

He said the Republicans will "insist that the hearings continue after Congress adjourns," but Jordan said it will be up to the committee to decide whether to continue if all the contemplated witnesses have not been heard before adjournment.

The Democrats outnumber the Republicans on the committee 6 to 3.

Shadrick Thomas Boyd Died Here Wednesday

Shadrick Thomas Boyd, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mr. Raymond V. Boyd Jr., 522 N. Spruce St., died Wednesday, at his home after a long sickness. He was born in Enid, Okla., Oct. 13, 1960. Besides his parents he is survived by three sisters, Clarissa, Yvette and Beverly Boyd, all of Colorado Springs; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Smith, of Colorado Springs; Mrs. Lois Sadler and Raymond Boyd, Enid, Okla. and Tom Patterson, Independence, Kan. and a great-grandmother, Mrs. Gladys Price Enid, Okla.

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. today at Emmanuel Baptist Church. The Rev. T. J. Marigna officiated. Burial was in Evergreen Cemetery. The Hunter Mortuary had charge of arrangements.

Canon People Attend Denver Safety Meet

S. B. Chatfield, Claude Cline and Mr and Mrs. Rollo Gebhardt, of the Canon City Safety Council attended the Governor's Traffic Safety Council last Friday at the Unniversity of Denver College of Law.

More than 400 persons attended the affair. Gov. John Love presented the welcome and keynote address. Jefferson County Judge Daniel J. Shannon and District Judge Sherman G. Finesilver of Denver led a discussion on legislation.

The meeting closed with Justice Edward C. Day of the Colorado Supreme Court giving the challenge of the day.

Mrs. Chatfield and Mrs. George Edmisson accompanied the local council members to the Denver meeting.

Precipitation Last Month Shows Increase

September was the third month in 1964 to exceed its normal precipitation, the others being March and May.

The precipitation counted during the month by weathermen at the U.S. Weather Bureau at Peterson Field was 1.33, giving the month an excess of .26, the normal being 1.07 inches.

The total precipitation thus far this year is 7.88, for a deficiency of 3.98 for 1964.

September was almost a normal month, however, as the mean maximum was 75, against the normal of 76; with the mean minimum 48, against the normal of 47. The mean temperature equaled the normal, which was 62.

The highest temperature recorded during the month was a 92 on Sept. 2; the lowest was 34 on Sept. 27. The previous all-time high was 95, recorded on Sept. 17, 1936, and the previous all-time low was 20 degrees, recorded on Sept. 27, 1908.

The greatest amount of precipitation in any 24-hour period was 1.12 inches on Sept. 15.

September brought 11 clear days, 10 partly cloudy days, and nine cloudy days.

There were no days when was 32 degrees or below, and one day when the maximum was 90 or above.

Miss Marchand Guest Speaker at Canon City

Miss JoAnn Marchand of Canon City was guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Canon City Geology Club.

Miss Marchand, who recently returned from Nepal where she spent two years as a volunteer in the Peace Corps, showed slides of Nepal, and wore a native costume as she described the work of the Peace Corps.

She also displayed some of the handicrafts, jewelry, coins and articles of copper and bronze. The talk was followed by a lengthy question and answer period.

The Geology Club has scheduled a two-day field trip in the Lamar area, leaving Canon City at 8 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 3.

Windshield Reported Broken by Rock

Eddie Megel, 315 Altura Way, reported to the sheriff's office Tuesday that the windshield in his car was smashed with a rock causing $50 damage.

Megel said he was driving between Cresta Road and the Cheyenne Mountain Junior High School at the time of the incident.

$600,000 Suit Settled Out Of Court Here

A personal injury suit in which requested damages totaled more than $600,000 was settled out of District Court Thursday.

No details regarding the settlement were revealed.

The case started Tuesday before a jury with Judge C. Russell Miller on the bench.

Jake and Marjorie Cordova of Denver were suing Charles W. Copus and Claude E. Kleist for $146,900 plus interest and costs. The case was brought from Denver District Court to Colorado Springs after a request for a change of venue.

The Cordovas alleged that on Feb. 17, 1963, three miles south and three east of Kiowa on a county road, Copus drove his car head-on into another driven by Jake Cordova in which Marjorie Cordova was a passenger.

It was further alleged that the accident was caused by the negligence of Copus and that the Cordovas were injured.

In a counterclaim Copus admitted driving the car but charged that Cordova drove recklessly and on the wrong side of the road. He requested $100,000.

In a further counterclaim Kleist alleged the accident and injuries received by the plaintiffs were due to their own negligence. Kleist stated he was injured and sued for $430,000. He also requested a body judgment that the Cordovas be confined in County Jail until the sum was paid.

Football Gear Saves Boy in Bike Accident

A boy riding home on his bicycle escaped serious injury because he had a football helmet and uniform on when he collided with an automobile, the State Patrol said.

Eddie Bennett, 12, of 105 Judson St., was southbound on Security Blvd. Thursday at 4:40 p.m. when he veered into the path of a car driven by Robert L. Cannon, patrolman Paul Cornell said. Cornell said both Bennett and Cannon were southbound on Security when the youth went out on the road. Cannon, of 106 Judson St., tried to stop, and skidmarks made by his vehicle were approximately 31 feet, Cornell said.

Bennett suffered abrasions to his right elbow and was treated at the scene.

Man Reports Attack At Local Dog Track

Alvis W. Craighead of Denver, reported to the sheriff's office that he was attacked with a knife and cut on the cheek at the dog track Thursday night.

According to Deputy Sheriffs Lee Quein and Dave Sturgeon, Craighead got into an argument with four men in the club house at the track and all of them were ejected. As they were coming through the door Craighead continued to exchange words with the men when one of them pulled out a knife and cut him on the cheek.

Goldwater To Be On Channel 11 Tonight

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential candidate will appear on television tonight from 10:30 to 11:00 p.m. on channel 11.

Republican Headquarters spokesmen indicate he will speak on the election issues.

Thirty-two million Americans entered Canada last year and spent $600 million, according to the Canadian Government Travel Bureau.

Barry Proposes Rebuilding of NATO Alliance

The Republican presidential nominee, proclaiming himself a man of "peace through strength," criticized Johnson's announced intention to visit Europe after the November election to confer with heads of North Atlantic Treaty Organization states about mutual defense problems.

"I have news for Lyndon-come-lately," Goldwater said in remarks prepared for a Cairo, Ill., audience. "There is one thing that can be done to help NATO. Elect a president of the United States who believes in NATO, who wants to rebuild NATO — and reject the President who didn't even act as though he knew NATO existed until Republicans forced him to act differently."

Fresh from a rousing campaign rally in Hammond, Ind., where so-called white backlash against the progress of Negro integration presumably may affect the November election results, Goldwater had avoided any mention either there or other stops in Ohio or Indiana of the civil rights issue.

He said: "How wrong can a man be? Lyndon-come-lately may not realize it, but this America of ours has been a great society ever since it began."

He suggested the President "has to wait for the latest poll to tell him what to do and what to say and what to think."

The Arizona senator said Johnson had only swung into action to bolster local law enforcement and to end the draft after Goldwater first had suggested such moves.

Fighting hard to rub out the "trigger-happy" label Democrats have tried to hang on him, the Republican presidential nominee pounded away on the theme that Democratic presidents have always occupied the White House in the 20th century when the country was involved in war.

Students Wreck Police Car In Berkeley

under the front and back wheels of the patrol car, while others mounted the hood and roof to make speeches against the university administration.

Police said the patrol car was a total wreck from students clambering over it.

They were met by a jeering, shoving throng and forced to retreat. All but five of the students later left the building. Those who remained were locked in for the night.

During the demonstration, university officials said, some 25,000 other students remained in classes or away from the demonstration.

Car in Police Storage Lot Stripped

A car parked in the police storage lot at 700 S. Conejos St. was stripped of its front tires and wheels, police reported.

The car, which was being held as security for a traffic fine, belonged to William J. Kidwell of Ft. Carson. Police said they took Kidwell to the car at 4:20 p.m. Thursday so that he could obtain a few articles from the car. When they arrived at the lot, the wheels were gone. The vehicle had been parked in the lot since Sept. 7, according to police. The tires and wheels were valued at $100, Kidwell said.

Car Windows Broken In Cars on Lot

Jim Carlin of the Marksheffel Used Car Lot at Platte and Bonfoy Avenues reported to the sheriff's office Thursday that the windshield and side window of two cars on his lot had been smashed with rocks.

Italian Sales Tax Decree Is Disputed

ROME (AP) — Premier Aldo Moro's government converted a disputed decree boosting Italy's sales tax into a parliamentary bill Wednesday night to force balky legislators to act on the measure.

Moro received a setback last week when the Senate approved a Communist motion halting discussion of the decree raising the tax from 3.3 per cent to 4 per cent. Parliament's approval is needed by Nov. 1 to prevent its expiration.

With the measure in bill form, Parliament has to approve it or face a confidence vote for Moro's government.

Napoleon Was Not Italian, French Say

PARIS (UPI) — The French press and Corsicans in France took President Johnson to task Thursday for describing France's Corsican-born national hero, Napoleon, as an "Italian."

In an address of welcome to NATO Secretary General Manlio Brosio of Italy the President was quoted as referring to Napoleon as a "son of Italy" who merely set up headquarters in France.

The afternoon newspaper Paris-Presse described this as a "gaffe" — a boner.

"There wasn't a Corsican on the island or on the mainland who wasn't shocked when he switched on his radio this morning und heard that Napoleon was an Italian," Paris-Presse said.

The paper recalled that Napoleon Bonaparte was born in Corsica in 1769 and that the island had belonged to France for a year at that time.

The paper's chief political correspondent, Jean Benedetti, himself a Corsican, wrote, "All the Corsicans we interviewed this morning let out a fine concert of protests."

Rose Kennedy To Help Ted's Vote Campaign

BOSTON (AP) — Rose Kennedy, who is committed to campaign for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy because he "asked her first," will make three appearances in that campaign in the next few weeks.

It was Kennedy, hospitalized with a broken back, who said that his mother was committed to him — only.

That was the day his brother, Robert F. Kennedy, announced his candidacy for a Senate seat from New York.

"He's going to have to run on his own." Edward commented that day. "Mother is already committed to me — I asked her first."

Mrs. Kennedy, wife of Joseph P. Kennedy, the former ambassador to Great Britain, is to talk for Edward at a reception Oct. 11 in Lawrence, again a week later in Worcester, and finally at a Boston reception Oct. 25.

With Sen. Kennedy pinned down in the hospital, his campaign for a full term in the Senate seat once held by his oldest brother, the late President John F. Kennedy, has been carried on by his wife, Joan, and volunteers.

It was Joan Kennedy who presided at the opening of Sen. Kennedy's downtown Boston campaign headquarters a couple of weeks ago. She drew a crowd of hundreds.

She will appear at the three receptions with her mother-in-law and will go to several other receptions on her own during the month remaining in the campaign.

And she will represent her husband at a state AFL-CIO convention next week in Boston, as well as appear in his place in the traditional candidates' section in the South Boston parade in Columbus Day.

In addition to these campaign chores, Joan Kennedy has made a number of trips — and more are on schedule — to accept checks for donations to the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library to be built on a bank of the Charles River adjoining Harvard University.

Italian Sales Tax Decree Is Disputed

ROME (AP) — Premier Aldo Moro's government converted a disputed decree boosting Italy's sales tax into a parliamentary bill Wednesday night to force balky legislators to act on the measure.

Moro received a setback last week when the Senate approved a Communist motion halting discussion of the decree raising the tax from 3.3 per cent to 4 per cent. Parliament's approval is needed by Nov. 1 to prevent its expiration.

With the measure in bill form, Parliament has to approve it or face a confidence vote for Moro's government.

Napoleon Was Not Italian, French Say

PARIS (UPI) — The French press and Corsicans in France took President Johnson to task Thursday for describing France's Corsican-born national hero, Napoleon, as an "Italian."

In an address of welcome to NATO Secretary General Manlio Brosio of Italy the President was quoted as referring to Napoleon as a "son of Italy" who merely set up headquarters in France.

The afternoon newspaper Paris-Presse described this as a "gaffe" — a boner.

"There wasn't a Corsican on the island or on the mainland who wasn't shocked when he switched on his radio this morning und heard that Napoleon was an Italian," Paris-Presse said.

The paper recalled that Napoleon Bonaparte was born in Corsica in 1769 and that the island had belonged to France for a year at that time.

The paper's chief political correspondent, Jean Benedetti, himself a Corsican, wrote, "All the Corsicans we interviewed this morning let out a fine concert of protests."

Rose Kennedy To Help Ted's Vote Campaign

BOSTON (AP) — Rose Kennedy, who is committed to campaign for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy because he "asked her first," will make three appearances in that campaign in the next few weeks.

It was Kennedy, hospitalized with a broken back, who said that his mother was committed to him — only.

That was the day his brother, Robert F. Kennedy, announced his candidacy for a Senate seat from New York.

"He's going to have to run on his own," Edward commented that day. "Mother is already committed to me — I asked her first."

Mrs. Kennedy, wife of Joseph P. Kennedy, the former ambassador to Great Britain, is to talk for Edward at a reception Oct. 11 in Lawrence, again a week later in Worcester, and finally at a Boston reception Oct. 25.

With Sen. Kennedy pinned down in the hospital, his campaign for a full term in the Senate seat once held by his oldest brother, the late President John F. Kennedy, has been carried on by his wife, Joan, and volunteers.

It was Joan Kennedy who presided at the opening of Sen. Kennedy's downtown Boston campaign headquarters a couple of weeks ago. She drew a crowd of hundreds.

She will appear at the three receptions with her mother-in-law and will go to several other receptions on her own during the month remaining in the campaign.

And she will represent her husband at a state AFL-CIO convention next week in Boston, as well as appear in his place in the traditional candidates' section in the South Boston parade in Columbus Day.

In addition to these campaign chores, Joan Kennedy has made a number of trips — and more are on schedule — to accept checks for donations to the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library to be built on a bank of the Charles River adjoining Harvard University.

Narrow Gauge Road Has Record Season

DURANGO (AP) — The Durango-Silverton narrow gauge branch of the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad wound up a record-breaking season Wednesday.

A total of 65.177 persons rode the trains operating in Animas Canyon since June, a 27½ per cent increase over last year's 50.988, the previous high.

The Durango-Silverton line, operating two sections daily between June and Labor Day, ran 190 trains this year, compared to 150 in 1963.

Equal Time Claim Ruled In Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission ruled today that broadcasters who carry President Johnson's news conferences during the election campaign are subject to claims for equal time by other candidates.

The majority in the 4-3 decision ruled that broadcasts of an entire news conference "would not constitute either a bona fide news interview or on-the-spot coverage of a bona fide news event." Those two categories are exempted by the equal time law.

In one dissent Commissioner Frederick W. Ford promised again to urge repeal of the equal time law. In another, Commissioner Lee Loevinger said the commission was being "intellectually impotent" in reaching the decision.

The ruling, however, may be academic. Only four Johnson news conferences have been broadcast since he took office last November—and none since the Democratic party nominated him in August.

However, the decision may set a precedent for future presidential election years.

Lytle School Dedicated in Area Today

Lytle School will be dedicated at 6:30 p.m. today.

The original school, south of Colorado Springs in School District 39-J, burned last January.

The new building has a classroom, kitchen and two rest rooms.

Farmers, students and oldtimers of the area will be honored guests at the dedication. Refreshments will be served. The public is invited.

With the closing of Wigwam school south of Fountain this year, Lytle School is the last one - room, one - teacher school in El Paso County.

Education Group Names Officers At Florence

Education Association met recently in the school cafeteria at Florence with Frank Morelli, president, introducing his officers for the year. Miss Roxie Boyd, vice-president, Miss Mary Drenick, secretary, and Charles Picco, treasurer, as well as new members to the association.

New materials were distributed, a report from the Welfare Committee was given by Victor Becco, and Barto Babitz welcomed new people to the association.

Frank Morelli reported on the Leadership Conference which he attended this past summer at Adams State College. He touched on the Number one problem, the need to combat in force the tendency toward unionization which divides and destroys professionalism. Trends which may be expected include a longer school year and high school day, elimination of study halls, school all year, and index - type plan being adopted for salary determinations.

The following C. E. A. Committee for the year were named:

Legislation—George E. Brown (Chairman), Dan Higgins, Vic Becco, C. D. Snyder, Emmet McBeth and Delegates.

Welfare — Duane Knowlton (Chairman), Cletus Hill, Charles Smith, Roxie Boyd, Jack Fish, Mrs. Charles Smith, Louis Means.

City, County Planners Set Sign Meeting

City and County Planners will have a joint meeting Monday to consider new regulations for signs near controlled access highways.

Planning commissions of both governments will discuss a proposed set of regulations to replace the present city Freeway Sign Ordinance. Presently the county has no similar ordinance.

The proposal drafted by the "Inter-Government Sign Committee" would change the number of zones along highways from four to three and change sign limits in each zone.

Under the proposal, no advertising signs would be allowed within 440 feet of the highway, and business signs would be restricted to 350 square feet of sign area for more than one sign. However no sign could be over 200 square feet in this zone.

Between 440 and 600 feet, faces of signs would be no more than 300 square feet.

Over 600 feet from the highway, the limit would be 600 square feet.

No signs would be allowed within 100 feet of a viaduct or 50 feet of the intersection of a ramp or the ramp itself.

Violation of the ordinance could mean a $300 fine for each 24 hours of continuing violation.

The proposed regulations say where business or advertising signs would be allowed. Business signs are defined as those directing attention to a specific business. Advertising signs are called those which advertise a particular product.

Andrew Marshall Jr., chairman of the City Planning Commission, said the public was invited to the 3 p.m. meeting in City Council chambers.

"The commissioners will welcome and entertain any suggestions offered by interested citizens regarding this proposal," Marshall added.

The draft of proposed regulations was sent to interested governmental and civic groups and representatives of industry.

The regulations would not apply to signs already up.

Six CC Students Cited For Academic Achievement

Six students at Colorado College, including three from Denver and one each from Englewood, Greeley and Fort Collins, have been awarded Perkins Prizes for outstanding academic achievement.

The Perkins Prizes were awarded by Dean Kenneth J. Curran to the two sophomores who had the highest academic averages last year, to the two juniors who had the highest academic averages over the past two years and to the two seniors who received the prize as juniors last year. The prizes carry awards of $100 each.

The two juniors are Martha Lee Prater of 2001 S. Madison, Denver, and Philip J. LeCuyer of 1871 Montview, Greeley.

The two seniors receiving the prizes are Linda S. Dunkin of 4350 E. 17th Ave., Denver, and Paul L. Carson of 4790 S. Jason, Englewood. This is the third consecutive year the seniors have received the prize.

Perkins Prizes are made possible by an endowed scholarship fund left to the 90 - year-old college by the late Willard B. Perkins.

Wolf, a graduate of Machebeuf High School, had a 3.941 average during his first year at Colorado College. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Wolf of Denver.

Miss Bexfield, the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Frank Bexfield, earned a 3.935 average during her freshman year. She is a graduate of Fort Collins High School.

Miss Prater, an English major, had an average of 3.924 during her first two years at Colorado College. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Prater of Denver, she is a graduate of South High School.

LeCuyer, a graduate of Greeley High School, is majoring in English. His academic average at the end of two years of college work is 3.952. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack LeCuyer of Greeley.

Miss Dunkin, a mathematics major had a three year average of 3.73. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dunkin of Denver, she is a graduate of East High School.

Carson, who had a three-year average of 3.708, is majoring in physics at Colorado College. He is a graduate of Englewood East High School and the son of Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Carson of Englewood.

Group Protests State Insurance Rate Increase

Fremont County Insurors are protesting increased rates on extended coverage insurance that became effective in Colorado on Sept. 14.

The group will notify the Insurance Commissioner of Colorado and the Mountain States Inspection Bureau requesting a territorial reclassification for Fremont County.

Severe wind and hail storms in Eastern Colorado were the factors which made the rate increase necessary, it was reported.

The Fremont County Insurors feel that this area is being unduly penalized by the new rate filings. Loss experience in the Fremont County area, they feel, justifies a territorial revision so that substantially lower Western Colorado rates could be applied.

The extended coverage endorsement on standard fire insurance policies covers the perils of windstorm, hail, explosion, smoke, aircraft, vehicle damage and riot. The large number of small claims under the windstorm coverage has been largely responsible for inclusion of a $50 deductible clause as well as higher rates for this type of coverage.

Local Insurors have been given to understand that if their action is successful it will be several months before such a change can be made.

City Warns On Parking For Game Tonight

City Traffic Engineer Don L. Smith reminded those going to see the football game at Wasson Stadium tonight that no parking of cars or other vehicles is permitted on the south side of Constitution Avenue from Paseo Road to Academy Boulevard.

He said the no parking ban on the south side of Constitution Avenue has been in effect for about two years in order to provide for four lanes of traffic on that busy thoroughfare.

Both Smith and Lt. Herb Tinsley, police department traffic bureau commander, asked that football fans cooperate and not park on the south side of the avenue.

Forest Supervisor Explains Job Corps Project in Area

Facts about the new Job Corps porgram were presented Thursday at a public meeting to residents of the Woodland Park area by Galliard Weidenhaft, forest sueprvisor of the Pike National Forest.

A site adjacent to the northern boundary of the Manitou Experimental Station off County Highway 67 has been proposed by Pike Forest Service officials as a suitable campsite for enrollees in the Job Corps program.

Weidenhaft explained that the site had been proposed because The criteria includes seleccriteria for establishment of a Job Corps Camp for boys from the ages of 16 to 21 years.

The criteria includes slection of a site which is within one hour of travel to major medical facilities; climate which affords daytime temperature above 20 degrees for at least 8 months annually; and where there is a large load of conservation work needed within one hour travel distance from the heart of the camp.

Weidenhaft said there were also factors such as water and power supply and adequate level land for recreational areas within the campsite.

The Office of Economic Opportunity is administering this program which is one phase of President Johnson's 9 - point War on Poverty program.

Weidenhaft stressed that applicants for the Job Corps camp — which would only be one of many throughout the country—will be carefully screened and must demonstrate determination to better themselves.

"No boy with a criminal record nor a boy who is mentally retarded or disturbed will be eligible for the camp program," said Weidenhaft.

Applicants will be screened through the State Employment Office nearest the campsite and it is anticipated that the camp population would be from 100 to 200 boys supervised by a staff of 20 to 30 men.

According to Weidenhaft, the type of boy who would qualify for the training program would be one from an economically depressed area who has not had the opportunity to better himself through training or education. The camp members would include boys of all races and religions.

Weidenhaft emphasized that the program is designed as an "opportunity to learn a trade and gain basic education."

"It is not a rehabilitation program for delinquents," said the supervisor.

The program would principally focus on conservation work, according to Weidenhaft, and each boy would be required to spend 35 hours per week working on such projects as fence, stockpond and campground construction; erosion and insect control; and, wildlife habitat and timber stand improvements.

The boys would also have the opportunity to develop farm and ranch skills including the operation and maintenance of equipment. Campers could also learn skills such as cooking, typing or other related clerical work.

Weidenhaft said the boys would have a minimum of 5 hours of education weekly. During their residency at the camp — which would be a maximum of 2 years — each boy would receive a daily allowance of $1 and could accrue $50 per month of service which he would receive when he parted from the Job Corps program.

It was pointed out that the nearby community of Woodland Park would benefit several ways — principally economically. Weidenhaft said that the initial cost of the amp development program would be in the vicinity of $500,000 and that local contracts would be given during installation of the camp.

In addition, Weidenhaft estimated that some $30,000 per month would flow into the community as a result of the camp population and that the conservation projects would enhance the tourist trade as a result of improving natural resources and developing recreational areas.

A question and answer session following Weidenhaft's presentation of facts was not as lively as some had anticipated. A few residents had voiced objection to the proximity of the campsite to the community when the proposal was announced last week.

The strongest statement against the program was made by West Creek Mayor Thomas. He said that this whole thing is "LBJ's program and he wants to do something for everybody—including himself. Well," said Mayor Thomas, "I suggest that if he wants all these camps that he put them in his own backyard at that Texas ranch of his."

Weidenhaft said that 5 camps in the Rocky Mountain region will probably be activated by July of next year and it is possible that the proposed Pike Forest site may be one of them.

He said that the approval of the bill for the camps in this region would go to Governor Love who would then have 30 days to veto the proposal. If no action was taken during the 30 day period, the camps would open as proposed.

Other states which are scheduled for Job Corps camps include Arizona, California, Illinois, Ohio and North Carolina.

Local People Attend Boys' Club Meeting

The first Colorado Area Council organizational meeting of the Boys' Club of America was held Tuesday to promote an exchange of ideas between clubs and to improve the Boys' Clubs movement.

J. Churchill Owen, president of the Boys' Clubs of Denver, was host for the meeting attended by the Boys' Clubs of Greeley, Denver and Colorado Springs.

Joe Sotis, regional director from Dallas, explained the purpose and organization of the Council which will meet twice each year. The next meeting will be held in the spring.

Boys' Clubs representatives from Colorado Springs who attended the Area Council were Marx Lorig, Mr. and Mrs. Al Meyer, J. D. Jones, Dr. Clement, Dr. and Mrs. Paul de-Bois and Mr. and Mrs. Tom P. Hoe.

McKEE VISITS — Dr. Paul McKee, right, widely known authority on the trict 11, Wednesday and Thursday for teaching of reading visited School Dis- talks and consultations with teachers and consultations with teachers and supervisors, For many years Dr. McKee was professor of education at Colorado State College. ## Teachers Told To Stress Reading Skills

Dr. Paul McKee, speaking to District 11 elementary teachers Wednesday and Thursday urged them to place great emphasis on the individual reading skills. He said at least 40 of the 180 reading lessons during the year should be on skills.

A nationally known authority on the teaching of reading, D.R. McKee helped train hundreds of the nation's teachers while he was a professor of education at Colorado State College. He is the author of the reading books used by District 11 and many other schools in the country.

"Learning to read in grades one and two," he told the teachers, "is not tough unless we make it tough." Reading materials at those levels are almost entirely narrative and are not intended to be studied and retained by the child, he said.

In the next two grades learning to read becomes more difficult becuase the reading materials are more informative, and the child is expected to retain what he reads. Emphasis on reading skills, however, is just as important, according to Dr. McKeee.

Among the skillls he urged teachers to emphasize are the ability to get meaning from context and the ability to interpret punctuation marks. Punctuation must be taught both as a part of reading and of language arts, he said.

During his visit to District 11, Dr. McKee also consulted with the directors and supervisors of instruction. The visit here was part of the district's continuing program of in - service training for teaching personnel.

Pre-timed Traffic Signal To Be Installed

A pre - timed automatic traffic signal will be installed and in operation Friday at North Circle Drive and Pikes Peak Avenue.

City Traffic Engineer Don L. Smith said there will be pedestrian "walk - don't - walk" signals to provide for the crossing of Pikes Peak Avenue only.

"This is intentional so as to discourage school children from crossing Circle Drive at this intersection," he added.

The present "reduce speed to 20 MPH when flashing" installation at Pikes Peak and Garo Avenues will be removed after the new signal is in operation. Children formerly using the crossing at Garo Avenue should now cross Pikes Peak Avenue at Circle Drive.

School warning signs will also be posted at and in advance of the singalized intersecion, Smith said. Will Rogers School is located near the intersection.

Motorists are advised that the new intersection signal will get special attention for a few days from the police department.

Science Seminar Held Here Monday

Candidate Says Inventory Tax Repels New Business

Colorado's inventory tax has placed "the state in quarantine as far as out - of - state business and industry is concerned." Norman B. Bodinger, candidate for the State Senate from the 12th District, charged Wednesday night that the inventory tax "creates an unfavorable climate which repels business and industry." He claimed the present tax on goods stored in Colorado but sold outside of it has turned Colorado into an "isolation ward."

He supported an annual five per cent decrease over the next six years.

Quoting news stories concerning the establishment of a new plant by th eDenver based Gates Rubber Co. in Kentucky, Bodinger noted that the state has missed out on a $2.5 million plant by the Denver based Gates to business.

Bodinger noted that the president of Gates had blamed the high level of property and corporate taxes in Colorado "as well as our outmoded inventory tax."

"Sure, we have nice blue skies, a wonderful climate, and snow covered ski slopes," Bodinger said. "But, we have to show the business world that it is good business to locate here," he argued.

He claimed that unless Colorado does attract more business, the taxes for every citizen and business in this state will have to be increased if Colorado is to meet its responsibilities towards low tuition in state colleges and universities, public schools, our teachers, and mental health programs," among others he listed.

"We must grow," he said, "If taxes are to be kept at their current level."

Bodinger said he supports a plan for a five per cent decrease annually of the state inventory tax over the next six years. Currently, the rate of the inventory tax is 30 per cent annually.

He claimed this decrease could be accomplished without hurting the state's revenues. He based this claim on "the state's growth being about five per cent per year."

He noted that this would also be attractive to companies considering Colorado as a location for a new plant, because "they could count on the inventory tax being eliminated in the near future."

Beyond the immediate elimination of the inventory tax, Bodinger urged more aggressiveness on the part of the state to attract business.

In an apparent swipe at Governor John Love, he said "more than once - a -year junkets to New York and the handing out of sourvenirs is necessary."

He felt that "our local Chambers of Commerce are doing a good job, but unfortunately are limited in their funds and facilities."

Texans Out To Show World Is Small

Two big Texans set out today to show that the world is small. Hal Harbuck, district sales manager for Central Air Lines at Amarillo, Tex., and Vince Funk, air lines sales promotion manager from Fort Worth, will attempt to set an around-the-world travel record on commercial air liners. The current record for such a feat is believed to be under 80 hours, set earlier this year by a trio of Americans.

The duo, dressed in complete western garb, from 10-gallon hats to cowboy boots, left Amarillo at 7:50 a.m. today on the inauguration of Central's new Convair Flight 168 to Kansas City. From there they will fly to New York, London, Moscow, Hong Kong, Tokyo, Honolulu, Los Angeles, Denver and back to Amarillo. They will travel over World Airline to India, Japan Air Line, Central Air Line and Braniff Airway.

Between capital cities the globe girdling Texans will pack toy pistols to give to children as they go along. They will take certificates from the mayor of Amarillo to mayors of cities they visit.

During their residency at the camp — which would be a maximum of 2 years — each boy would receive a daily allowance of $1 and could accrue $50 per month of service which he would receive when he parted from the Job Corps program.

It was pointed out that the nearby community of Woodland Park would benefit several ways — principally economically. Weidenhaft said that the initial cost of the amp development program would be in the vicinity of $500,000 and that local contracts would be given during installation of the camp.

In addition, Weidenhaft estimated that some $30,000 per month would flow into the community as a result of the camp population and that the conservation projects would enhance the tourist trade as a result of improving natural resources and developing recreational areas.

A question and answer session following Weidenhaft's presentation of facts was not as lively as some had anticipated. A few residents had voiced objection to the proximity of the campsite to the community when the proposal was announced last week.

The strongest statement against the program was made by West Creek Mayor Thomas. He said that this whole thing is "LBJ's program and he wants to do something for everybody—including himself. Well," said Mayor Thomas, "I suggest that if he wants all these camps that he put them in his own backyard at that Texas ranch of his."

Weidenhaft said that 5 camps in the Rocky Mountain region will probably be activated by July of next year and it is possible that the proposed Pike Forest site may be one of them.

He said that the approval of the bill for the camps in this region would go to Governor Love who would then have 30 days to veto the proposal. If no action was taken during the 30 day period, the camps would open as proposed.

Other states which are scheduled for Job Corps camps include Arizona, California, Illinois, Ohio and North Carolina.

Local People Attend Boys' Club Meeting

The first Colorado Area Council organizational meeting of the Boys' Club of America was held Tuesday to promote an exchange of ideas between clubs and to improve the Boys' Clubs movement.

J. Churchill Owen, president of the Boys' Clubs of Denver, was host for the meeting attended by the Boys' Clubs of Greeley, Denver and Colorado Springs.

Joe Sotis, regional director from Dallas, explained the purpose and organization of the Council which will meet twice each year. The next meeting will be held in the spring.

Boys' Clubs representatives from Colorado Springs who attended the Area Council were Marx Lorig, Mr. and Mrs. Al Meyer, J. D. Jones, Dr. Clement, Dr. and Mrs. Paul deBois and Mr. and Mrs. Tom P. Hoe.

McKEE VISITS — Dr. Paul McKee, right, widely known authority on the trict 11, Wednesday and Thursday for teaching of reading visited School Distalks and consultations with teachers and consultations with teachers and supervisors. For many years Dr. McKee was professor of education at Colorado State College. Shown with Dr. McKee are Dr. Dwight Hamilton, District 11 director of elementary education, and Mrs. Bertha Crawford, fifth grade teacher at Queen Palmer School.

Teachers Told To Stress Reading Skills

Dr. Paul McKee, speaking to District 11 elementary teachers Wednesday and Thursday urged them to place great emphasis on the individual reading skills. He said at least 40 of the 180 reading lessons during the year should be on skils.

A nationally known authority on the teaching of reading, D.R. McKee helped train hundreds of the nation's teachers while he was a professor of education at Colorado State College. He is the author of the reading books used by District 11 and many other schools in the country.

"Learning to read in grades one and two," he told the teachers, "is not tough unless we make it tough." Reading materials at those levels are almost entirely narrative and are not intended to be studied and retained by the child, he said.

In the next two grades learning to read becomes more difficult becuase the reading materials are more informative, and the child is expected to retain what he reads. Emphasis on reading skills, however, is just as important, according to Dr. McKeee.

Among the skillls he urged teachers to emphasize are the ability to get meaning from context and the ability to interpret punctuation marks. Punctuation must be taught both as a part of reading and of language arts, he said.

During his visit to District 11, Dr. McKee also consulted with the directors and supervisors of instruction. The visit here was part of the district's continuing program of in - service training for teaching personnel.

Pre-timed Traffic Signal To Be Installed

A pre - timed automatic traffic signal will be installed and in operation Friday at North Circle Drive and Pikes Peak Avenue.

City Traffic Engineer Don L. Smith said there will be pedestrian "walk - don't - walk" signals to provide for the crossing of Pikes Peak Avenue only.

"This is intentional so as to discourage school children from crossing Circle Drive at this intersection," he added.

The present "reduce speed to 20 MPH when flashing" installation at Pikes Peak and Garo Avenues will be removed after the new signal is in operation. Children formerly using the crossing at Garo Avenue should now cross Pikes Peak Avenue at Circle Drive.

School warning signs will also be posted at and in advance of the singalized intersecion, Smith said. Will Rogers School is located near the intersection.

Motorists are advised that the new intersection signal will get special attention for a few days from the police department.

Science Seminar Held Here Monday

Candidate Says Inventory Tax Repels New Business

Colorado's inventory tax has placed "the state in quarantine as far as out - of - state business and industry is concerned." Norman B. Bodinger, candidate for the State Senate from the 12th District, charged Wednesday night that the inventory tax "creates an unfavorable climate which repels business and industry." He claimed the present tax on goods stored in Colorado but sold outside of it. has turned Colorado into an "isolation ward."

He supported an annual five per cent decrease over the next six years.

Quoting news stories concerning the establishment of a new plant by th eDenver based Gates Rubber Co. in Kentucky, Bodinger noted that the state has missed out on a $2.5 million plant by the Denver based Gates to business.

Bodinger noted that the president of Gates had blamed the high level of property and corporate taxes in Colorado "as well as our outmoded inventory tax."

"Sure, we have nice blue skies, a wonderful climate, and snow covered ski slopes," Bodinger said. "But, we have to show the business world that it is good business to locate here," he argued.

He claimed that unless Colorado does attract more business, the taxes for every citizen and business in this state will have to be increased if Colorado is to meet its responsibilities towards low tuition in state colleges and universities, public schools, our teachers, and mental health programs," among others he listed.

"We must grow," he said, "If taxes are to be kept at their current level."

Bodinger said he supports a plan for a five per cent decrease annually of the state inventory tax over the next six years. Currently, the rate of the inventory tax is 30 per cent annually.

He claimed this decrease could be accomplished without hurting the state's revenues. He based this claim on "the state's growth being about five per cent per year."

He noted that this would also be attractive to companies considering Colorado as a location for a new plant, because "they could count on the inventory tax being eliminated in the near future."

Beyond the immediate elimination of the inventory tax, Bodinger urged more aggressiveness on the part of the state to attract business.

In an apparent swipe at Governor John Love, he said "more than once - a -year junkets to New York and the handing out of sourvenirs is necessary."

He felt that "our local Chambers of Commerce are doing a good job, but unfortunately are limited in their funds and facilities."

Texans Out To Show World Is Small

Two big Texans set out today to show that the world is small. Hal Harbuck, district sales manager for Central Air Lines at Amarillo, Tex., and Vince Funk, air lines sales promotion manager from Fort Worth, will attempt to set an around-the-world travel record on commercial air liners. The current record for such a feat is believed to be under 80 hours, set earlier this year by a trio of Americans.

The duo, dressed in complete western garb, from 10-gallon hats to cowboy boots, left Amarillo at 7:50 a.m. today on the inauguration of Central's new Convair Flight 168 to Kansas City. From there they will fly to New York, London, Moscow, Hong Kong, Tokyo, Honolulu, Los Angeles, Denver and back to Amarillo. They will travel over World Airline to India, Japan Air Line, Central Air Line and Braniff Airway.

Between capital cities the globe girdling Texans will pack toy pistols to give to children as they go along. They will take certificates from the mayor of Amarillo to mayors of cities they visit.

County Clerk Issues Report

Harriet Beals, County clerk and recorder, has issued El Paso County's monthly report for September.

During the month of September, 179 marriage licenses were issued, an increasee of 41 over September of 1963.

The recorder's office took in $8,809.65 in recording fees, $1,409.45 more than September of last year.

Extra fees brought $1,093.12 into the office.

The total amount taken in by the office during the month was $9,902.77.

Tabulations were compiled by Jene Bailey, recording supervisor, and by the recording office staff consisting of Gladys Browner, Ruth Kruse and Dorothy Rosamond.

Captain and Mrs. Mann received 110 officers, Navy League members and their wives at a cocktail reception at the Ent Officers' Club. This affair presented the opportunity or the Naval Forces Commander and his wife to meet socially with his staff and Navy League members and teir wives.

Legion Post, Auxiliary Hold Family Dinner

For the program, Mrs. Everett Morris, the auxiliary's Girls State chairman, presented Girl Staters who attended the Columbine Girls State at Colorado Woman's College in Denver last June.

Girls Staters included Dorothy Pospahala of the Westcliffe Custer County High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Pospahala, who gave a general run - down on the Girls State activities; Jane Nehring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Nehring of Canon City who gave an enlightening talk on Civil Rights.

Jerri Grabow, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Grabow of Canon City, spoke on the subject, "Let Freedom Ring," pointing out how individual freedom can strengthen a country.

The Arden Woods' daughter, Patricia, gave an informative talk on patriotism, mentioning historical patriots and events down to the present.

Zeta Taus Hold Hobo Rush Party

Thirteen hoboes were seen traveling through town on Tuesday evening. A closer look however, revealed they were just members of Zeta Tau Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority entertaining their guests at a Hobo Rush Party.

The evening's festivities began at the home of Mrs. Don Drennan who served the group their appetizer, while Mrs. Bob Vondra took movies of this action. Down the hill the lively troupers went to Mrs. Fred Duncan's for salad served in true hobo fashion. The procession then meandered onward to the home of Mrs. Jack Healy for the main course. Their trip concluded at Mrs. William Hudak's where games were played and dessert was served. Each hostess presented the group with a favor to be tucked into their bindle bags.

Guests of the chapter were Mrs. Juanita Gabler and Mrs. Joe Drennan. Prizes for the best costumes were awarded Mrs. William Mason and Mrs. Jack Manning. Other prizes were won by Mrs. Anthony Sucharski and Miss Leona Paintin.

The party, which was arranged by Mrs. Gordon Brown, and Mrs. Alex Stevenson, introduced the guests to the social aspects of Epsilon Sigma Alpha and served as a prelude to other rushing activities.

Mrs. Emerick Is Champion In Country Club Golf

Mrs. Don Emerick has again won the championship tournament at the Colorado Springs Country Club.

Last year Mrs. Emerick, who for two years was Patty Jewett's top woman golfer, defeated Mrs. Wallace Haque for the club championship. This fall she defeated Mrs. William Wacker, club champion in previous years, to take the top spot in 1964.

Mrs. Emerick was also the tournament medalist. Mrs. Kenneth MacInnes won the championship flight consolation.

Mrs. Albert Stock was second flight winner and Mrs. Louis Kennedy runner - up. Mrs. Lewis Poe won second flight consolation.

Mrs. Clifford Hollandsworth took top spot in the third flight defeating runner - up Mrs. Darrel Ireland. Mrs. Rodger Thornton was consolation winner.

The nominating committee of the club's Ladies' Golf Association submitted a prospective slate of officers for 1965 during the group's monthly luncheon Sept. 29.

Included in the nominations are Mrs. Don Emerick, chairman; Mrs. Louis Kennedy, co-chairman; Mrs. Eugene Beyer, secretary; and Mrs. S. A. Robinson, treasurer. The slate will be voted upon during the October monthly luncheon.

The Ladies' Golf Association also plans to sponsor a wine-tasting luncheon at 12:30 p.m., Oct. 13 at the club to which all country club lady members are invited.

Wine - tasting will precede the luncheon and bridge will follow. There will also be a demonstration of the various usages such as in cooking, before lunch. Members are urged to call early for reservations.

Women interested in the activities of Young Life, nondenominational religious movement among boys and girls of high school age. are invited by the organization's auxiliary to Trail West Lodge near Buena Vista for a luncheon meeting on Oct. 9.

Transportation will be furnished to the lodge and reservations may be made by calling Pat Taylor, 636-3346.

Trail West is the new Young Life lodge for adults and family groups. Young Life also has two camps, Frontier and Silver Cliff, in the scenic Mount Princeton area where hundreds of teenagers from all parts of the country come during the summer months.

Speaker at the auxiliary's luncheon meeting will be Bill Starr, who recently took over the position of associate executive director of Young Life, which has its national headquarters in Colorado Springs.

Before coming to Colorado Springs to head Young Life while Jim Rayburn, founder and director, is on a leave of absence, Starr was Midwest regional director for eight years. His headquarters were in Chicago.

Prior to that Starr was associated with Young Life as area director in Portland, Ore., three years, and served for the same length of time as area director at Spokane, Wash.

Return from Trip

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Beahm of 922 College Avenue, have returned home after a recent trip to Palisade, Colo., where they visited relatives.

Accompanying the Beahms were Mrs. Beahm's brother, Leonard Hampton and his wife of Gloucester Point, Va. The Hamptons, who have been visiting in Canon City are traveling to Idaho. They will visit another of Mr. Hampton's sisters.

Visited in Palisade were Mr. Beahm's sister, Mrs. Ruth Taylor, and Mrs. Beahm's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Hampton.

In a fashion story, this season, buttons cannot be ignored. They are definitely in—and far from introverted. On the scene, are leather buds, crocheted fancies, elongated, twisted and convex shapes.

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

After I wash and rinse my throw rugs and bathmats, I leave them in the washing machine and pour the thin starch (left over from starching other clothes) over them, agitate them slightly, then use the spin dry cycle . . .

This small amount of starch makes the rugs lay flatter and they don't soil as rapidly.—K.M.

Thanks and it's true. Heloise.

Dear Heloise:

To eliminate scratching my extra table leaves, I store them in their own pajamas when not in use.

These covers are simple to make—mine are of flannelette.

I cut two pieces of material four or five inches larger than the leaf and sew them together on three sides, leaving one end open. I add two sets of tape ties at the open end and am in business. No more scratches.

To save space in a china cabinet, I nest all my cups together in my round vegetable bowl. I can store as many as 15 cups this way. —Florence Hohmann

Dear Heloise:

Here's a tip I've been using for a long time, which I'd like to pass along:

To prevent rust stains on bathroom sinks and surfaces from containers with metal rims on the bottom. I cover the metal rim with masking tape. Cellophane tape could be used instead.

Dear Heloise:

I am a Third Grade teacher and on bright sunny days during the winter season my pupils often want to play outside without wearing their coats. They just can't see why not . . .

So I installed an outdoor thermometer at a level where they could easily read it, making sure that it was located in such a way that the sun didn't shine on it.

I told the children that when the temperature was 68 degrees or above, they didn't need to wear their coats. It works beautifully.

They make the decision for themselves.

I should think mothers who have this same problem might also find this idea helpful. —J. Hines.

Dear Heloise:

I always disliked the idea of plastic playpen pads because I felt they were too cold for the baby during winter and too stick and uncomfortable in the summer.

So I took four large bath towels and sewed them together along the selvages, then folded this in half and sewed up the two open sides. This made a pillowslip cover for the pad.

Then I put gripper snaps on the open side so the pad could be removed when the cover became soiled.

This cover washes easily and serves as a bottom sheet when the playpen is used as a bed away from home.

Fashionettes

United Press International

Furs are within the reach of the college and young career girl as well as her more affluent sisters, says one New York buyer. Alfred Cohen, with the resident buying firm of Kirby Block, says that the 1964 crop of campus-cued furs is the best he's seen in his half a century in the field. "Any girl with a lot of fashion sense and not too much dollars and cents, can select a fashionable fur to fit her personiality, purse, and purpose."

Furriers are giving new style to less expensive garments by using parts of pelts not previously worked. These include fur paws, sides, rumps, gills and flanks.

Enter spats for fall and winter for milady. They come in stripes, checked and solid designs, and in jersey, mohair, glitter, black lace and mock leather.

With all the trousered look in outerwear for fall, it was only logical that the innerwear manufacturers also should go along. One firm, Bewitching, Inc., New York, uses stretch lace to make jump suits fitting skin-tight right to the feet. Tops plunge, of course.

The "small" hairdo is in to go with skinny coats, trouser suits and narrow suits. One chain of salons, Charles of the Ritz, calls its small hairdo the "skimmer," with the sides pared down, the neckline raised to a squared-off blunt cut or shot V-shingle, and the crown lifted to either a smooth oval or a ruffle of loose curls.

Mrs. Emerick Is Champion In Country Club Golf

Mrs. Don Emerick has again won the championship tournament at the Colorado Springs Country Club.

Last year Mrs. Emerick, who for two years was Patty Jewett's top woman golfer, defeated Mrs. Wallace Haque for the club championship. This fall she defeated Mrs. William Wacker, club champion in previous years, to take the top spot in 1964.

Mrs. Emerick was also the tournament medalist. Mrs. Kenneth MacInnes won the championship flight consolation.

Mrs. Albert Stock was second flight winner and Mrs. Louis Kennedy runner - up. Mrs. Lewis Poe won second flight consolation.

Mrs. Clifford Hollandsworth took top spot in the third flight defeating runner - up Mrs. Darrel Ireland. Mrs. Rodger Thornton was consolation winner.

The nominating committee of the club's Ladies' Golf Association submitted a prospective slate of officers for 1965 during the group's monthly luncheon Sept. 29.

Included in the nominations are Mrs. Don Emerick, chairman; Mrs. Louis Kennedy, cochairman; Mrs. Eugene Beyer, secretary; and Mrs. S. A. Robinson, treasurer. The slate will be voted upon during the October monthly luncheon.

The Ladies' Golf Association also plans to sponsor a wine-tasting luncheon at 12:30 p.m., Oct. 13 at the club to which all country club lady members are invited.

Wine - tasting will precede the luncheon and bridge will follow. There will also be a demonstration of the various usages such as in cooking, before lunch. Members are urged to call early for reservations.

HEFLIN IS BACK AT METRO FOR FILM, AFTER 13 YEARS

HOLLYWOOD — Van Heflin, after many brilliant performances, returns to Metro for the first time in 13 years to join Alain Delon and Ann-Margret in "Scratch a Thief," which Ralph ("Lilies of the Field") Nelson directs.

Jerry Lewis now equals Jimmy Stewart's record — 14 Laurel awards by America's motion picture exhibitors.

It was a hot day and my typewriter was cold, and I gave Dean Jennings the settlement that Bob Jennings got from Rex Harrison. The fellows dined together the evening the column came out, and Dean, who is writing the Jack Warner story, demanded the money.

Francis Lederer returned from a visit to his native Czechoslovakia and a trip 'round the world in behalf of the state department's sister city program. Said he, "the minute my wife and I set foot on Hawaii, we agreed the United States is the most civilized country in the world, and the best."

Director Bryan Forbes put in eight months of research on Winston Churchill for the film "His Finest Hour," which turned out to be a hazardous job. He had many sessions with the grand old man, and learned to be cagey. At one of their first meetings, Churchill poured himself and Forbes three tumblers of whisky each. Winston downed his without batting an eye. Forbes had to eat some bread before he could sneak past the bobby at No. 10 Downing St.

Forbes said: "Churchill literally kept his family by his pen. Because of his father's untimely death, he had responsibility thrust on him at an early age. Whenever he has been in the political wilderness, he's turned instinctively to his desk. When he was out of favor, he turned out the definitive biography of his ancestor, Marlborough. When kicked out of office in the late '40s, he immediately set about the history of World War II and the history of the English speaking peoples. Apart from the accident of his birth in Blenheim, he was not born into great wealth and has never been ashamed to admit it."

Frank George, supervisor of audio-visual services for Long Beach schools, asks me whatever happened to that mountain of mail sent to Y. Frank Freeman to help him persuade our producers to quit making dirty films. Evidently nothing. Freeman's studio, Paramount, is cleaning up with "Carpetbaggers," so why change?

Bill Selwyn, Edgar's nephew, will marry Alice Plomeson in Los Altos on Oct. 17. They met at Lockheed missiles when she was with exec row, and he headed up their motion picture operation.

Anne Francis plays opposite Robert Taylor in "Cry of Laughing Owls" to be made in the Florida Everglades. She's set to leave on the 19th but may have to stay over a day or two for her court appearance to divorce Bob Abeloff. When the picture ends, Anne makes a pilot for Four Star's "Honey West," in which she plays a private eye.

Inger Stevens writes from Sweden that Max von Sydow, who plays Christ in "Greatest Story," took time off from rehearsing "After the Fall" to show her through the court theater at Drottningholm. "Had a fascinating experience with Artist Bo Beskow (a friend of Dag Hammarskjold and John Steinbeck). In the little town where he lives and works, a door to door salesman of fresh fish met me and was told I was a movie star from Hollywood. He stared at me then said, 'she came all the way from America to buy fish?'

"Saw the premiere of 'La Celestina,' a Spanish play from the 15th century, at Ingmar Bergman's Royal Dramatic theater. Met the city architect in Stockholm. He plants flowers all over the city, has a special kitchen for birds, and writes poetic verses on trash cans.

Your Freedom Newspaper
Ever striving for the Pikes Peak Region to be an even better place to live

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is self-control, no more, no less. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

The Antlers Plaza

If ever were needed an expression of confidence and faith in the future of Colorado Springs, it has just been expressed by the free enterprise community. The old Antlers Hotel is coming down. But in its place will be a fine, modern hotel, plus a number of other facilities which will add grace, dignity and value to Colorado Springs on an entirely unprecedented scale.

Three major firms deserve our unstinting congratulations and praise.

They are the Holly Sugar Company, the El Pomar Investment Company and Western International Hotels Corporation.

The Antlers Hotel will be replaced by what is to be known as Antlers Plaza. At the south side of the complex will be a 12-story, brand new hotel of 300 rooms to be known as Antlers Western. Three stories below the ground level will be parking for 850 automobiles.

To the north and fronting on Cascade will be a giant new building to be known as "The Holly Sugar Building." It will contain approximately 100,000 square feet and will be 16 stories high.

The Holly Sugar Corporation will move to this location as soon as the building is ready and therein will house the headquarters for its organization of about 1,100 year-round employees, plus some 3,500 additional seasonal workers.

Immediately at the terminal point of Pikes Peak Avenue, a shopping plaza will be constructed with stores and shops to the south and fronting on Cascade.

The total overall construction cost, exclusive of land acquisition and other items not announced, will be $15,000,000.

Demolition of the old building is to begin shortly after October 8 of this year. Construction of the new hotel, office building and shopping plaza will commence immediately the ground is ready.

For a very long time, rumors and comment have floated about the city concerning the ultimate use to which the land is to be put. Those who participated in setting up this giant expansion program are to be congratulated for engineering so vast and so magnificent an addition to our great city.

There isn't a man, woman or child in this region who cannot take great joy in this accomplishment. What it will mean to this city can hardly be expressed in words.

We might opine that with this construction, Colorado Springs closes its doors on a colorful and glorious past, and reopens them on an exciting and yet to be written story of the future.

From this point, Colorado Springs is not merely keeping in step with the times. Colorado Springs is emerging now as a leader in the rapidly growing spots on earth that are entirely desirable on a year-around basis.

We are filled with admiration for the men who are achieving this substantial growth. And note that the entire affair is being done without government help. This is all private money, privately invested. The addition to the value of this city cannot yet be estimated.

Let there be no more talk about raising taxes.

Let there be more talk of investment, of capital improvement on the side of free enterprise. Let there be more talk of enterprise, of improvement, of jobs for all, and better jobs all the way around.

Particularly in line for kudos in the entire proceedings are the First National Bank of Colorado Springs and its president, Chase Stone. This organization has served as trustee and brought the pieces of this complex into harmonious focus.

Also deserving of praise are Dennis O'Rourke, the vigorous and far-seeing president of Holly Sugar; Edward E. Carlson of Western International Hotels Corporation; Russell T. Tutt, president of the El Pomar Investment Company.

As honorable mention we must name Lloyd J. Lovegren, A.I.A., of a firm of architects in Seattle together with Carlisle B. Guy, A.I.A., of the firm of Edwin A. Francis and Carlisle B. Guy, of Colorado Springs, associate architects.

Most of all we are congratulating the people of this region. Isn't it grand to live in Colorado Springs, Colorado?

Government Medicare

We have a letter from Mrs. Billie Williams of Security in which she makes a plea in support of government care of the aged. She criticizes a recent article in the Gazette Telegraph in which a speech, opposing medicare, was reported.

The figures as provided in the article were as presented by the speaker. Since he was opposed to medicare, it is only natural that he used the figures available to him to criticize government intervention in this area.

But Mrs. Williams goes on to state clearly that she favors tax-paid medical care for the aged. And her support of the program, when it is examined, is predicated entirely on the idea that oldsters may not be able to afford the medical care they may require. Extended logically, what she is saying is that elderly people have a right for other people not so elderly to pay their bills for them.

First, let Mrs. Williams know that there is no such thing as "free" medical care, even if the government provides the payment. There is no such thing as something for nothing. Medical care must be paid for by someone. The only question here is whether the people requiring treatment should pay for their own treatment, or whether other people are to be enslaved to pay for the care of those who are old.

Now, government has no money of its own. All that it acquires, it takes by force from someone. So, in final analysis, Mrs. Williams wants younger people, struggling to make their own way, to be saddled with the burden of supporting old folks; not just their own old folks, but the elderly in society, which she numbers as better than 15 million. The 15 million she lists are the old folks who don't work and, hence, can't support themselves, she avers.

Now, let us suppose for a moment that we were to agree with her, which we don't. Let us suppose that we thought it a good idea to use force to enslave some workers to pay for the expenses of some non-workers. Were we to agree to this, surely Mrs. Williams would agree that the most efficient method for securing this financial assistance would be the best.

Very well. If we use government for this purpose, then the funds collected, allegedly for medical care, would be used in part to pay enormous salaries to a whole bevy of government workers who would do the collecting and then who would distribute the payments. That's not very efficient. It provides for the payment of an army of men and women who will do nothing but collect and distribute.

We have a better suggestion.

Since there are allegedly some 15 million elderly who can't afford to make medical payments, then the proper procedure would be to select another 15 million who are employed. Each worker could receive the name of some elderly person for whose medical care he would have to be responsible. Instead of having the government collect and distribute, let the worker contact the recipient of his generosity personally. Each pay day he could travel over to the home of the elderly for whose care he would have to pay, so that he could find out just how much money that particular person "needed" on this particular pay day. Then he could leave it. This way, he'd get to know the person he is working to support. And the elderly person would have a chance to thank the man who was laboring so diligently to keep him in medical bounty.

Think of the money saved in government commissions! Think of the joy of each worker as he contacts the burden he has had to assume. Think of the joy of his wife and children as they go without their money for rent and food so that an elderly person got the medical care he "needed." Marvelous.

Mrs. Williams contends that the elderly are entitled to gratuities in dignity. What of the dignity of the enslaved worker who may not profit by his own toil but now must take on the added burden of another person to support? Is a slave dignified? Is a recipient of the products of a slave's labor dignified?

All that government is, in this process, is a middle man. In the interest of making the program self-sustaining, let's cut out the middle man.

Despite the fact that government's entrance into this program disguises the fact, if we removed the government and each person to receive any kind of aid was to receive it directly from the hand of the person who was laboring, the true situation would be revealed.

Government should play no part in providing medical care for the simple reason that government doesn't have it to provide. Mrs. Williams might enlarge her area of sympathy to include those who would be coerced by medicare.

MEDICARE FOR AGED

To the Editor:

Your newspaper gave detailed coverage of a recent speech against medicare for the aged. I cannot locate the article to quote, but the gist remains clear and was a remarkable interpretation of figures.

An instance was the emphasis upon the fact that 3.1 million of those over 65 are employed in some manner. The approximately 15 million who do NOT work were not so singled out for notice. To persuade that the financial capability of the aged is adequate was the statement that more than 20 per cent of them have some sort of health insurance — again ignoring the much greater percentage who do NOT have such insurance. Attention was called to that fact that medicare for the aged would cover only a portion of medical expenses and thus would not completely absolve the ill one from financial drain. Isn't this also true of medical health insurance plans?

In the campaign against medicare for the aged, the enormous expense of the average hospital stay, cost of drugs, etc., is cited as good and sufficient reason why the younger citizens should be against such a drain on their income. Yes. Yes. Medical care is very costly. On the other hand — as in the speech you quoted — the usual tactic was used to try to prove that the mostly unemployed aged can afford to meet their medical expenses. The presentation of the worth of the older citizens is an attempt to show the aged as well off. But it has just been indirectly pointed out that the very large majority are existing on minimum incomes, such as old-age pensions, or they are existing upon the erosion of their capital worth. This is only a few thousand more than that possessed by the younger citizens, and it is usually irretrievably gone. Too many unwillingly endow their life savings to a medical institution rather than being able to provide some security for themselves or a needy life-long partner.

It is not supposed that such financial resources last for more than a few weeks of intensive medical care. Nor would the resources of any average person. However, the younger people are often returned to a productive life which enables them to discharge the accumulated medical bills. The extremely high indebtedness so often willed to survivors sometimes brings up the question as to how advisable life when it is that of a hopeless vegetable, and when those unknowing moments are purchased at the cost of loved ones' comfort and peace of mind. This, however, is another subject.

Our older people are entitled to dignity in their illness in an era which finds children more and more reluctant and, at the present rates, UNABLE to assume the money burden of care for their parents. Just as social security gives a minimum of assistance to unproductive old age, so medicare, with its flaws, promises assistance in meeting the pain and disease which often accompanies that unproductive old age.

How sad that the medical profession is more aware of the inconveniences this assistance may entail than they are eager for help with this sorely worrisome problem which confronts the elderly people they seek to comfort. Some kind of medical plan to assist older people WILL be passed, and soon; for this is surely an outcome of the many diverse trends which sweep the country along. May such a plan be adopted which will both bless the aged and not create too many hardships for the devoted workers in the medical professions.

R. R. CROSSINGS

To the Editor:

Last April you were kind enough to publish a letter addressed to Mayor Harry Hoth concerning safety regulations for the railroads, desperately needed at many grade crossings here in Colorado Springs. Subsequently, Mayor Hoth did call a special session of the City Council and a vote was taken to form a committee to "examine the possibility of reducing all train speeds in the city to the five mile maximum."

This seemed a sensible, immediate solution to a problem which had led to three serious accidents at grade crossings within a two-week period last spring.

However, the trains have not been required to reduce their excessive speeds to date, and I have heard nothing further either of the actual formation of a committee such as described above, or any subsequent deliberations.

Since last spring there have been at least two other grade crossing accidents in the area caused by inadequate safety precautions. A law which permits passenger trains to travel at 30 miles per hour through a city where most grade crossings are inadequately protected needs changing, and at once. Fortunately, it is a simple matter to require the railroads to reduce their speed to a five-mile maximum.

Why, then, has this not been done?

MRS. C. E. FROST
2305 Bennett

Editor's note: A five-mile-an-hour speed would require a train to consume more than an hour in passing through Colorado Springs. This may help to account for the fact that nothing has been done. As a counter suggestion, we might propose that the engineer sound his air horn as he approaches grade crossings. Ye editor has ridden on trains going through the city and their speed at present is not excessive.

CITY VEHICLES

To the Editor:

At a time when the city of Colorado Springs is considering a tax to raise money, I have wondered why the city allows city employees to drive the official "City of Colorado Springs" vehicles to and from their homes each morning and evening, parking them there overnight, stopping at home for coffee breaks and lunch, and even driving into areas over the weekend where they couldn't possibly be on authorized trips. This is a situaton I have observed over a period of time and is not an isolated incident.

I work for a government agency and I am not furnished a government vehicle as transportation to and from work. I must furnish my own car, pay for the gas, etc. The government expects me to get to my place of employment on my own.

A great many dollars could be saved each month by the City of Colorado Springs by clamping down on unauthorized use of city vehicles.

MAURY J. BITLER
Box 110
Nob Hill Station.

Editor's note: City Manager John Biery said that some employees are required to drive city vehicles home. These are personnel on 24-hour call in such departments as utilities, traffic engineering and public works where barricades may have to be erected in the middle of the night or faulty traffic signals synchronized. "These men have to be on call just like the police department," Biery pointed out.

City utility vehicles often go as far as South Park on city business, the city manager said, and "they sure are not going fishing."

Employees are not allowed to take city vehicles home in departments such as inspections where there is usually no emergency function involved, Biery said. Instead, vehicles used by non - emergency departments are parked at city hall, the city utilities building or the North City Service Center.

"We've gotten a lot tougher in the last year or so on restricting use of city vehicles to city business," Biery said.

He requested that anyone with knowledge that city vehicles are being used for unauthorized purposes call his office and tell him the number of the vehicle.

D.A.R. VISIT

To the Editor:

This is to express appreciation to the Gazette Telegraph for coverage devoted to the recent State Meeting of the Colorado D.A.R. on the occasion of an official visit by Mrs. Robert V. H. Duncan, president general of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Please know that clippings of same have been forwarded to national headquarters for attention and display.

Mrs. Duncan reports a very enjoyable visit to Colorado and, continuing an extended tour of Western States, asks this office to express her personal regards and those in behalf of the National Society and the Colorado State Society.

Story Ended or Continued

By GEORGE BOARDMAN

The Chloride story has provided me with a lot of grist for the mill and readers of this column during the past three years may understand what I now have to say about it. For some strange reason the Chloride story has assumed a degree of importance in the minds of a good many people. On the other hand, they have visited and talked and discussed, without in any sense supporting our efforts in the only way support could be of any real help to me.

I'm not about to add up all the hours I've spent discussing the efforts of Freedom Newspapers and the Freedom School, ideas for private education, the market place and so on. I have no regrets in connection with the energy so spent but I've spent too little time, had too little time remaining, for consideration and activities connected with my own personal affairs, and time has run out on me.

We are about to terminate the Chloride story, as far as we are concerned, after which we will move on. But, the Chloride story remains here in Chloride for anybody who wishes to take up where we will let go. A good many people have expressed envy over the deal we have here, hoped they might find such a lease as we have on the motel and living quarters. As of now, the deal is available for sale, exchange, barter and-or cash and immediately after October 4, we will be making plans to move on and into an area even a bit more inaccessible than this, in some ways. In the meantime, information will be available to any sincerely interested persons — people who have advanced beyond the conversational stage and are in a position to do something about it. If no serious interest is shown by October 4, we will shortly thereafter place the lease in the hands of a broker so that we may plan our departure anyway.

Yes, there will be a story in connection with our next place of habitation, too. We will be able to explore the idea of a more self-sufficient living, first-hand. We will become more involved with game and fish and subsistence gardening. Obviously, I will be much less available for private consultations and discussion than I have been in the past but if a market exists, my time will be available on a pay as you go basis, but the pay may involve barter and exchange, as well as cash, and this will be interesting, also.

Dawn and I found ourselves with a tough decision to make. Our affection for this area and what we have learned about it is very real. Sure, we could sweat things out if we found it possible to become a bit involved with socialism and government thievery on a personal and voluntary basis but if we did that, the Chloride story would lose its meaning for us. We have an obligation or two to meet and obligations to ourselves and to our self-respect, not to mention the responsibility for our own decisions. We have made the decision; we will move on and leave the Chloride story behind, but certainly not tarnished.

Actually, the four years we have spent here were important. Without the experience gained, we would be less well qualified to understand and cope with our next move and accompanying circumstances. We have learned a great deal about handling the fear of the unknown.

Sure, we will pass up our plan to try a school of photo journalism for the time being and with this will go other ideas about private tutoring and instruction in other fields, teaching experiments with which I've had many years of experience and other activities which have been uppermost in my mind for some time. We've also learned that nothing is ever accomplished by wishing for the moon. We've received a great deal of encouragement but do not ever try to spend encouragement; it will buy even less than phony paper money. The real encouragement came from our friends who understand our situation and have made it possible for us to move on. They even understood our reluctance to end the Chloride story for ourselves. They are great and good friends!

The Chloride story began for us August 1, 1960. Soon, it will end.

Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom.

Question Box

Question No. 593: What is the difference between the Freedom School here in Colorado and the freedom school in Mississippi? What role does Communist thinking play in the freedom school of Mississippi?

Answer: The Freedom School of Colorado Springs is an educational institution for adults, offering short courses of instruction in the fields of economics, philosophy, ethics, history and political science. Special sessions each year are reserved for executives and those making managerial decision in business and the professions. A number of two-week comprehensive courses are offered each summer from June through August. Special Workshop and library facilities are available for graduates.

The Freedom School has employed instructors and professors who are among the highest rated in the country.

The so-called "freedom school" of Mississippi, if one may rely on newspaper accounts, is not an educational institution. It is merely a course of training offered to integrationists in which, it is reported, instruction is offered on how to picket, how to demonstrate, how to riot, how to protect one's self physically from police and other law-enforcement men.

There is not only no connection, there is no similarity.

The purpose of communism, as set forth by Karl Marx, is to abolish private property, notably the tools of production and distribution. The Civil Rights issue around which the integration problem orbits, relates to the right of a man to manage his own business property and to have as customers those he wishes to serve. This is true whether the property in question is a hotel or motel, a restaurant or any other kind of business. Involved, too, are simple matters respecting ordinary real estate transactions. This, too, is business. By means of engendering riot and demonstration, the right of a man to manage his own business in a peaceful manner is infringed upon by the Mississippi "freedom school" trainees.

Although it can honestly be said that Negroes have often suffered in the past from prejudice and hostile discrimination the imposition of riot on their behalf is unquestionably in line with communist thinking. By creating disturbance, the right of a man to peacefully manage his own affairs and his own business is imperiled.

City Sales Tax

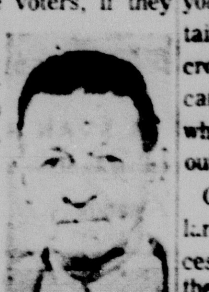
By RUFUS L. PORTER



The proposed city sales tax will not reduce mill levies. Oh, as a sop to the voters, if they are fools enough to vote it in, the property mill levy MAY be reduced the first year, but watch it start crawling up after that. In fact, City Manager John Biery has reportedly already stated that the schools and county must continue to raise the mill levies until "population and growth begin to stabilize."

Remember when the cigarette tax was supposed to reduce the mill levy? Can you recall how much it was reduced? Haven't all your taxes increased steadily ever since the cigarette tax was passed?

Biery says "the tourists and convention attenders should help in supporting the services provided by the city." Why should they? Don't they all have their own tax troubles back home? Would we expect to help pay their taxes if we traveled to their cities? The money they spend here certainly helps all of us pay our taxes. Why add a direct tax on top of that?

For years we have been trying to lose a reputation in the Pikes Peak Region that we are a bunch of tourist sockers. Now that the businessmen have succeeded in pretty well policing the few who were responsible for the adverse publicity and the area is beginning to be known for its fair treatment of all visitors, must the city government take up the cudgel others have laid down and start socking the tourists? There are places that do not indulge in such a pastime and they will soon be getting the tourist trade we are presently enjoying. Then our taxes will really have to rise, or, horrible thought, the politicians will have to trim their budgets.

I am not opposed to a sales tax per se. It is probably the most equitable tax that can be devised. But if a two per cent sales tax is adopted, all other taxes should be eliminated and the city dads should run the government on the sales tax returns. It would be sufficient if they kept within the bounds of common sense and attended only to the things for which the city government was formed in the first place. They could start in by eliminating the city manager and his salary.

The good citizens of Woodland Park are to be commended on their firm stand against the Johnson administration's threat to build a battle ground in his "war on poverty" close to the town. If all other areas the government intends to infest with its youth camps would show as much backbone, they would soon break the backbone of this bogus, political "war."

It is certainly no honor to be picked as the region where the government hopes to set up indoctrination centers to lead our youth astray; for it will certainly lead them down the crooked path of socialism. How can it do otherwise, when the whole concept is taken straight out of Karl Marx's teachings?

Our hat is doffed to Woodland Park and we hope it is successful in its attempt to keep the "poverty" camp away from its door.

One of the riddles of life in these United States is the amount of pushing around the citizens will take off the politicians and bureaucrats, and how little they will take off anyone else.

I was reminded of this when I read about the "battle of the clotheslines" in Richfield, New Jersey. Now, if the government had slipped into that area in the middle of the night and removed all clotheslines, some of the housewives might have grumbled a little. But they wouldn't have organized and declared war. The bureaucrats would have given them a line of double talk about the greatest good of the greatest number, or some such mumbo-jumbo, and they would have quieted down soon enough.

But, when a mere corporation tried to enforce a rule that outlawed clotheslines, and when they came in at night and stole all the clotheslines in the neighborhood, they had a real war on their hands. A war that they lost, by "compromising" in favor of the ladies, who have been granted permission to keep their lines. In fact, the company is going to restore them.

Meanwhile, clothes are drying on every hedge, bush and fence in the housing development. The housewives refuse to be coerced into using indoor driers. A minor factor was the charge of ten cents the company collected for the use of the driers.

If the people, housewives, husbands or whatever, would show as much gumption when the government pushed them from pillar to post, there would not be so much of it going on. It is heartening to hear of such evidences of spunk and to know that we all are not yet ready to have our rights trampled on. But we should fight the politicians as hard, or harder, for our stolen rights as we do individuals.

QUICK QUIZ

A—The exact color depends on the kind of flower from which the honey was made. Dark-colored honeys are made mostly from the nectar of buckwheat and from the flowers of tulip trees. Light honeys come from alfalfa, orange blossoms, sage and some kinds of clover.

Q—What tree has the straightest branches?

A—Ginkgo branches tend to grow in straight lines, although they may shoot out at eccentric angles and make sharp turns.

Q—Which comet appears most frequently?

A—Encke's comet, which travels around the sun once in every 3 1-3 years.

If ever were needed an expression of confidence and faith in the future of Colorado Springs, it has just been expressed by the free enterprise community. The old Antlers Hotel is coming down. But in its place will be a fine, modern hotel, plus a number of other facilities which will add grace, dignity and value to Colorado Springs on an entirely unprecedented scale.

Three major firms deserve our unstinting congratulations and praise.

They are the Holly Sugar Company, the El Pomar Investment Company and Western International Hotels Corporation.

The Antlers Hotel will be replaced by what is to be known as Antlers Plaza. At the south side of the complex will be a 12-story, brand new hotel of 300 rooms to be known as Antlers Western. Three stories below the ground level will be parking for 850 automobiles.

To the north and fronting on Cascade will be a giant new building to be known as "The Holly Sugar Building." It will contain approximately 100,000 square feet and will be 16 stories high.

The Holly Sugar Corporation will move to this location as soon as the building is ready and therein will house the headquarters for its organization of about 1,100 year-round employees, plus some 3,500 additional seasonal workers.

Immediately at the terminal point of Pikes Peak Avenue, a shopping plaza will be constructed with stores and shops to the south and fronting on Cascade.

Demolition of the old building is to begin shortly after October 8 of this year. Construction of the new hotel, office building and shopping plaza will commence immediately the ground is ready.

For a very long time, rumors and comment have floated about the city concerning the ultimate use to which the land is to be put. Those who participated in setting up this giant expansion program are to be congratulated for engineering so vast and so magnificent an addition to our great city.

There isn't a man, woman or child in this region who cannot take great joy in this accomplishment. What it will mean to this city can hardly be expressed in words.

We might opine that with this construction, Colorado Springs closes its doors on a colorful and glorious past, and reopens them on an exciting and yet to be written story of the future.

From this point, Colorado Springs is not merely keeping in step with the times. Colorado Springs is emerging now as a leader in the rapidly growing spots on earth that are entirely desirable on a year-around basis.

We are filled with admiration for the men who are achieving this substantial growth. And note that the entire affair is being done without government help. This is all private money, privately invested. The addition to the value of this city cannot yet be estimated.

Let there be no more talk about raising taxes.

Let there be more talk of investment, of capital improvement on the side of free enterprise. Let there be more talk of enterprise, of improvement, of jobs for all, and better jobs all the way around.

Particularly in line for kudos in the entire proceedings are the First National Bank of Colorado Springs and its president, Chase Stone. This organization has served as trustee and brought the pieces of this complex into harmonious focus.

Also deserving of praise are Dennis O'Rourke, the vigorous and far-seeing president of Holly Sugar; Edward E. Carlson of Western International Hotels Corporation; Russell T. Tutt, president of the El Pomar Investment Company.

As honorable mention we must name Lloyd J. Lovegren, A.I.A., of a firm of architects in Seattle together with Carlisle B. Guy, A.I.A., of the firm of Edwin A. Francis and Carlisle B. Guy, of Colorado Springs, associate architects.

Most of all we are congratulating the people of this region. Isn't it grand to live in Colorado Springs, Colorado?

Government Medicare

We have a letter from Mrs. Billie Williams of Security in which she makes a plea in support of government care of the aged. She criticizes a recent article in the Gazette Telegraph in which a speech, opposing medicare, was reported.

The figures as provided in the article were as presented by the speaker. Since he was opposed to medicare, it is only natural that he used the figures available to him to criticize government intervention in this area.

But Mrs. Williams goes on to state clearly that she favors tax-paid medical care for the aged. And her support of the program, when it is examined, is predicated entirely on the idea that oldsters may not be able to afford the medical care they may require. Extended logically, what she is saying is that elderly people have a right for other people not so elderly to pay their bills for them.

First, let Mrs. Williams know that there is no such thing as "free" medical care, even if the government provides the payment. There is no such thing as something for nothing. Medical care must be paid for by someone. The only question here is whether the people requiring treatment should pay for their own treatment, or whether other people are to be enslaved to pay for the care of those who are old.

Now, government has no money of its own. All that it acquires, it takes by force from someone. So, in final analysis, Mrs. Williams wants younger people, struggling to make their own way, to be saddled with the burden of supporting old folks; not just their own old folks, but the elderly in society, which she numbers as better than 15 million. The 15 million she lists are the old folks who don't work and, hence, can't support themselves, she avers.

Now, let us suppose for a moment that we were to agree with her, which we don't. Let us suppose that we thought it a good idea to use force to enslave some workers to pay for the expenses of some non-workers. Were we to agree to this, surely Mrs. Williams would agree that the most efficient method for securing this financial assistance would be the best.

Very well. If we use government for this purpose, then the funds collected, allegedly for medical care, would be used in part to pay enormous salaries to a whole bevy of government workers who would do the collecting and then who would distribute the payments. That's not very efficient. It provides for the payment of an army of men and women who will do nothing but collect and distribute.

We have a better suggestion. Since there are allegedly some 15 million elderly who can't afford to make medical payments, then the proper procedure would be to select another 15 million who are employed. Each worker could receive the name of some elderly person for whose medical care he would have to be responsible. Instead of having the government collect and distribute, let the worker contact the recipient of his generosity personally. Each pay day he could travel over to the home of the elderly for whose care he would have to pay, so that he could find out just how much money that particular person "needed" on this particular pay day. Then he could leave it. This way, he'd get to know the person he is working to support. And the elderly person would have a chance to thank the man who was laboring so diligently to keep him in medical bounty.

Think of the money saved in government commissions! Think of the joy of each worker as he contacts the burden he has had to assume. Think of the joy of his wife and children as they go without their money for rent and food so that an elderly person got the medical care he "needed." Marvelous.

Mrs. Williams contends that the elderly are entitled to gratuities in dignity. What of the dignity of the enslaved worker who may not profit by his own toil but now must take on the added burden of another person to support? Is a slave dignified? Is a recipient of the products of a slave's labor dignified?

All that government is, in this process, is a middle man. In the interest of making the program self-sustaining, let's cut out the middle man.

Despite the fact that government's entrance into this program disguises the fact, if we removed the government and each person to receive any kind of aid was to receive it directly from the hand of the person who was laboring, the true situation would be revealed.

Government should play no part in providing medical care for the simple reason that government doesn't have it to provide. Mrs. Williams might enlarge her area of sympathy to include those who would be coerced by medicare.

MEDICARE FOR AGED

To the Editor:

Your newspaper gave detailed coverage of a recent speech against medicare for the aged. I cannot locate the article to quote, but the gist remains clear and was a remarkable interpretation of figures.

An instance was the emphasis upon the fact that 3.1 million of those over 65 are employed in some manner. The approximately 15 million who do NOT work were not so singled out for notice. To persuade that the financial capability of the aged is adequate was the statement that more than 20 per cent of them have some sort of health insurance — again ignoring the much greater percentage who do NOT have such insurance. Attention was called to that fact that medicare for the aged would cover only a portion of medical expenses and thus would not completely absolve the ill one from financial drain. Isn't this also true of medical health insurance plans?

In the campaign against medicare for the aged, the enormous expense of the average hospital stay, cost of drugs, etc., is cited as good and sufficient reason why the younger citizens should be against such a drain on their income. Yes. Yes. Medical care is very costly. On the other hand — as in the speech you quoted — the usual tactic was used to try to prove that the mostly unemployed aged can afford to meet their medical expenses. The presentation of the worth of the older citizens is an attempt to show the aged as well off. But it has just been indirectly pointed out that the very large majority are existing on minimum incomes, such as old-age pensions, or they are existing upon the erosion of their capital worth. This is only a few thousand more than that possessed by the younger citizens, and it is usually irretrievably gone. Too many unwillingly endow their life savings to a medical institution rather than being able to provide some security for themselves or a needy life-long partner.

It is not supposed that such financial resources last for more than a few weeks of intensive medical care. Nor would the resources of any average person. However, the younger people are often returned to a productive life which enables them to discharge the accumulated medical bills. The extremely high indebtedness so often willed to survivors sometimes brings up the question as to how advisable life when it is that of a hopeless vegetable, and when those unknowing moments are purchased at the cost of loved ones' comfort and peace of mind. This, however, is another subject.

Our older people are entitled to dignity in their illness in an era which finds children more and more reluctant and, at the present rates, UNABLE to assume the money burden of care for their parents. Just as social security gives a minimum of assistance to unproductive old age, so medicare, with its flaws, promises assistance in meeting the pain and disease which often accompanies that unproductive old age.

How sad that the medical profession is more aware of the inconveniences this assistance may entail than they are eager for help with this sorely worrisome problem which confronts the elderly people they seek to comfort. Some kind of medical plan to assist older people WILL be passed, and soon; for this is surely an outcome of the many diverse trends which sweep the country along. May such a plan be adopted which will both bless the aged and not create too many hardships for the devoted workers in the medical professions.

R. R. CROSSINGS

To the Editor:

Last April you were kind enough to publish a letter addressed to Mayor Harry Hoth concerning safety regulations for the railroads, desperately needed at many grade crossings here in Colorado Springs. Subsequently, Mayor Hoth did call a special session of the City Council and a vote was taken to form a committee to "examine the possibility of reducing all train speeds in the city to the five mile maximum."

This seemed a sensible, immediate solution to a problem which had led to three serious accidents at grade crossings within a two-week period last spring.

However, the trains have not been required to reduce their excessive speeds to date, and I have heard nothing further either of the actual formation of a committee such as described above, or any subsequent deliberations.

Since last spring there have been at least two other grade crossing accidents in the area caused by inadequate safety precautions. A law which permits passenger trains to travel at 30 miles per hour through a city where most grade crossings are inadequately protected needs changing, and at once. Fortunately, it is a simple matter to require the railroads to reduce their speed to a five-mile maximum.

Why, then, has this not been done?

2305 Bennett

Editor's note: A five-mile-an-hour speed would require a train to consume more than an hour in passing through Colorado Springs. This may help to account for the fact that nothing has been done. As a counter suggestion, we might propose that the engineer sound his air horn as he approaches grade crossings. Ye editor has ridden on trains going through the city and their speed at present is not excessive.

CITY VEHICLES

To the Editor:

At a time when the city of Colorado Springs is considering a tax to raise money, I have wondered why the city allows city employees to drive the official "City of Colorado Springs" vehicles to and from their homes each morning and evening, parking them there overnight, stopping at home for coffee breaks and lunch, and even driving into areas over the weekend where they couldn't possibly be on authorized trips. This is a situaton I have observed over a period of time and is not an isolated incident.

I work for a government agency and I am not furnished a government vehicle as transportation to and from work. I must furnish my own car, pay for the gas, etc. The government expects me to get to my place of employment on my own.

A great many dollars could be saved each month by the City of Colorado Springs by clamping down on unauthorized use of city vehicles.

MAURY J. BITLER
Box 110
Nob Hill Station.

Editor's note: City Manager John Biery said that some employees are required to drive city vehicles home. These are personnel on 24-hour call in such departments as utilities, traffic engineering and public works where barricades may have to be erected in the middle of the night or faulty traffic signals synchronized. "These men have to be on call just like the police department," Biery pointed out.

City utility vehicles often go as far as South Park on city business, the city manager said, and "they sure are not going fishing."

Employees are not allowed to take city vehicles home in departments such as inspections where there is usually no emergency function involved, Biery said. Instead, vehicles used by non - emergency departments are parked at city hall, the city utilities building or the North City Service Center.

"We've gotten a lot tougher in the last year or so on restricting use of city vehicles to city business," Biery said.

He requested that anyone with knowledge that city vehicles are being used for unauthorized purposes call his office and tell him the number of the vehicle.

D.A.R. VISIT

To the Editor:

This is to express appreciation to the Gazette Telegraph for coverage devoted to the recent State Meeting of the Colorado D.A.R. on the occasion of an official visit by Mrs. Robert V. H. Duncan, president general of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Please know that clippings of same have been forwarded to national headquarters for attention and display.

Mrs. Duncan reports a very enjoyable visit to Colorado and, continuing an extended tour of Western States, asks this office to express her personal regards and those in behalf of the National Society and the Colorado State Society.

In further appreciation, enclosed are several items about the history and endeavors of the N.S.D.A.R. for your information and files, and a recent copy of the D.A.R. Magazine.

'We Came to Investigate You!'

By GEORGE BOARDMAN

The Chloride story has provided me with a lot of grist for the mill and readers of this column during the past three years may understand what I now have to say about it. For some strange reason the Chloride story has assumed a degree of importance in the minds of a good many people. On the other hand, they have visited and talked and discussed, without in any sense supporting our efforts in the only way support could be of any real help to me.

I'm not about to add up all the hours I've spent discussing the efforts of Freedom Newspapers and the Freedom School, ideas for private education, the market place and so on. I have no regrets in connection with the energy so spent but I've spent too little time, had too little time remaining, for consideration and activities connected with my own personal affairs, and time has run out on me.

We are about to terminate the Chloride story, as far as we are concerned, after which we will move on. But, the Chloride story remains here in Chloride for anybody who wishes to take up where we will let go. A good many people have expressed envy over the deal we have here, hoped they might find such a lease as we have on the motel and living quarters. As of now, the deal is available for sale, exchange, barter and-or cash and immediately after October 4, we will be making plans to move on and into an area even a bit more inaccessible than this, in some ways. In the meantime, information will be available to any sincerely interested persons — people who have advanced beyond the conversational stage and are in a position to do something about it. If no serious interest is shown by October 4, we will shortly thereafter place the lease in the hands of a broker so that we may plan our departure anyway.

Yes, there will be a story in connection with our next place of habitation, too. We will be able to explore the idea of a more self-sufficient living, first-hand. We will become more involved with game and fish and subsistence gardening. Obviously, I will be much less available for private consultations and discussion than I have been in the past but if a market exists, my time will be available on a pay as you go basis, but the pay may involve barter and exchange, as well as cash, and this will be interesting, also.

Dawn and I found ourselves with a tough decision to make. Our affection for this area and what we have learned about it is very real. Sure, we could sweat things out if we found it possible to become a bit involved with socialism and government thievery on a personal and voluntary basis but if we did that, the Chloride story would lose its meaning for us. We have an obligation or two to meet and obligations to ourselves and to our self-respect, not to mention the responsibility for our own decisions. We have made the decision; we will move on and leave the Chloride story behind, but certainly not tarnished.

Actually, the four years we have spent here were important. Without the experience gained, we would be less well qualified to understand and cope with our next move and accompanying circumstances. We have learned a great deal about handling the fear of the unknown.

Sure, we will pass up our plan to try a school of photo journalism for the time being and with this will go other ideas about private tutoring and instruction in other fields, teaching experiments with which I've had many years of experience and other activities which have been uppermost in my mind for some time. We've also learned that nothing is ever accomplished by wishing for the moon. We've received a great deal of encouragement but do not ever try to spend encouragement; it will buy even less than phony paper money. The real encouragement came from our friends who understand our situation and have made it possible for us to move on. They even understood our reluctance to end the Chloride story for ourselves. They are great and good friends!

The Chloride story began for us August 1, 1960. Soon, it will end.

Question Box

Question No. 593: What is the difference between the Freedom School here in Colorado and the freedom school in Mississippi? What role does Communist thinking play in the freedom school of Mississippi?

Answer: The Freedom School of Colorado Springs is an educational institution for adults, offering short courses of instruction in the fields of economics, philosophy, ethics, history and political science. Special sessions each year are reserved for executives and those making managerial decision in business and the professions. A number of two-week comprehensive courses are offered each summer from June through August. Special Workshop and library facilities are available for graduates.

The Freedom School has employed instructors and professors who are among the highest rated in the country.

The so-called "freedom" school" of Mississippi, if one may rely on newspaper accounts, is not an educational institution. It is merely a course of training offered to integrationists in which, it is reported, instruction is offered on how to picket, how to demonstrate, how to riot, how to protect one's self physically from police and other law-enforcement men.

There is not only no connection, there is no similarity.

The purpose of communism, as set forth by Karl Marx, is to abolish private property, notably the tools of production and distribution. The Civil Rights issue around which the integration problem orbits, relates to the right of a man to manage his own business property and to have as customers those he wishes to serve. This is true whether the property in question is a hotel or motel, a restaurant or any other kind of business. Involved, too, are simple matters respecting ordinary real estate transactions. This, too, is business. By means of engendering riot and demonstration, the right of a man to manage his own business in a peaceful manner is infringed upon by the Mississippi "freedom school" trainees.

Although it can honestly be said that Negroes have often suffered in the past from prejudice and hostile discrimination the imposition of riot on their behalf is unquestionably in line with communist thinking. By creating disturbance, the right of a man to peacefully manage his own affairs and his own business is impaired.

City Sales Tax

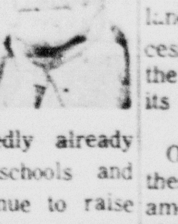
By RUFUS L. PORTER



The proposed city sales tax will not reduce mill levies. Oh, as a sop to the voters, if they are fools enough to vote it in, the property mill levy MAY be reduced the first year, but watch it start crawling up after that. In fact, City Manager John Biery has reportedly already stated that the schools and county must continue to raise the mill levies until "population and growth begin to stabilize."

Remember when the cigarette tax was supposed to reduce the mill levy? Can you recall how much it was reduced? Haven't all your taxes increased steadily ever since the cigarette tax was passed?

Biery says "the tourists and convention attenders should help in supporting the services provided by the city." Why should they? Don't they all have their own tax troubles back home? Would we expect to help pay their taxes if we traveled to their cities? The money they spend here certainly helps all of us pay our taxes. Why add a direct tax on top of that?

For years we have been trying to lose a reputation in the Pikes Peak Region that we are a bunch of tourist sockers. Now that the businessmen have succeeded in pretty well policing the few who were responsible for the adverse publicity and the area is beginning to be known for its fair treatment of all visitors, must the city government take up the cudgel others have laid down and start socking the tourists? There are places that do not indulge in such a pastime and they will soon be getting the tourist trade we are presently enjoying. Then our taxes will really have to rise, or, horrible thought, the politicians will have to trim their budgets.

I am not opposed to a sales tax per se. It is probably the most equitable tax that can be devised. But if a two per cent sales tax is adopted, all other taxes should be eliminated and the city dads should run the government on the sales tax returns. It would be sufficient if they kept within the bounds of common sense and attended only to the things for which the city government was formed in the first place. They could start in by eliminating the city manager and his salary.

The good citizens of Woodland Park are to be commended on their firm stand against the Johnson administration's threat to build a battle ground in his "war on poverty" close to the town. If all other areas the government intends to infest with its youth camps would show as much backbone, they would soon break the backbone of this bogus, political "war."

It is certainly no honor to be picked as the region where the government hopes to set up indoctrination centers to lead our youth astray; for it will certainly lead them down the crooked path of socialism. How can it do otherwise, when the whole concept is taken straight out of Karl Marx's teachings?

Our hat is doffed to Woodland Park and we hope it is successful in its attempt to keep the "poverty" camp away from its door.

One of the riddles of life in these United States is the amount of pushing around the citizens will take off the politicians and bureaucrats, and how little they will take off anyone else.

I was reminded of this when I read about the "battle of the clotheslines" in Richfield, New Jersey. Now, if the government had slipped into that area in the middle of the night and removed all clotheslines, some of the housewives might have grumbled a little. But they wouldn't have organized and declared war. The bureaucrats would have given them a line of double talk about the greatest good of the greatest number, or some such mumbo-jumbo, and they would have quieted down soon enough.

But, when a mere corporation tried to enforce a rule that outlawed clotheslines, and when they came in at night and stole all the clotheslines in the neighborhood, they had a real war on their hands. A war that they lost, by "compromising" in favor of the ladies, who have been granted permission to keep their lines. In fact, the company is going to restore them.

Meanwhile, clothes are drying on every hedge, bush and fence in the housing development. The housewives refuse to be coerced into using indoor driers. A minor factor was the charge of ten cents the company collected for the use of the driers.

If the people, housewives, husbands or whatever, would show as much gumption when the government pushed them from pillar to post, there would not be so much of it going on. It is heartening to hear of such evidences of spunk and to know that we all are not yet ready to have our rights trampled on. But we should fight the politicians as hard, or harder, for our stolen rights as we do individuals.

QUICK QUIZ

Q—Why does the color of honey vary?

A—The exact color depends on the kind of flower from which the honey was made. Dark-colored honeys are made mostly from the nectar of buckwheat and from the flowers of tulip trees. Light honeys come from alfalfa, orange blossoms, sage and some kinds of clover.

Q—What tree has the straightest branches?

A—Ginkgo branches tend to grow in straight lines, although they may shoot out at eccentric angles and make sharp turns.

Q—Which comet appears most frequently?

A—Encke's comet, which travels around the sun once in every 3 1-3 years.

Decline Reported In Unemployment

WASHINGTON (AP) — With teen-agers returning to school, employment and unemployment in September both declined seasonally and just about as expected, the Department of Labor said today. The unemployment rate was 5.2 per-cent compared to 5.1 in August and 5.5 in September of last year.

The total employed was 70.8 million, a decline of 1.3 million from August and approximately 1.3 million more than in September of last year.

The total unemployed in September of this year 3.3 million, down 350,000 from August and the lowest September level since 1959, the department said.

Approximately 1.7 million teen-agers left their summer jobs to return to school in September, while there was an increase of almost 500,000 in the employment of adult women, primarily as teachers and employees in schools.

Saul Bellow Play Said Provocative

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP) — Oddly provocative is "The Last Analysis," novelist Saul Bellow's first play, which opened Thursday at the Belasco Theater.

Labelled a farce, the exhibit taps many strange and unlikely sources of potential entertainment. But despite a sluggish start and wavering close, there is a wealth of arresting theatricality.

Bellow's main character is a veteran clown intent upon digging out the frustrations of his existence and shaking off the money-grabbing parasities that surround him. Hipped on psychoanalysis, he fills the stage with episodic incarnations out of his past.

Sharing honors wth Levene in making the wild cerebral romp comprehsnsible is director Joseph Anthony, the director. Some scenes race with rakish hilarity.

"The Last Analysis" is easy to label specialized fare. On its own terms, it is also commendably stimulating novelty.

Big Ed Is Back on Campaign Trail

The 80-year-old patriarch of the Colorado Democratic party made his comeback Thursday with a speech in support of Rep. Wayne N. Aspinall for re-election. Aspinall is being challenged by Republican Edwin Lamm.

Johnson also is a former governor of Colorado.

"Would you think we could have won a double header with both (Bobby) Klaus and (Ron) Hunt on the bench?"

Both regular infielders missed the twin victory over Houston due to injuries. Klaus had a spiked forearm and Hunt a bad back from crashing the right field boxes going for a high foul.

Decline Reported In Unemployment

WASHINGTON (AP) — With teen-agers returning to school, employment and unemployment in September both declined seasonally and just about as expected, the Department of Labor said today. The unemployment rate was 5.2 per-cent compared to 5.1 in August and 5.5 in September of last year.

The total employed was 70.8 million, a decline of 1.3 million from August and approximately 1.3 million more than in September of last year.

The total unemployed in September of this year 3.3 million, down 350,000 from August and the lowest September level since 1959, the department said.

Approximately 1.7 million teen-agers left their summer jobs to return to school in September, while there was an increase of almost 500,000 in the employment of adult women, primarily as teachers and employees in schools.

Saul Bellow Play Said Provocative

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Critic

Labelled a farce, the exhibit taps many strange and unlikely sources of potential entertainment. But despite a sluggish start and wavering close, there is a wealth of arresting theatricality.

Bellow's main character is a veteran clown intent upon digging out the frustrations of his existence and shaking off the money-grabbing parasities that surround him. Hipped on psychoanalysis, he fills the stage with episodic incarnations out of his past.

Sharing honors wth Levene in making the wild cerebral romp comprehsnsible is director Joseph Anthony, the director. Some scenes race with rakish hilarity.

"The Last Analysis" is easy to label specialized fare. On its own terms, it is also commendably stimulating novelty.

Big Ed Is Back on Campaign Trail

The 80-year-old patriarch of the Colorado Democratic party made his comeback Thursday with a speech in support of Rep. Wayne N. Aspinall for re-election. Aspinall is being challenged by Republican Edwin Lamm.

Johnson also is a former governor of Colorado.

WINS WITH TWO STARS OUT

NEW YORK (AP) — A young lad came into the dressing room at Shea Stadium, got Casey Stengel's autograph and the manager asked:

"Would you think we could have won a double header with both (Bobby) Klaus and (Ron) Hunt on the bench?"

Both regular infielders missed the twin victory over Houston due to injuries. Klaus had a spiked forearm and Hunt a bad back from crashing the right field boxes going for a high foul.

Revengeful Aggies Open AFA Home Slate

By LOY HOLMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Editor

Anyone giving the Aggies of Colorado State University much of a chance to win in this Saturday's home opener for the Air Force Academy probably should have his head examined. Still there's an uneasy feeling around the game site in Falcon Stadium as the contest nears.

This could soon disappear after the 1:30 p.m. kickoff as the Falcons are upwards of a three - touchdown favorite and should both teams perform to their normal capabilities it's a conservative guess at the outcome.

One item bothering the AFA staff is the score from a year ago. That glowed AFA 69, CSU 0 on the Falcon Stadium scoreboard, and it's a sure bet that's been "rammed" into the minds of the Colorado State returnees for the past dozen months.

It's also easy money that the same score won't be repeated, before an expected crowd of around 25,000 and a regional television audience.

There's no doubt as to the attitude of the husky Rams from Ft. Collins coming into this annual area clash. But there's some fear for possible complacency from the Falcons in what looks like their only "breather" of an otherwise testy schedule.

Not only can the Cadets look back on the game of '63, but they have yet to lose to the Aggies in five years since Coach Ben Martin took over at the Academy. The last two times out, CSU has failed to score while being whipped by 34 and 69 point margins.

It all looks like a breeze for the Fliers.

However, if you recall the surprisingly fine finish of a 7-3 record for the Falcons a year ago, two of those defeats came against teams the AFA was supposed to defeat. Southern Methodist and Maryland both caught the Cadets with their flaps down after two impressive victories.

It could happen again — but it's not likely.

Perhaps the greatest danger of a let - down by the Falcons for this one is not the leftovers from last week — but rather the enthusiasm building for next week's game with Notre Dame. The AFA has made no secret of the fact they are pointing for an upset of the Fightin' Irish in Falcon Stadium before a sold - out crowd.

Basically, CSU returns much of the same cast that was buried under that avalanche of 69 points, which stood as the most lopsided score of the year in major games. However, they've added some new bodies and a few are impressive.

Most notable among these newcomers are tackle Dick Evers, 242 pound senior transfer from Delaware who has already been future drafted by both the Washington Redskins of the National Football League and Kansas City of the AFL, and fullback Al Lear, junior transfer from Oklahoma U. where he lettered as a sophomore. Lear, at 214 pounds, is originally from Ft. Collins and was All - State for Colorado.

A couple of others among the starters who have transferred into CSU since last fall are end Jim Biddle, 198 pounds from Trinidad Junior College and a fine pass receiver, and halfback Jess Willis.

Willis, a 185 - pounder who also came from Trinidad JC, is perhaps the Aggies greatest break - away threat and he's expected to take on most of the rushing offensive load this weekend. Joining him in the backfield will be 197 - pound halfback Norm Burkett from Baltimore and quarterback Tom Miller, a junior from Tyrone, Pa., who moved into the No. 1 signal calling slot last last season and who has been there ever since.

Martin is expected to make no important switches in his lineup from last week's defeat at Michigan, keeping junior Jerry Mrozek in the right tackle spot in place of injured Gary Fausti. At the other tackle position, sophomore Ed Reybitz has replaced another injured player, George Hanseth, who was sidelined for the season in the Washington win.

Both teams come into Saturday's contest with identical 1-1 records, but they are hardly comparable because of class of opposition. While the AFA was taking a 3-2 decision from Washington and dropping a 24 - 7 verdict to Michigan, the Aggies were trimmed by Wyoming 31-7 and then last weekend took a 7-0 win over University of Pacific. It was against Pacific last season that CSU broke a 26-game losing streak — longest in the nation.

Each may test the air quite frequently, although they will first try their luck through running at the other's line. Colorado State's Coach Mike Lude has worked his team overtime on both throwing and defending against the pass this week, probably sensing that if the Air Force could hold mighty Washington (still among the top 10) without a touchdown they should be able to do the same against the Rams.

On the other hand, the Falcons have had less than spectacular results so far from their running game and could turn to the strong left arm of Tim Murphy again. Of course, rushing against Washington and Michigan isn't the same as CSU but the Aggies showed strong potential on defense in making no less than three goal line stands on their five in holding on for the 7-0 triumph over Pacific.

Last weekend Murphy, an exciting senior from LaCrosse Wis., lifted himself to fifth nationally among passers with a 21 for 33 record against the Wolverines. He now has completed over 55 per cent of his attempts for 290 yards and one touchdown.

Top receiver on Murphy's list has been halfback Dick Czarnota, rated seventh in the NCAA statistics with 10 caught for 101 yards, with end Jim Greth (nine for 85 yards) also among the nation's top 13. He also has a half dozen other fine targets including speedy end Fritz Greenlee, end Bill Landes, sophomore Paul Stephens and halfback Paul Wargo.

Wargo, the most promising of the runners and also a threat as a halfback passer to the right, was made the example of the frustrations experienced at Michigan. He fumbled twice (Air Force lost three bobbles) and had a pass intercepted in the end zone. One fumble came when the AFA was driving for a possible score, the other gave Michigan an opportunity for its first TD, and the pass theft nullified what might have been another Falcon tally.

The other fumble lost was after Stephens had caught a pass at the Michigan one yard line. So it's evident the Cadets have worked hard on hanging onto the ball this week.

Both teams will try to platoon offensive and defensive units under the new substitution rules this year. But CSU is more dedicated to this maneuver, taking penalties, etc., to stop the clock and get in another unit when needed. Air Force likes to switch players, but will leave either team in the game on a sudden change of possession and the Falcons will also take advantage of the other team's efforts to stop the clock.

Russia Enters International

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Russia will make its seventh try to win the Washington D.C. International horse race Nov. 11 with a 3-year-old bay colt named Anilin, Laurel management announced today.

In their past six efforts, the Russians each time entered two of their thoroughbreds.

Joseph T. Cascarella, Laurel vice president, said he thought it was significant that the Russians would rely on one starter in the 1½ mile grass race.

He said it "indicates that Russia is ready to make its most serious challenge to date."

Reds Move Closer to Cardinals

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Gene Mauch has run out of moves, except downward perhaps, but Johnny Keane and Dick Sisler still have time to maneuver their teams into the National League pennant.

Cincinnati's Sisler made a key move Thursday night, deciding to use reserve catcher Jim Coker instead of regular John Edwards, who hurt his hand the night before.

Coker responded with a single, a double and his first home run of the season, sparking the Reds to a 5-4 victory over Pittsburgh that moved Cincinnati to within one-half game of Keane's first-place St. Louis Cardinals, who were idle.

"I decided on Coker earlier in the day," Sisler said following the crucial triumph. "Edwards wanted to play, but I just couldn't let him. He was in too much pain."

Sisler could've used second-stringer Don Pavletich, but he struck out four times after replacing Edwards Wednesday night.

Coker's second-inning single drove in the Reds' first run after 34 scoreless innings. He doubled and scored in the fourth, then snapped a 3-3 deadlock with his homer off Steve Blass in the sixth. That put Cincinnati ahead to stay.

The 28-year-old catcher has been the property of six major league teams since he reached the majors in 1958. The Reds purchased him from Denver of the Pacific Coast League Aug. 23. Before Thursday night, Coker had played in nine games and batted .280 with two runs batted in.

There was no immediate word on whether Coker or Edwards would be in the line-up tonight when the Reds play their next-to-the-last game of the season against Mauch's once-potent Philadelphia Phillies.

The Phillies still are working on a 10-game losing streak and conceivably could tumble into fourth place behind San Francisco.

While the Reds are battling Philadelphia, the Cardinals, winners of eight straight, will play the lowly New York Mets. If the Reds win their two remaining games, the Cardinals would have to win all three of theirs to finish first.

St. Louis can eliminate the Phillies and the Giants from the race by beating the Mets tonight.

In other NL games Thursday, San Francisco trimmed Houston 6-3, Milwaukee whipped New York 7-3 and Chicago nipped Los Angeles 4-3.

Yogi Curtails His Champagn Thirst

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

That little old champagne taster, Yogi Berra, is still manipulating numbers today after the New York Yankees' pennant express ran afoul of the Detroit Tigers.

Berra, who has become accustomed to the taste of that bubbly stuff almost every fall in his 17 years as a Yankee, was all ready for his annual sip after New York swept two from Detroit Wednesday, reducing their magic number to two.

But the Tigers turned right around and knocked off the Bombers 4-2 and 5-2 Thursday delaying the clinching of New York's 29th pennant at least another day. If the Yankees whip Cleveland and Kansas City takes Chicago, Yogi can whoop it up again. But Berra isn't depending on the A's.

Two Yankee victories in the three game set with the Indians will end all the speculation and that's what Yogi is shooting for. The runners-up aren't dropping by the wayside themselves as evidenced by Baltimore's 2-0 blanking of Washington Thursday which kept the Orioles' chance to tie alive. So, figures Berra, the best way to wrap it up is for the Yankees to win two.

Of course if the Athletics care to cooperate by knocking off Chicago or Detroit happens to top Baltimore tonight, Yogi will gladly accept the help.

The Tigers weren't much help Thursday, coming from behind in the ninth to pull out the opener against rookie Mel Stottlemyre and then getting a six-hitter from rookie Dennie McLain to win the nightcap.

Dave McNally permitted just one hit — a seventh inning double by Don Lock — in blanking the Senators for Baltimore. Except for Lock's double, only two balls were hit hard off McNally — line drives to shortstop Luis Aparicio by Roy Sievers in the second and Ken Reter in the eighth.

In other American League games, Dick Radatz made his 78th appearance and chalked up his 25th save as Boston dropped Cleveland 4-2, and Kansas City got a 12th inning homer from rookie Larry Stahl to whip Minnesota 5-4.

Stottlemyre nursed a 2-1 lead through eight innings of the opener against the Tigers. But Detroit loaded the bases in the ninth and Gates Brown's single knocked in the tying and lead runs. Don Wert's sacrifice fly produced another as Mickey Lolich picked up his 18th victory.

It was Brown again in the nightcap scoring two of the three runs off loser Rollie Sheldon. He scored on a wild pitch in the second and rode home on Wert's triple after his second straight single in the fourth.

McNally had a no-hitter for 6 2-3 innings before Lock's shot broke it up. A walk and a wild pitch put the runners in scoring position but McNally escaped the jam by getting Ken Hunt on a long fly.

Jerry Adair singled home the Orioles' first run in the third and then doubled and came home on a two-bagger by Brooks Robinson for Baltimore's other run in the fifth.

Radatz saved Boston's victory for Ed Connolly as 306 persons looked on—the smallest attendance in Red Sox history.

Stahl's homer opening the 12th beat Minnesota's Camilo Pascual who struck out 14 running his season's total to 213, tops in the American League.

ZOT IS VERSATILE FALCONS — Halfback Dick (Zot) Czarnota, 206-pound senior from Detroit, will undoubtedly be the most versatile player on the field when the Air Force Academy hosts Colorado State University this Saturday in Falcon Stadium. Last weekend against Michigan, Czarnota caught nine of quarterback Tim Murphy's passes for 84 yards to lift him to seventh in the nation in receiving. He also is a fine power runner, and is considered the best blocker on the Air Force team. (Gazette Telegraph Photo)

Three Top Quarteracks Injured; Games in Doubt

B BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Three of the top college football games scheduled this weekend are clouded by the questionable status of key quarterbacks — Rollie Stichweh of Army, Roger Staubach of Navy and Jimmy Sidle of Auburn.

Staubach, the 1963 Heisman Trophy winner, and Stichweh both are reported ailing from ankle injuries, but last minute indications are that both will play.

Sidle, ace of Auburn's unbeaten and seventh ranked team, has an injured shoulder to take into an important Southeastern Conference match with Kentucky, author of the biggest upset of the young season.

The action gets under way tonight with three major games on schedule: Cincinnati at Detroit, New Mexico at Brigham Young and Furman at George Washington.

Possibly the top match on Saturday's program has sixth-ranked Navy visiting eighth-ranked Michigan. The Wolverines, one of the top choices in the Big Ten, have a powerful ground game to throw at the Middies, who build their attack around the multi-talented Mr. Staubach.

Army, unbeaten in two games, visits Austin, Tex., for both the Cadets' first ever night game and their first encounter with Texas, the defending national champs, currently top-ranked and unscored on in two starts.

The mighty Longhorns, who play possession ball and just grind it out, are two-touchdown favorites over Paul Dietzel's three-platoon team. Stichweh, big gun in the Army attack, was injured in a victory over Boston College last week.

Even with Sidle sub-par, seventh-ranked Auburn is favored over Kentucky. Auburn sports a stern defense, but Kentucky exploded Mississippi's defensive theories last week in a big upset.

The Midwest has a corner on much of the major action. In addition to Navy at Michigan, there's Southern California at Michigan State, Illinois at Northwestern, Indiana at Ohio State, Purdue at Notre Dame and Washington at Iowa, the latter one of four games scheduled for regional television coverage.

The other TV games are Syracuse at Holy Cross, the top game in the East, Arkansas at Texas Christian in a Southwest Conference battle and Colorado State U. at Air Force.

Southern Cal, the No. 2 team in the nation, is a one-touchdown favorite over a Michigan State team that will be trying to rebound from an upset; third-ranked Illinois could have its hands full in Northwestern passing ace Tom Myers, a game that could have a major bearing on the Big Ten outcome; Ohio State, ranked fifth in the nation and again sporting a brutal ground game, is solidly favored over Indiana.

Purdue's visit to Notre Dame could determine just how far back on the road to respectability the Fighting Irish have traveled. They opened up under new Coach Ara Parseghian with an upset victory last week, but have another tough test in the Boilermakers.

Revengeful Aggies Open AFA Home Slate

By LOY HOLMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Editor

Anyone giving the Aggies of Colorado State University much of a chance to win in this Saturday's home opener for the Air Force Academy probably should have his head examined. Still there's an uneasy feeling around the game site in Falcon Stadium as the contest nears.

This could soon disappear after the 1:30 p.m. kickoff as the Falcons are upwards of a three - touchdown favorite and should both teams perform to their normal capabilities it's a conservative guess at the outcome.

One item bothering the AFA staff is the score from a year ago. That glowed AFA 69, CSU 0 on the Falcon Stadium scoreboard, and it's a sure bet that's been "rammed" into the minds of the Colorado State returnees for the past dozen months.

It's also easy money that the same score won't be repeated, before an expected crowd of around 25,000 and a regional television audience.

There's no doubt as to the attitude of the husky Rams from Ft. Collins coming into this annual area clash. But there's some fear for possible complacency from the Falcons in what looks like their only "breather" of an otherwise testy schedule.

Not only can the Cadets look back on the game of '63, but they have yet to lose to the Aggies in five years since Coach Ben Martin took over at the Academy. The last two times out, CSU has failed to score while being whipped by 34 and 69 point margins.

It all looks like a breeze for the Fliers.

However, if you recall the surprisingly fine finish of a 7-3 record for the Falcons a year ago, two of those defeats came against teams the AFA was supposed to defeat. Southern Methodist and Maryland both caught the Cadets with their flaps down after two impressive victories.

It could happen again — but it's not likely.

Perhaps the greatest danger of a let - down by the Falcons for this one is not the leftovers from last week — but rather the enthusiasm building for next week's game with Notre Dame. The AFA has made no secret of the fact they are pointing for an upset of the Fightin' Irish in Falcon Stadium before a sold - out crowd.

Basically, CSU returns much of the same cast that was buried under that avalanche of 69 points, which stood as the most lopsided score of the year in major games. However, they've added some new bodies and a few are impressive.

Most notable among these newcomers are tackle Dick Evers, 242 pound senior transfer from Delaware who has already been future drafted by both the Washington Redskins of the National Football League and Kansas City of the AFL, and fullback Al Lear, junior transfer from Oklahoma U. where he lettered as a sophomore. Lear, at 214 pounds, is originally from Ft. Collins and was All - State for Colorado.

A couple of others among the starters who have transferred into CSU since last fall are end Jim Biddle, 198 pounds from Trinidad Junior College and a fine pass receiver, and halfback Jess Willis.

Willis, a 185 - pounder who also came from Trinidad JC, is perhaps the Aggies greatest break - away threat and he's expected to take on most of the rushing offensive load this weekend. Joining him in the backfield will be 197 - pound halfback Norm Burkett from Baltimore and quarterback Tom Miller, a junior from Tyrone, Pa., who moved into the No. 1 signal calling slot last last season and who has been there ever since.

Martin is expected to make no important switches in his lineup from last week's defeat at Michigan, keeping junior Jerry Mrozek in the right tackle spot in place of injured Gary Fausti. At the other tackle position, sophomore Ed Reybitz has replaced another injured player, George Hanseth, who was sidelined for the season in the Washington win.

Both teams come into Saturday's contest with identical 1-1 records, but they are hardly comparable because of class of opposition. While the AFA was taking a 3-2 decision from Washington and dropping a 24 - 7 verdict to Michigan, the Aggies were trimmed by Wyoming 31-7 and then last weekend took a 7-0 win over University of Pacific. It was against Pacific last season that CSU broke a 26-game losing streak — longest in the nation.

Each may test the air quite frequently, although they will first try their luck through running at the other's line. Colorado State's Coach Mike Lude has worked his team overtime on both throwing and defending against the pass this week, probably sensing that if the Air Force could hold mighty Washington (still among the top 10) without a touchdown they should be able to do the same against the Rams.

On the other hand, the Falcons have had less than spectacular results so far from their running game and could turn to the strong left arm of Tim Murphy again. Of course, rushing against Washington and Michigan isn't the same as CSU but the Aggies showed strong potential on defense in making no less than three goal line stands on their five in holding on for the 7-0 triumph over Pacific.

Last weekend Murphy, an exciting senior from LaCrosse Wis., lifted himself to fifth nationally among passers with a 21 for 33 record against the Wolverines. He now has completed over 55 per cent of his attempts for 290 yards and one touchdown.

Top receiver on Murphy's list has been halfback Dick Czarnota, rated seventh in the NCAA statistics with 10 caught for 101 yards, with end Jim Greth (nine for 85 yards) also among the nation's top 13. He also has a half dozen other fine targets including speedy end Fritz Greenlee, end Bill Landes, sophomore Paul Stephens and halfback Paul Wargo.

Wargo, the most promising of the runners and also a threat as a halfback passer to the right, was made the example of the frustrations experienced at Michigan. He fumbled twice (Air Force lost three bobbles) and had a pass intercepted in the end zone. One fumble came when the AFA was driving for a possible score, the other gave Michigan an opportunity for its first TD, and the pass theft nullified what might have been another Falcon tally.

The other fumble lost was after Stephens had caught a pass at the Michigan one yard line. So it's evident the Cadets have worked hard on hanging onto the ball this week.

Both teams will try to platoon offensive and defensive units under the new substitution rules this year. But CSU is more dedicated to this maneuver, taking penalties, etc., to stop the clock and get in another unit when needed. Air Force likes to switch players, but will leave either team in the game on a sudden change of possession and the Falcons will also take advantage of the other team's efforts to stop the clock.

CALLING AGGIES SHOTS—Quarterback Tom Miller will be calling the strategy in Falcon Stadium this Saturday when his Aggies of Colorado State University tangle with host Air Force Academy in the Cadets' home opener of the football season. Miller, 182-pound junior from Tyrone, Pa., has been Coach Mike Lude's No. 1 signal caller since last season. (CSU Photo)

ZOT IS VERSATILE FALCONS — Halfback Dick (Zot) Czarnota, 206-pound senior from Detroit, will undoubtedly be the most versatile player on the field when the Air Force Academy hosts Colorado State University this Saturday in Falcon Stadium. Last weekend against Michigan, Czarnota caught nine of quarterback Tim Murphy's passes for 84 yards to lift him to seventh in the nation in receiving. He also is a fine power runner, and is considered the best blocker on the Air Force team. (Gazette Telegraph Photo)

Russia Enters International

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Russia will make its seventh try to win the Washington D.C. International horse race Nov. 11 with a 3-year-old bay colt named Anilin, Laurel management announced today.

In their past six efforts, the Russians each time entered two of their thoroughbreds.

Joseph T. Cascarella, Laurel vice president, said he thought it was significant that the Russians would rely on one starter in the 1½ mile grass race.

He said it "indicates that Russia is ready to make its most serious challenge to date."

Reds Move Closer to Cardinals

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Gene Mauch has run out of moves, except downward perhaps, but Johnny Keane and Dick Sisler still have time to maneuver their teams into the National League pennant.

Cincinnati's Sisler made a key move Thursday night, deciding to use reserve catcher Jim Coker instead of regular John Edwards, who hurt his hand the night before.

Coker responded with a single, a double and his first home run of the season, sparking the Reds to a 5-4 victory over Pittsburgh that moved Cincinnati to within one-half game of Keane's first-place St. Louis Cardinals, who were idle.

"I decided on Coker earlier in the day," Sisler said following the crucial triumph. "Edwards wanted to play, but I just couldn't let him. He was in too much pain."

Sisler could've used second-stringer Don Pavletich, but he struck out four times after replacing Edwards Wednesday night.

Coker's second-inning single drove in the Reds' first run after 34 scoreless innings. He doubled and scored in the fourth, then snapped a 3-3 deadlock with his homer off Steve Blass in the sixth. That put Cincinnati ahead to stay.

The 28-year-old catcher has been the property of six major league teams since he reached the majors in 1958. The Reds purchased him from Denver of the Pacific Coast League Aug. 23. Before Thursday night, Coker had played in nine games and batted .280 with two runs batted in.

There was no immediate word on whether Coker or Edwards would be in the line-up tonight when the Reds play their next-to-the-last game of the season against Mauch's once-potent Philadelphia Phillies.

The Phillies still are working on a 10-game losing streak and conceivably could tumble into fourth place behind San Francisco.

While the Reds are battling Philadelphia, the Cardinals, winners of eight straight, will play the lowly New York Mets. If the Reds win their two remaining games, the Cardinals would have to win all three of theirs to finish first.

St. Louis can eliminate the Phillies and the Giants from the race by beating the Mets tonight.

In other NL games Thursday, San Francisco trimmed Houston 6-3, Milwaukee whipped New York 7-3 and Chicago nipped Los Angeles 4-3.

Yogi Curtails His Champagn Thirst

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

That little old champagne taster, Yogi Berra, is still manipulating numbers today after the New York Yankees' pennant express ran afoul of the Detroit Tigers.

Berra, who has become accustomed to the taste of that bubbly stuff almost every fall in his 17 years as a Yankee, was all ready for his annual sip after New York swept two from Detroit Wednesday, reducing their magic number to two.

But the Tigers turned right around and knocked off the Bombers 4-2 and 5-2 Thursday delaying the clinching of New York's 29th pennant at least another day. If the Yankees whip Cleveland and Kansas City takes Chicago, Yogi can whoop it up again. But Berra isn't depending on the A's.

Two Yankee victories in the three game set with the Indians will end all the speculation and that's what Yogi is shooting for. The runners-up aren't dropping by the wayside themselves as evidenced by Baltimore's 2-0 blanking of Washington Thursday which kept the Orioles' chance to tie alive. So, figures Berra, the best way to wrap it up is for the Yankees to win two.

Of course if the Athletics care to cooperate by knocking off Chicago or Detroit happens to top Baltimore tonight, Yogi will gladly accept the help.

The Tigers weren't much help Thursday, coming from behind in the ninth to pull out the opener against rookie Mel Stottlemyre and then getting a six-hitter from rookie Dennie McLain to win the nightcap.

Dave McNally permitted just one hit — a seventh inning double by Don Lock — in blanking the Senators for Baltimore. Except for Lock's double, only two balls were hit hard off McNally — line drives to shortstop Luis Aparicio by Roy Sievers in the second and Ken Reter in the eighth.

In other American League games, Dick Radatz made his 78th appearance and chalked up his 25th save as Boston dropped Cleveland 4-2, and Kansas City got a 12th inning homer from rookie Larry Stahl to whip Minnesota 5-4.

Stottlemyre nursed a 2-1 lead through eight innings of the opener against the Tigers. But Detroit loaded the bases in the ninth and Gates Brown's single knocked in the tying and lead runs. Don Wert's sacrifice fly produced another as Mickey Lolich picked up his 18th victory.

It was Brown again in the nightcap scoring two of the three runs off loser Rollie Sheldon. He scored on a wild pitch in the second and rode home on Wert's triple after his second straight single in the fourth.

McNally had a no-hitter for 6 2-3 innings before Lock's shot broke it up. A walk and a wild pitch put the runners in scoring position but McNally escaped the jam by getting Ken Hunt on a long fly.

Jerry Adair singled home the Orioles' first run in the third and then doubled and came home on a two-bagger by Brooks Robinson for Baltimore's other run in the fifth.

Radatz saved Boston's victory for Ed Connolly as 306 persons looked on—the smallest attendance in Red Sox history.

Three Top Quarteracks Injured; Games in Doubt

B BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Three of the top college football games scheduled this weekend are clouded by the questionable status of key quarterbacks — Rollie Stichweh of Army, Roger Staubach of Navy and Jimmy Sidle of Auburn.

Staubach, the 1963 Heisman Trophy winner, and Stichweh both are reported ailing from ankle injuries, but last minute indications are that both will play.

Sidle, ace of Auburn's unbeaten and seventh ranked team, has an injured shoulder to take into an important Southeastern Conference match with Kentucky, author of the biggest upset of the young season.

Purdue's visit to Notre Dame could determine just how far back on the road to respectability the Fighting Irish have traveled. They opened up under new Coach Ara Parseghian with an upset victory last week, but have another tough test in the Boilermakers.

100,000th Fan Expected Saturday

With a short attendance of only 1,999 at the Rocky Mountain Kennel Club Thursday night, the total attendance for the 1964 meet is 94,066. Al Binns, RMKC's general manager says, "Judging from our attendance during the past several weekends, I feel confident in predicting that the 100,000th fan will be coming through the turnstiles sometime before the first race on Saturday night."

The 100,000th fan at RMKC has been afforded special honors every season. Presentation is made of a $50 bill as he enters, a season's ticket for complimentary seats in the grandstand and will be guest of RMKC on Wednesday, Oct. 14 at a dinner in the clubhouse after which they will make the presentation to the winner of the 1964 RMKC Puppy Stake race that will be run that night.

In 1963, the 100,000th fan, a Denver lady, arrived at the track on the 43rd night of the meet and it was her first time to attend RMKC that season. In 1962, the 100,000th fan was Mrs. Don Graves, a Colorado Springs' resident, on the 40th night of the meet and in 1961 it occurred on the 46th night of the meet.

Winning the feature at RMKC Thursday night was George S. Murphey's T.V. Hoss at $8.20. Stock from the Cecil Wilson head's Coty came in for show at $6., and the 1-2 quiniela comcashiers' windows.

The 6-1 Daily Double combination made its second show of the current meet and paid $91 to 81 people.

Tonight sees Handy Lace, Berla B., Cheyenne's Rex and Ortega Road matched with Gem Opal, Hustlin Hank, Vapona and Careless Heart in the feature with the post time for the first race at 8 p.m.

Test Runs For Race Underway

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP) — Race car engines roared to life here today as test runs began for the Formula 1 Grand Prix of the United States.

The race, set for Sunday, will feature 19 drivers, including Jim Clark of Scotland, the 1963 world champion.

Clark, in second place in this season's competition, faces stiff opposition from Graham Hill of England, who is leading with 32 points. Hot on Clark's heels is John Shurtees, also of England, with 28 points.

Clark, piloting a Lotus, has compiled 30 points with race victories in Holland, Belgium and Britain and a fourth-place finish at Monaco.

Hill, victor in the event here last year, won the Monaco race May 10 in his BRM, the first of nine point-scoring races in the world-wide Grand Prix circuit. He amassed points in the next six races, but was forced out of the seventh race in Austria in August and bowed out of the Italian race last month because of mechanical trouble.

Shurtees, aboard his Ferrari won the German and Italian races and picked up a second-place finish in Holland and a third-place finish in England.

Two competitors still listed in the running for the 1964 title are Richie Ginther of the United States who has compiled 20 points in a BRM, and Lorenzo Bandini of Italy with 19 points picked up in a Ferrari.

A new racing auto, the Honda of Japan, will make its first appearance in Formula 1 Grand Prix competition. Ronnie Bucknum of California will be the driver.

Other autos to be seen in the 110-lap race which starts at 2 p.m. will be the Brabham and Cooper of England.

Other U.S. drivers include Walt Hansgen in a Lotus, Dan Gurney in a Brabhams and Phil Hill, the 1961 titleholder, in a Cooper.

Practice sessions and time trials will continue from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday.

McKinley Wins

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In the 45th game of a 2-hour and 10-minute match, Chuck McKinley broke John Newcombe's serve and advanced to the quarter-finals of the Pacific Southwest Tennis Championships with a 6-4, 6-8, 12-10 victory.

Terrors Hit League Trail as Dogs Invade Wasson Stadium Tonight

From now on it's playing for keeps for the ever - improving Terrors as they start conference activity in the South Central League tonight against defending SCL champion Pueblo Centennial.

The game is set for a 7:30 p.m. kickoff in Wasson Stadium.

Palmer, which drew a first round bye in league action last weekend while the other South Central teams were all getting their league baptism, goes into the game tonight with two victories and a tie in four warmups.

Centennial, which graduated every one of its starters from the '63 title team, has picked up but one victory in four outings, and among those games was a 12-6 setback at the hands of this year's SCL favorite Pueblo East just last Friday.

In other games around the South Central League this weekend, tonight Colorado Springs' Wasson goes to Pueblo Central, and Trinidad will be heavily favored in playing host to Pueblo South. An interesting nonleague game is on tap Saturday night when Pueblo East is at home to East Denver.

On the basis of the one comparable score, Palmer must rate at least a slight favorite to tumble the Bulldogs for a second time in league play. They both played Lamar of the Southern League with the Terrors managing a come - from-behind 20-17 triumph and Centennial fell before the Savages, 14-13.

This was the closest game the Bulldogs have had this fall, opening with the 19-0 loss to East Denver, winning against Pueblo Catholic by a 25-7 count and tripping twice against Lamar and Pueblo East.

Gone from the Centennial lineup are such stars from yesteryear as quarterback Luther Nava, halfback Bob Armijo and end Wayne Woodyard who all played key roles guiding their team to the crown. But the Bulldogs are still blseed with fine team speed and they present a threat to anyone with their ability to strike with the long play.

Most experienced on the Pueblo club are end Scott Eslinger, who has been converted from quarterback, and fullback John Schiechl, who shared playing time with a senior last season. But the main threat on the long run comes from halfback Jim Brummet, a 160 - pound senior who has about as much speed in the open field as anyone in the league.

It's expected that Palmer will try to control the ball with extended ground drives, much as they have in the four previous games. The Terrors have a definite weight advantage in the line, along with a pair of dependable runners in fullback Ben Bryant and halfback Dennis Bair. Palmer's line averages in at 191 while Centennial ahs a mean of 168 among the forwards.

LEADS TERROR RUNNERS — Fullback Ben Bryant, 173-pound senior, has been carrying a big load of offensive chores for the Terrors of Palmer High this season. Through the first four games, Bryant has carried the ball 82 times or almost twice as many as any other Palmer runner, and he has a fine 4.8 yard average. Bryant is expected to be the main cog in the Terrors attack tonight when they host Pueblo Centennial at Wasson Stadium. (Gazette Telegraph Photo)

Injuries. however, have cut deep into the talents of eth Terrors this fall and they will undoubtedly be felt tonight as Coach Bill Westbay's squad opens the league slate. The tackle position has been most critical and the Tribe has been forced to make a few switches.

Most notable is the switch of regular center Ron Smith, the biggest on the team at 214 pounds, to left tackle in place of Rex Bauer. Bauer, who was hurt in last weekend's 19-19 tie with touted Loveland of the Northern Conference, was actually taking the place of Jesse Bragg, who was slated to start at the beginning of the season.

On the other side of the line, Gary Stockdale is still trying to recover from a head injury suffered two weeks ago against Lamar, but Westbay indicated he would probably start anyway. He'll be replaced on defense, however.

Otherwide the Terrors are healthy coming into the Centennial clash, with the backfield of Bryant, Bair, quarterback Larry Williams and right half Dean Ledger ready for full speed.

The Bulldogs probably will be missing one of the key players in its attack, though, as tackle Charles Mastrini is doubtful because of injury. He is the 'Dogs top placement kicker and a good shot when it comes to all - important extra points and field goals.

Worrying the Terrors the most this week is the passing game of Centennial, however. They aren't bashful a bit about throwing from anyplace on the field and once they test the stout defensive line of Palmer it's possible quarterback Jerry Gutierrez and mates will go to the air quite often.

This pass defense has occuped much of the practice time this week in Terrorland, although the secondary looked the strongest of the season in last week's contest at Loveland. The Indians have one of the finest passers seen in Colorado prep ranks for some time in Dave Hoffman and though he connected on five of 11 attempts for 95 yards — considering his ability to pitch the ball this was a credit to the Palmer defenders.

Perhaps the most surprising thing about Centennial this year was last week's game with East in which they nearly equalled the SCL favorite's yardage in a good match of defense. Although losing by a touchdown, the showing was an indication that nobody will be taking the Bulldogs lightly this season.

So far the Terrors have had good luck at home, beating both Aurora Hinkley and Lamar on the turf of Wasson Stadium.

T-Birds to Play Central

By TOM CUSHMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

PUEBLO — Wasson's error-plagued Thunderbirds, who still occupy the role of a top favorite in the 1964 South Central League race, attack a crucial opponent tonight when the Colo. Springs team battles Pueblo Central in a 7:30 p.m. contest at Public Schools Stadium here.

Gib Funk's junior - dominated team, which will take the field with a vastly different lineup for the third straight week, will still enter the contest as a touchdown favorite and could easily blow the game open if the planned Thunderbird lineup suddenly jells for the first time this fall.

Wasson will carry its worst record in history at this point into tonight's game, but overcoming that fact is the belief by the T - Birds coaches that this unit can eventually be better than any of the five previous Thunderbird teams. Three losses in the first four games were disturbing, but a solid triumph at this point will still probably bring the club toward a successful final record.

Offensive errors and momentary defensive lapses have caused the Thunderbirds no end of misery during the first half of a season that many local followers felt would be one of the school's most successful. In an almost unbelieveable twist, the T-Birds have fumbled 24 times in their first four games, lost 14, and additionally seen possession stray away on five other occasions due to interceptions.

The turning point may have come last Friday in one of the more contrasting efforts ever presented by a Wasson team. The T - Birds, with a fierce offense, appeared on the verge of blasting Pueblo South out of the stadium in the first quarter, but a sudden 57 yard sprint by a South halfback and an ensuing 67 yard return of a recovered fumble gave the obviously outmanned Colts a 14-13 lead and it took a final quarter touchdown for the 'Birds to prevail, 19-14.

Throughout that nightmarish evening, the T - Birds still managed to prove several things. And tonight, Central will undoubtedly be facing the best one - two running combination a Wasson team has ever presented. Fullback Bob Toof, a talented runner both inside and around the flanks, is scheduled for the starting fullback role after setting a school record of 150 net yards on the ground last week. And quarterback Jim Smith, who also has swung out of both halfback slots, will continue his escape artist duties as the offensive leader this evening.

The only change in the backfield comes at left - halfback where Funk expects to open with Rod Wells, who was the quarterback through the first two games. Wells will be flanked by junior Bob Oyler, who was cited for exceptional blocking by his coach after last week's game.

In the line a number of changes will be effected for the third straight week. The lone two starters who will be back in their familiar role will be captain Charlie Steel, who works out of right end, and tackle Yogi Grandcourt. Elsewhere the Thunderbird stratigists have moved junior Budgie Hamilton to left end, junior Larry Friedrichs to left tackle, senior Curtis Kraushaar to left guard, junior Mike Johnston to center, and senior Bill Mueller to right guard.

Wasson will enter the game with last week's 19-14 win over Pueblo South as the team's lone victory. Prior to that the Thunderbirds were defeated by Lakewood and Aurora Central, the two top-ranked teams in the state, and then lost to Arvada West. Central owns a tie with Pueblo Catholic, and lost decisively to both Lakewood and Trinidad.

The Wildcats, like Wasson, are missing the majority of their key players from last year. And Centarl, the 1961 state AAA champion, has had increasing difficulty returning to the offensive proficiency that was characteristic of that club. The Wildcats still have shown flashes of excellent defense, however.

Wasson, on the other hand, has what Funk has termed "potentially the best offensive team we have had at this school." But the 'Birds have had their shy moments defensively and have had the deluge of errors keep the offense from ever getting underway.

Detroit Bettor Gets Record Sum

DETROIT (AP) — A single bettor, who coupled four outsiders, won a record twin daily-double payoff of $48,555.40 Thursday at the Detroit Race Course.

But the only holder among 9,673 with tickets on 5-3-6-3 in the day's last four races did not put in a collection appearance before the mutuel windows closed for the day.

He can collect any time up to a year. The winner of the previous top twin double, $46.413.40. didn't come in to collect until four days after making his hit Aug. 27.

The combination returning the big payoff was made up of Speak Not $19.20), Beachfire ($18.80), Brecada ($17.60) and Policy Maker ($15.20).

Detroit Icers Win Encounter; Howe Shaken Up

DETROIT (AP) — Veteran forward Gordie Howe was knocked groggy and taken to a hospital for observation Thursday night as the Detroit Red Wings romped to a 5-2 hockey victory over a combination of players from their Pittsburgh and Memphis farm clubs.

Howe slid into a goal post late in the game. He was not knocked unconscious, but the team physician sent him to Detroit Osteopathic Hospital anyway for examination and observation.

Terrors Hit League Trail as Dogs Invade Wasson Stadium Tonight

From now on it's playing for keeps for the ever - improving Terrors as they start conference activity in the South Central League tonight against defending SCL champion Pueblo Centennial.

The game is set for a 7:30 p.m. kickoff in Wasson Stadium.

Palmer, which drew a first round bye in league action last weekend while the other South Central teams were all getting their league baptism, goes into the game tonight with two victories and a tie in four warm-ups.

Centennial, which graduated every one of its starters from the '63 title team, has picked up but one victory in four outings, and among those games was a 12-6 setback at the hands of this year's SCL favorite Pueblo East just last Friday.

In other games around the South Central League this weekend, tonight Colorado Springs' Wasson goes to Pueblo Central, and Trinidad will be heavily favored in playing host to Pueblo South. An interesting non-league game is on tap Saturday night when Pueblo East is at home to East Denver.

On the basis of the one comparable score, Palmer must rate at least a slight favorite to tumble the Bulldogs for a second time in league play. They both played Lamar of the Southern League with the Terrors managing a come - from-behind 20-17 triumph and Centennial fell before the Savages, 14-13.

This was the closest game the Bulldogs have had this fall, opening with the 19-0 loss to East Denver, winning against Pueblo Catholic by a 15-7 count and tripping twice against Lamar and Pueblo East.

Gone from the Centennial lineup are such stars from yesteryear as quarterback Luther Nava, halfback Bob Armijo and end Wayne Woodyard who all played key roles guiding their team to the crown. But the Bulldogs are still blseed with fine team speed and they present a threat to anyone with their ability to strike with the long play.

Most experienced on the Pueblo club are end Scott Eslinger, who has been converted from quarterback, and fullback John Schiechl, who shared playing time with a senior last season. But the main threat on the long run comes from halfback Jim Brummet, a 160 - pound senior who has about as much speed in the open field as anyone in the league.

It's expected that Palmer will try to control the ball with extended ground drives, much as they have in the four previous games. The Terrors have a definite weight advantage in the line, along with a pair of dependable runners in fullback Ben Bryant and halfback Dennis Bair. Palmer's line averages in at 191 while Centennial ahs a mean of 168 among the forwards.

Injuries. however, have cut deep into the talents of eth Terrors this fall and they will undoubtedly be felt tonight as Coach Bill Westbay's squad opens the league slate. The tackle position has been most critical and the Tribe has been forced to make a few switches.

Most notable is the switch of regular center Ron Smith, the biggest on the team at 214 pounds, to left tackle in place of Rex Bauer. Bauer, who was hurt in last weekend's 19-19 tie with touted Loveland of the Northern Conference, was actually taking the place of Jesse Bragg, who was slated to start at the beginning of the season.

On the other side of the line, Gary Stockdale is still trying to recover from a head injury suffered two weeks ago against Lamar, but Westbay indicated he would probably start anyway. He'll be replaced on defense, however.

Otherwide the Terrors are healthy coming into the Centennial clash, with the backfield of Bryant, Bair, quarterback Larry Williams and right half Dean Ledger ready for full speed.

The Bulldogs probably will be missing one of the key players in its attack, though, as tackle Charles Mastrini is doubtful because of injury. He is the 'Dogs top placement kicker and a good shot when it comes to all - important extra points and field goals.

Worrying the Terrors the most this week is the passing game of Centennial, however. They aren't bashful a bit about throwing from anyplace on the field and once they test the stout defensive line of Palmer it's possible quarterback Jerry Gutierrez and mates will go to the air quite often.

This pass defense has occupeed much of the practice time this week in Terrorland, although the secondary looked the strongest of the season in last week's contest at Loveland. The Indians have one of the finest passers seen in Colorado prep ranks for some time in Dave Hoffman and though he connected on five of 11 attempts for 95 yards — considering his ability to pitch the ball this was a credit to the Palmer defenders.

Perhaps the most surprising thing about Centennial this year was last week's game with East in which they nearly equalled the SCL favorite's yardage in a good match of defense. Although losing by a touchdown, the showing was an indication that nobody will be taking the Bulldogs lightly this season.

So far the Terrors have had good luck at home, beating both Aurora Hinkley and Lamar on the turf of Wasson Stadium.

LEADS TERROR RUNNERS — Fullback Ben Bryant, 173-pound senior, has been carrying a big load of offensive chores for the Terrors of Palmer High this season. Through the first four games, Bryant has carried the ball 82 times or almost twice as many as any other Palmer runner, and he has a fine 4.8 yard average. Bryant is expected to be the main cog in the Terrors attack tonight when they host Pueblo Centennial at Wasson Stadium. (Gazette Telegraph Photo)

T-Birds to Play Central

By TOM CUSHMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

PUEBLO — Wasson's error-plagued Thunderbirds, who still occupy the role of a top favorite in the 1964 South Central League race, attack a crucial opponent tonight when the Colo. Springs team battles Pueblo Central in a 7:30 p.m. contest at Public Schools Stadium here.

Gib Funk's junior - dominated team, which will take the field with a vastly different lineup for the third straight week, will still enter the contest as a touchdown favorite and could easily blow the game open if the planned Thunderbird lineup suddenly jells for the first time this fall.

Wasson will carry its worst record in history at this point into tonight's game, but overcoming that fact is the belief by the T - Birds coaches that this unit can eventually be better than any of the five previous Thunderbird teams. Three losses in the first four games were disturbing, but a solid triumph at this point will still probably bring the club toward a successful final record.

Offensive errors and momentary defensive lapses have caused the Thunderbirds no end of misery during the first half of a season that many local followers felt would be one of the school's most successful. In an almost unbelieveable twist, the T-Birds have fumbled 24 times in their first four games, lost 14, and additionally seen possession stray away on five other occasions due to interceptions.

The turning point may have come last Friday in one of the more contrasting efforts ever presented by a Wasson team. The T - Birds, with a fierce offense, appeared on the verge of blasting Pueblo South out of the stadium in the first quarter, but a sudden 57 yard sprint by a South halfback and an ensuing 67 yard return of a recovered fumble gave the obviously outmanned Colts a 14-13 lead and it took a final quarter touchdown for the 'Birds to prevail, 19-14.

Throughout that nightmarish evening, the T - Birds still managed to prove several things. And tonight, Central will undoubtedly be facing the best one - two running combination a Wasson team has ever presented. Fullback Bob Toof, a talented runner both inside and around the flanks, is scheduled for the starting fullback role after setting a school record of 150 net yards on the ground last week. And quarterback Jim Smith, who also has swung out of both halfback slots, will continue his escape artist duties as the offensive leader this evening.

The only change in the backfield comes at left - halfback where Funk expects to open with Rod Wells, who was the quarterback through the first two games. Wells will be flanked by junior Bob Oyler, who was cited for exceptional blocking by his coach after last week's game.

In the line a number of changes will be effected for the third straight week. The lone two starters who will be back in their familiar role will be captain Charlie Steel, who works out of right end, and tackle Yogi Grandcourt. Elsewhere the Thunderbird stratigists have moved junior Budgie Hamilton to left end, junior Larry Friedrichs to left tackle, senior Curtis Kraushaar to left guard, junior Mike Johnston to center, and senior Bill Mueller to right guard.

Wasson will enter the game with last week's 19-14 win over Pueblo South as the team's lone victory. Prior to that the Thunderbirds were defeated by Lakewood and Aurora Central, the two top-ranked teams in the state, and then lost to Arvada West. Central owns a tie with Pueblo Catholic, and lost decisively to both Lakewood and Trinidad.

The Wildcats, like Wasson, are missing the majority of their key players from last year. And Centarl, the 1961 state AAA champion, has had increasing difficulty returning to the offensive proficiency that was characteristic of that club. The Wildcats still have shown flashes of excellent defense, however.

Wasson, on the other hand, has what Funk has termed "potentially the best offensive team we have had at this school." But the 'Birds have had their shy moments defensively and have had the deluge of errors keep the offense from ever getting underway.

Detroit Bettor Gets Record Sum

But the only holder among 9,673 with tickets on 5-3-6-3 in the day's last four races did not put in a collection appearance before the mutuel windows closed for the day.

He can collect any time up to a year. The winner of the previous top twin double, $46,413.40, didn't come in to collect until four days after making his hit Aug. 27.

The combination returning the big payoff was made up of Speak Not $19.20), Beachfire ($18.80), Brecada ($17.60) and Policy Maker ($15.20).

Detroit Icers Win Encounter; Howe Shaken Up

DETROIT (AP) — Veteran forward Gordie Howe was knocked groggy and taken to a hospital for observation Thursday night as the Detroit Red Wings romped to a 5-2 hockey victory over a combination of players from their Pittsburgh and Memphis farm clubs.

Howe slid into a goal post late in the game. He was not knocked unconscious, but the team physician sent him to Detroit Osteopathic Hospital anyway for examination and observation.

Salida, Florence Game Tops Pikes Peak Slate

Fountain is almost a certainty to stay in front as the Pikes Peak League race enters its second week tonight. The Trojans will have a number of traveling companions, but the exact figure is unknown.

Salida and Florence, both tied with Fountain, square off at Florence to knock one team from the highest perch. Manitou Springs, early member of the PPL quadrumvirate, will have to buckle down to get past Buena Vista at Manitou Springs.

Fountain prepares for what could be an easy Homecoming win or a surprising upset. Fowler is rated as a "scrappy team" by Fountain coaches, but has a stronger unit than its 0-4 record indicates.

In Saturday's only contest, Leadville travels to Crowley County. Both are winless in PPL play. Crowley County has not yet scored a point.

Trojan coach Joe Keegan still is without halfback Jim Daniels, who has not recovered from a leg injury suffered before the season started. And end Terry Kent, also student body president, was injured in a car accident last weekend and will not play.

Keegan does have slotback Dan Grigsby back in almost perfect health. Halfback Steve Gerliman is expected to carry some of the running chores.

Salida coach Don Schmidli expects Florence to give his Spartans one of their toughest battles. Schmidli's running crew is led by 230-pound fullback Ken Williams and tailback Keith Baker. Williams has been defensed heavily by opponents and has been used most effectively as a decoy for Baker. However, Williams gained 150 yards in the second half against Crowley County.

Florence will counter with Dick Shadwell, who scored 25 points against Fowler last week. Shadwell is fast, especially if he can get blocking at the corner.

Manitou faces a Buena Vista team that will be out to avenge last week's 34-0 humiliation pinned on it by Fountain. The Demons had not lost a game in pre-district play. But coach Larry Olsen has some fine runners in Danny Wheeler, John Moore and Larry McIntyre to put against Buena Vista in hopes of making the district race a three-team affair for the second week.

Three Sophs In Backfield For Colorado

By United press International

Colorado coach Eddie Crowder was counting on three sophomores in his backfield today as the Buffalos looked toward their weekend encounter with Kansas State.

Crowder designated sophomore Bernie McCall for the quarterback's job on the No. 1 offensive unit. The other sophomores are Robert Lee at tailback and Terry McCarthy at fullback. Senior Bill Symons was scheduled to start at slotback.

The Buffalos will be facing the second leading punter in the nation in the game with Kansas State Saturday at Boulder. Doug Dusenbury, a senior halfback, has a 45.2 average for six kicks. Dusenbury last year was the Big Eight Conference leading punter.

Dusenbury and Denby Blackwell, a senior end, have been named co-captains for the Wildcats in the Colorado game.

At Ames, Iowa, coach Clay Stapleton has moved two nonlettermen into his lineup for Saturday's clash with Nebraska. George Maurer, a sophomore, and Ken Pigoot, a junior were moved to starting end positions.

A 36-man squad from Oklahoma State was designated to travel by plane to Columbia, Mo., Friday for the Cowboy's game wih Missouri on Saturday.

Oklahoma State coach Phil Cutchin said his team has "nursed a few bruises during the week but everybody should be ready by kickoff time."

Missouri coach Dan Devine would not say as much about his team. He said Charlie Brown, a first-string halfback, would be a doubtful starter Saturday.

Kansas coach Jack Mitchell said Thursday that reserves Sims Stokes, a halfback, and Harold Montgomery, a tackle, were on the doubtful list for his game with Wyoming.

Oklahoma, not scheduled this weekend, prepared for powerful Texas Oct. 10.

Cheyenne, Academy High Favored To Win Opening WRL Tilts Tonight

By CHARLIE DREUX
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

Cheyenne Mountain and Air Academy High are heavy favorites to win their Will Rogers League openers tonight as the newly formed Triple-A loop gets into swing with two outings.

The 1963 State Double-A champion Cheyenne journeys across town to tangle with Harrison in the only WRL area game, and Terry Mackey's talented Kadets are the guests of Canon City. Both games are slated to start at 7:30 p.m.

Saturday's agenda calls for a non-conference game for the vastly improved Gladiators of Widefield as they seek their third victory this season against the highly touted Pueblo Catholic eleven. That game is scheduled for Pueblo Public School Stadium at 2 p.m.

Despite the fact that the Indians, under the new management of former University of Missouri freshman coach Guy Barickman, have dropped two games in their four-game nonloop slate, the Cheyenne gridders are favored to clinch the WRL championship.

The Kadets have the personnel capable of moving the ball behind a seasoned forward wall but the Academy High aggregation has the chore of stopping Cheyenne's ramrod-fullback Greg Cramblit. Even though both Cheyenne and Academy High could encounter trouble from the other three teams, the showdown for the WRL crown is scheduled for Oct. 9 when these two grid giants meet at the Kadets' home field.

Mackey's charges have recorded an impressive preleague record, recording three wins in four outings. After dropping their campaign opener to Boulder Fairview, the Big Blue of Academy High scored three straight decisive victories over Thornton, Castle Rock and Pueblo South of the established South Central League.

The Kadets have an explosive backfield led by Rhode Island transfer student Bill Wood, the speedy halfback who leads the team in rushing and scoring, and fullback Roger Karolick and haflback Lynn Montague.

Canon City will count heavily on its ground gaining mainstay halfback Dennis Meese, who is undoubtedly the fastest runner in the WRL circuit. In addition the Tigers have 205-pound fullback Tom Firestack and halfback Mickey Gann.

Bob Irving has been able to enjoy a 3-1 won-loss record in non-league play in his first year at Harrison. Irving has a young team but the pesky Panthers have improved with each game via the leadership and passing of junior quarterback Bill Doud and halfback Jerry Williams.

However, the Panthers will have their hands full trying to stop Cramblit. Cramblit has the power and speed to make him a scoring threat and the Indians also have two capable halfbacks including Rich McCurdy and Doug Heyliger.

The Widefield-Pueblo Catholic game rates as a toss-up. This is the third straight tough opponent the Gladiators have faced and they could pull out the victory if they display the same aggressiveness which accounted for an overwhelming 33-13 win over Westminster last week.

Dave Theiss will direct the Glads' offensive attack at quarterback with halfback Eldon Lee and fullback Tom Nigbur handling most of the running chores. Dave Kindsfater, who scored two TDs against Westminster and picked up 99 yards rushing, Steve Hughes and Steve Rhodes will also see action at halfback.

Red Sox Fire Pesky; Name Herman New Manager

The news came in a statement from Mike Higgins, vice president and general manager whom Pesky had followed as manager two years ago.

Higgins said Herman had been signed to a two-year contract. Salary terms were not disclosed.

Pesky had been hired on a season-to-season basis.

Herman was one of the great second basemen in the National League with the Chicago Cubs and Brooklyn Dodgers, from 1931 through 1964. He had his only other big league managerial opportunity in 1947.

He was acquired by Pittsburgh in a multi-player swap with the Boston Braves that year. Under his partial-season direction the Pirates wound up in a seventh-place tie.

Herman had single season managing jobs with Minneapolis and Richmond minor league clubs, then was a coach with the Dodgers and Milwaukee Braves before joining the Red Sox in 1960.

has finished deep in the second division for six straight years and is now in eighth place — lowest in the three decades of Thomas A. Yawkey's ownership.

Herman, 55, holds several major league and National League records as a second baseman. He also had brief stints at third and first. His lifetime batting average was .304, highlighted by a .341 at Chicago in 1935.

He played in four World Series and batted .433 in 10 All-Star games.

In a statement, Higgins said: "After serious consideration, Mr. Yawkey and I have decided that it is in the best interests of the Red Sox to make a mapagerial change. The final decision was made last Saturday, Sept. 26.

"This decision is not, in any way, intended as a reflection on Johnny Pesky personally. We know him as a very fine gentleman."

Higgins said there is no opening at the present time in the Red Sox minor league system to offer Pesky a position there.

KUALA LUMPUR—Malaysia

Marlene Hagge Takes Ladies PGA Golf Lead

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — "I was having a little trouble putting until just lately," said Marlene Bauer Hagge, "but it's getting better now."

As a matter of fact, it couldn't get much better than it was Thursday, when Mrs. Hagge shot four consecutive birdies on the back nine and tied a tournament record with a four-under-par 67 in the first round of the $15,000 Ladies' PGA Golf Championship.

She finished the round one stroke ahead of Mary Mills of Ocean Springs, Miss., and two shots ahead of Sandra Haynie of Phoenix, Ariz. Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., was next at 70 and there was a three-way tie at 71 among Ruth Jessen of Bonsall, Calif., Jo Ann Prentice of Perdido Bay, Fla., and Shirley Englehorn of Los Angeles.

Defending champion Mickey Wright of Dallas shot a 72.

Mrs. Hagge, playing out of Perdido Bay, covered the first nine in par-35.

This Game's Easy

In case anyone recalls several furtive hints of impending failure which appeared in this space a week ago — dismiss them from your mind. After one week as a member of the football forecaster clan, I am convinced that Major Hoople was correct. Nothing is as easy as picking winners in football games!

Although my bank balance has not properly reflected this newly-discovered skill in the past, there can be no question of the cooperation I received from area high school teams last Friday and Saturday. The only better winning percentage that I know of this week was Johnny Keane's, and he had considerable help from that big cavity on the right side of the Philadelphia infield.

At any rate, the first week resulted in 30 correct guesses in 36 attempts, or a percentage of .833. In addition there was only one phone call and this fellow simply wanted to know if we were booking anything besides football games. Seems he was some sort of a whiz at Chinese checkers and he had ideas of hustling a local tournament.

As for the percentage, I have been properly instructed in the pitfalls of parading such figures before the public. My plan for avoiding any embarrassment in later weeks is simple: any untidy figures will be eliminated.

Last week's errors did include a pair of local embarrassments. Palmer's 19-19 tie with Loveland had me either way. And I don't think there's any sense going into the Widefield - Westminster debacle. If the Gladiators' feelings were hurt, they can sooth themselves with the knowledge that Westminster's bruises are somewhat more physical.

But, on to this week's chore:

AREA

PALMER 20 CENTENNIAL 7 — Bill Westbay's Terrors definitely won their spurs last weekend and should now be well-equipped to ride a Bulldog.

WASSON 19 PUEBLO CENTRAL 6 — If you see the managers carrying buckets onto the field in Pueblo tonight, they will probably not be filled with water. In fact, Gib Funk has had his backs experimenting with several conveyances for the football this week. If they hold on to the ball this evening, the Wildcats probably won't have much chance to get their hands on it.

TRINIDAD 20 PUEBLO SOUTH 0 — The Colts have some frisky backs, but the Miners are most uncooperative when it comes to providing running room.

PUEBLO EAST 14 EAST DENVER 12 — The Angels the Texans'. Both are bothered by quarterbacking problems probably aren't as bad as they have looked but East still looks a little bit better.

AIR ACADEMY HIGH 20 CANON CITY 6 — The Kadets have to get back to work after last week's frolic, but the most difficult chores are still ahead.

CHEYENNE MOUNTAIN 27 HARRISON 12 — Harrison has the better non-league record but while the Panthers were playing teacher, the Indians were learning some sound lessons from superior opposition.

PUEBLO CATHOLIC 13 WIDEFIELD 7 — After last week's experience, I imagine Coach Norm Theiss will be delighted to have me pick the Gladiators to lose.

FOUNTAIN 28 FOWLER 0 — The Trojans have been the area's top surprise thus far and Fowler figures to be among the more startled of the victims.

MANITOU SPRINGS 13 BUENA VISTA 6 — Football seasons have been long in Manitou the past few years, but the new prep alignment should shorten this one for the Mustangs.

Other area games: Alamosa over Rocky Ford, La Junta over Pueblo County, Lamar over Las Animas, Salida over Florence, Crowley County over Leadville, Canon City Abbey over Fountain Valley.

Salida, Florence Game Tops Pikes Peak Slate

Fountain is almost a certainty to stay in front as the Pikes Peak League race enters its second week tonight. The Trojans will have a number of traveling companions, but the exact figure is unknown.

Salida and Florence, both tied with Fountain, square off at Florence to knock one team from the highest perch. Manitou Springs, early member of the PPL quadrumvirate, will have to buckle down to get past Buena Vista at Manitou Springs.

Fountain prepares for what could be an easy Homecoming win or a surprising upset. Fowler is rated as a "scrappy team" by Fountain coaches, but has a stronger unit than its 0-4 record indicates.

In Saturday's only contest, Leadville travels to Crowley County. Both are winless in PPL play. Crowley County has not yet scored a point.

Trojan coach Joe Keegan still is without halfback Jim Daniels, who has not recovered from a leg injury suffered before the season started. And end Terry Kent, also student body president, was injured in a car accident last weekend and will not play.

Keegan does have slotback Dan Grigsby back in almost perfect health. Halfback Steve Gerliman is expected to carry some of the running chores.

Salida coach Don Schmidli expects Florence to give his Spartans one of their toughest battles. Schmidli's running crew is led by 230-pound fullback Ken Williams and tailback Keith Baker. Williams has been defensed heavily by opponents and has been used most effectively as a decoy for Baker. However, Williams gained 150 yards in the second half against Crowley County.

Florence will counter with Dick Shadwell, who scored 25 points against Fowler last week. Shadwell is fast, especially if he can get blocking at the corner.

Manitou faces a Buena Vista team that will be out to avenge last week's 34-0 humiliation pinned on it by Fountain. The Demons had not lost a game in pre-district play. But coach Larry Olsen has some fine runners in Danny Wheeler, John Moore and Larry McIntyre to put against Buena Vista in hopes of making the district race a three-team affair for the second week.

Three Sophs in Backfield For Colorado

By United press International

Colorado coach Eddie Crowder was counting on three sophomores in his backfield today as the Buffalos looked toward their weekend encounter with Kansas State.

Crowder designated sophomore Bernie McCall for the quarterback's job on the No. 1 offensive unit. The other sophomores are Robert Lee at tailback and Terry McCarthy at fullback. Senior Bill Symons was scheduled to start at slotback.

The Buffalos will be facing the second leading punter in the nation in the game with Kansas State Saturday at Boulder. Doug Dusenbury, a senior halfback, has a 45.2 average for six kicks. Dusenbury last year was the Big Eight Conference leading punter.

Dusenbury and Denby Blackwell, a senior end, have been named co - captains for the Wildcats in the Colorado game.

At Ames, Iowa, coach Clay Stapleton has moved two nonlettermen into his lineup for Saturday's clash with Nebraska. George Maurer, a sophomore, and Ken Pigoot, a junior were moved to starting end positions.

A 36 - man squad from Oklahoma State was designated to travel by plane to Columbia, Mo., Friday for the Cowboy's game wih Missouri on Saturday.

Oklahoma State coach Phil Cutchin said his team has "nursed a few bruises during the week but everybody should be ready by kickoff time."

Missouri coach Dan Devine would not say as much a b o u t his team. He said Charlie Brown, a first - string halfback, would be a doubtful starter Saturday.

Kansas coach Jack Mitchell said Thursday that reserves Sims Stokes, a halfback, and Harold Montgomery, a tackle, were on the doubtful list for his game with Wyoming.

Oklahoma, not scheduled this weekend, prepared for powerful Texas Oct. 10.

Cheyenne, Academy High Favored To Win Opening WRL Tilts Tonight

By CHARLIE DREUX
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

Cheyenne Mountain and Air Academy High are heavy favorites to win their Will Rogers League openers tonight as the newly formed Triple-A loop gets into swing with two outings.

The 1963 State Double-A champion Cheyenne journeys across town to tangle with Harrison in the only WRL area game, and Terry Mackey's talented Kadets are the guests of Canon City. Both games are slated to start at 7:30 p.m.

Saturday's agenda calls for a non-conference game for the vastly improved Gladiators of Widefield as they seek their third victory this season against the highly touted Pueblo Catholic eleven. That game is scheduled for Pueblo Public School Stadium at 2 p.m.

Despite the fact that the Indians, under the new management of former University of Missouri freshman coach Guy Barickman, have dropped two games in their four-game nonloop slate, the Cheyenne gridders are favored to clinch the WRL championship.

The Kadets have the personnel capable of moving the ball behind a seasoned forward wall but the Academy High aggregation has the chore of stopping Cheyenne's ramrod - fullback Greg Cramblit. Even though both Cheyenne and Academy High could encounter trouble from the other three teams, the showdown for the WRL crown is scheduled for Oct. 9 when these two grid giants meet at the Kadets' home field.

Mackey's charges have recorded an impressive preleague record, recording three wins in four outings. After dropping their campaign opener to Boulder Fairview, the Big Blue of Academy High scored three straight decisive victories over Thornton, Castle Rock and Pueblo South of the established South Central League.

The Kadets have an explosive backfield led by Rhode Island transfer student Bill Wood, the speedy halfback who leads the team in rushing and scoring, and fullback Roger Karolick and haflback Lynn Montague.

Canon City will count heavily on its ground gaining mainstay halfback Dennis Meese, who is undoubtedly the fastest runner in the WRL circuit. In addition the Tigers have 205-pound fullback Tom Firestack and halfback Mickey Gann.

Bob Irving has been able to enjoy a 3-1 won-loss record in non-league play in his first year at Harrison. Irving has a young team but the pesky Panthers have improved with each game via the leadership and passing of junior quarterback Bill Doud and halfback Jerry Williams.

However, the Panthers will have their hands full trying to stop Cramblit. Cramblit has the power and speed to make him a scoring threat and the Indians also have two capable halfbacks including Rich McCurdy and Doug Heyliger.

The Widefield-Pueblo Catholic game rates as a toss-up. This is the third straight tough opponent the Gladiators have faced and they could pull out the victory if they display the same aggressiveness which accounted for an overwhelming 33-13 win over Westminster last week.

Dave Theiss will direct the Glads' offensive attack at quarterback with halfback Eldon Lee and fullback Tom Nigbur handling most of the running chores. Dave Kindsfater, who scored two TDs against Westminster and picked up 99 yards rushing, Steve Hughes and Steve Rhodes will also see action at halfback.

Red Sox Fire Pesky; Name Herman New Manager

The news came in a statement from Mike Higgins, vice president and general manager whom Pesky had followed as manager two years ago.

Higgins said Herman had been signed to a two-year contract. Salary terms were not disclosed.

Pesky had been hired on a season-to-season basis.

Herman was one of the great second basemen in the National League with the Chicago Cubs and Brooklyn Dodgers, from 1931 through 1964. He had his only other big league managerial opportunity in 1947.

He was acquired by Pittsburgh in a multi-player swap with the Boston Braves that year. Under his partial-season direction the Pirates wound up in a seventh-place tie.

Herman had single season managing jobs with Minneapolis and Richmond minor league clubs, then was a coach with the Dodgers and Milwaukee Braves before joining the Red Sox in 1960.

He has finished deep in the second division for six straight years and is now in eighth place — lowest in the three decades of Thomas A. Yawkey's ownership.

Herman, 55, holds several major league and National League records as a second baseman. He also had brief stints at third and first. His lifetime batting average was .304, highlighted by a .341 at Chicago in 1935.

He played in four World Series and batted .433 in 10 All-Star games.

In a statement, Higgins said: "After serious consideration, Mr. Yawkey and I have decided that it is in the best interests of the Red Sox to make a mapagerial change. The final decision was made last Saturday, Sept. 26.

"This decision is not, in any way, intended as a reflection on Johnny Pesky personally. We know him as a very fine gentleman."

Higgins said there is no opening at the present time in the Red Sox minor league system to offer Pesky a position there.

Marlene Hagge Takes Ladies PGA Golf Lead

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — "I was having a little trouble putting until just lately," said Marlene Bauer Hagge, "but it's getting better now."

As a matter of fact, it couldn't get much better than it was Thursday, when Mrs. Hagge shot four consecutive birdies on the back nine and tied a tournament record with a four-under-par 67 in the first round of the $15,000 Ladies' PGA Golf Championship.

She finished the round one stroke ahead of Mary Mills of Ocean Springs, Miss., and two shots ahead of Sandra Haynie of Phoenix, Ariz. Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., was next at 70 and there was a three-way tie at 71 among Ruth Jessen of Bonsall, Calif., Jo Ann Prentice of Perdido Bay, Fla., and Shirley Englehorn of Los Angeles.

Defending champion Mickey Wright of Dallas shot a 72.

Mrs. Hagge, playing out of Perdido Bay, covered the first nine in par-35.

This Game's Easy

In case anyone recalls several furtive hints of impending failure which appeared in this space a week ago — dismiss them from your mind. After one week as a member of the football forecaster clan, I am convinced that Major Hoople was correct. Nothing is as easy as picking winners in football games!

Although my bank balance has not properly reflected this newly-discovered skill in the past, there can be no question of the cooperation I received from area high school teams last Friday and Saturday. The only better winning percentage that I know of this week was Johnny Keane's, and he had considerable help from that big cavity on the right side of the Philadelphia infield.

At any rate, the first week resulted in 30 correct guesses in 36 attempts, or a percentage of .833. In addition there was only one phone call and this fellow simply wanted to know if we were booking anything besides football games. Seems he was some sort of a whiz at Chinese checkers and he had ideas of hustling a local tournament.

As for the percentage, I have been properly instructed in the pitfalls of parading such figures before the public. My plan for avoiding any embarrassment in later weeks is simple: any untidy figures will be eliminated.

Last week's errors did include a pair of local embarrassments. Palmer's 19-19 tie with Loveland had me either way. And I don't think there's any sense going into the Widefield - Westminster debacle. If the Gladiators' feelings were hurt, they can sooth themselves with the knowledge that Westminster's bruises are somewhat more physical.

But, on to this week's chore:

AREA

PALMER 20 CENTENNIAL 7 — Bill Westbay's Terrors definitely won their spurs last weekend and should now be well-equipped to ride a Bulldog.

WASSON 19 PUEBLO CENTRAL 6 — If you see the managers carrying buckets onto the field in Pueblo tonight, they will probably not be filled with water. In fact, Gib Funk has had his backs experimenting with several conveyances for the football this week. If they hold on to the ball this evening, the Wildcats probably won't have much chance to get their hands on it.

TRINIDAD 20 PUEBLO SOUTH 0 — The Colts have some frisky backs, but the Miners are most uncooperative when it comes to providing running room.

PUEBLO EAST 14 EAST DENVER 12 — The Angels the 'Texans'. Both are bothered by quarterbacking problems probably aren't as bad as they have looked but East still looks a little bit better.

AIR ACADEMY HIGH 20 CANON CITY 6 — The Kadets have to get back to work after last week's frolic, but the most difficult chores are still ahead.

CHEYENNE MOUNTAIN 27 HARRISON 12 — Harrison has the better non - league record but while the Panthers were playing teacher, the Indians were learning some sound lessons from superior opposition.

PUEBLO CATHOLIC 13 WIDEFIELD 7 — After last week's experience, I imagine Coach Norm Theiss will be delighted to have me pick the Gladiators to lose.

FOUNTAIN 28 FOWLER 0 — The Trojans have been the area's top surprise thus far and Fowler figures to be among the more startled of the victims.

MANITOU SPRINGS 13 BUENA VISTA 6 — Football seasons have been long in Manitou the past few years, but the new prep alignment should shorten this one for the Mustangs.

Other area games: Alamosa over Rocky Ford, La Junta over Pueblo County, Lamar over Las Animas, Salida over Florence, Crowley County over Leadville, Canon City Abbey over Fountain Valley.

French Gals Take Golf Tourney Lead

By GARVEN HUDGINS

PARIS (AP) — Three, spirited French girls today will have a chance decisively to widen a narrow lead they hold over the U. S. team in the Women's World Golf Championship.

In a generally lackluster first round of the tournament being played over the 5,933-yard St. Germain course, only one player —France's 19-year-old Catherine LaCoste — matched par with a 72 score.

The stocky French girl, daughter of former French tennis star Rene LaCoste, appeared to have little trouble in her approach shots and putting, and barely missed a birdie on the 18th green when her putt rolled around the lip of the cup.

Together with French national champion Claudine Cros and French international champion Brigitte Varangot, Miss LaCoste posted a team score of 147, one point in front of the U. S. and British three-women teams, both with 148.

A combination of bad approach shots and unlucky putting dogged the American team of Carol Sorenson of Janesville, Wis., winner of the 1964 British Women's Amateur Golf Championship, blonde Barbara Fay White of Shreveport, La., and Barbara McIntire, U. S. women's champion from Colorado Springs, Colo.

The first bad news came when Miss McIntire shot an 80. Miss Sorenson came in next with a 75 and Miss White finished with a 73, one stroke behind Miss LaCoste.

Only the two best scores count for the team total.

"This game is like baseball or any other sport," said Miss Sorenson. "If you get into trouble, you just have to pay for it. I misplayed one shot into the bush and three-putted two greens on the first round. I know I can play better."

The tournament runs four days with the final round Sunday.

Balding, McGowan Lead Fresno by Two Strokes

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — The mercury soared and the wind came up, but Jack McGowan and Al Balding played it cool to breeze into the second round of the $35,000 Fresno Open Golf Tournament Thursday with a two-stroke edge on their nearest opponent.

And defending champion Mason Rudolph, with a bogey-ridden first round 77, was a full 10 strokes back of the other tournament favorites were little better off.

Luck smiled on young McGowan, although he has never won a big tournament since joining the pro tour in 1960, and Balding, Canadian three-time PGA champion, as they played their opening round in perfect weather and putted for five birdies apiece on smooth greens unmarred by later heavy traffic.

The wind came up shortly after they finished and late starters, including Rudolph and other top contenders, started having their troubles on the bumpy greens.

McGowan, a wiry little tiger from Toledo, Ohio, made his score by reeling off five consecutive birdies on the front side, then filled the rest of his card with steady pars.

Balding toured the slightly more difficult back side in four under 32 and had only one bogey on his card.

Another shot back were rookie George Archer, Canadian Bob Panasiuk, Doug Sanders and Bob Bruno.

Rudolph, who came to Fresno as the favorite after finishing second at Seattle and third at Portland the preceding tournaments, was ruined by bogeys. The bespectacled Clarksville, Tenn., native admitted being in a temporary slump, but contended "the score isn't necessarily fatal."

Mathematical Experts Figure Reds, Phils Cannot Tie; Cards Pace Loop

CINCINNATI (AP) — Whatever may happen in the National League pennant race the next few days, the league is ready.

League President Warren Giles flipped a coin Thursday to start the drawing for pairing teams in case of a two, three or four-team playoff.

The National League has had four playoffs since 1946 — all of them involving the world champion Dodgers, who are not even in contention this season. The scramble now is among the St. Louis Cardinals, Cincinnati Reds, Philadelphia Phils and the San Francisco Giants.

The first-place Cardinals were idle Thursday night, while the Reds moved to within a half-game of the lead by beating Pittsburgh. The Phillies, 2½ games behind St. Louis, also were idle and the Giants, now three games out, defeated Houston.

In the event of a two-team playoff, the first game will be played Monday in the city which won the draw. The next two, if both were necessary, would be played in the other city.

Here are those possibilities:

If Cincinnati and St. Louis tie, the first game will be played in Cincinnati.

If St. Louis and Philadelphia tie, the first game will be played in Philadelphia.

The mathematical experts in league headquarters figured out the Reds and the Phils cannot tie.

In the event of a three-team tie, there will be a round robin playoff until two teams have lost two games.

There are three possibilities. One would involve St. Louis, Philadelphia and San Francisco. In that event the opening round would have Philadelphia at St. Louis, St. Louis at San Francisco and San Francisco at Philadelphia.

If no team has been eliminated by that time, lots will be drawn to determine the teams by number and the same schedule will be resumed. If one has been eliminated, lots will be drawn to determine the site of the final playoff between the two remaining teams.

That will apply in any three-team playoff.

If the three-team playoff should involve St. Louis, Philadelphia and Cincinnati, the first round will have Cincinnati at Philadelphia, St. Louis at Cincinnati an Philadelphia at St. Louis.

If it would involve St. Louis, San Francisco and Cincinnati, the first round would have Cincinnati at San Francisco, St. Louis at Cincinnati and San Francisco at St. Louis.

If the three-team playoff should involve St. Louis, Philadelphia and Cincinnati, the first round will have Cincinnati at Philadelphia, St. Louis at Cincinnati and Philadelphia at St. Louis.

If it would involve St. Louis, San Francisco and Cincinnati, the first round would have Cincinnati at San Francisco, St. Louis at Cincinnati and San Francisco at St. Louis.

Then there is the remote possibility of the four-team playoff.

In that event San Francisco will open at Cincinnati with the remaining two games, if both are necessary, at San Francisco. St. Louis will open at Philadelphia under the same arrangement.

The two winners then would meet with a drawing to be made later as to which would open at home.

This was the most involved playoff arrangement in the history of the league. Three teams — St. Louis, Cincinnati and Philadelphia already are in the process of having World Series tickets printed.

There will be no days off between games in any playoff and the first games will be played Monday — the day after the end of the regular season.

Bills Seek Fourth Win; Rams-Colts Tilt Tops NFL

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lou Saban, coach of Buffalo's unbeaten Bills, has a new but far more welcome set of worries.

"That's three we don't have to try and get back later," he said in discussing the Bills' three-game winning string. "It's an awful nice feeling. Now I can confine my worrying to continuing the winning string instead of worrying about breaking a losing one."

The Bills put that string, and hopes of at least temporary control of the top spot in the American Football League's Eastern Division on the line in one of two Saturday night games that opens the pro football weekend.

The Bills are at home to winless Oakland while New York's Jets hope for a crowd of 60,000 in Shea Stadium for a Saturday date with San Diego.

The rest of the action is scheduled Sunday, with the visit of the surprising Los Angeles Rams to Baltimore probably the most interesting of the lot.

The rest of the National Football League schedule has St. Louis at Washington, Dallas at Cleveland, Chicago at San Francisco, Pittsburgh at Philadelphia, Minnesota at Green Bay and New York at Detroit. In the AFL it's Houston at Kansas City and Boston at Denver.

Buffalo has rookie Joe Auer replacing Wray Carlton as the running mate of fullback Cookie Gilchrist. The Bills could be hurt by the injury loss of defensive tackle Tom Keating. Oakland is still waiting for Clem Daniels to show his explosive 1963 form.

San Diego will be in improved physical condition for the date with the Jets. Halfback Paul Lowe, out for two weeks, is expected back and defensive tackle Ernie Ladd is now ready for fulltime duty.

The big one Sunday has passing ace Johnny Unitas of the Colts vs. the Rams' fearsome defensive unit.

Berra Bemoans Rainout Hurts Yanks Title Bid

NEW YORK (AP) — Yogi Berra, itching for a sip of champagne but still dry, was bemoaning rain after his New York Yankees, on the threshold of their 29th American League pennant, had dropped a twinbill to the Detroit Tigers and extended the AL race at least one more day.

"That rainout killed us," Berra said. "It forced us into back-to-back doubleheaders and they're always tough."

Oriole Rookie Faster on Road Than on Mound

BALTIMORE (AP) — Rookie Wally Bunker of the Baltimore Orioles wants to be known for his speed on the pitching mound rather than speed on the highways.

The 19-year-old pitching sensation, with a 19-5 record, was convicted of speeding in Baltimore Municipal Court Thursday. But Magistrate William M. Hudnet suspended a $10 fine and dismissed a reckless driving charge. Bunker paid the $2 court costs.

Bunker and Frank Bertaina, another rookie pitcher who was in Bunker's new sports car during a police chase, huddled with Manager Hank Bauer and Oriole President Lee MacPhail when they arrived at Memorial Stadium Thursday night.

THE NEW HONDA
Trail 90

A brand-New, all-new trail machine with power to spare for the great outdoors. Its 4-stroke, 90cc powerplant makes it 30% more powerful than the famous Honda Trail 55. It can carry heavier loads over rougher terrain than any other trail bike in the business. With a simple chain adjustment, the Trail 90 can do an honest 56 mph out on the open road. And go 160 miles on a gallon of gasoline. A rugged tube-framed skid plate; a four-speed with automatic clutch; and the famous Honda 46:1 gear ratio that lets you climb a 50% hillside. As for price: $379.00 makes the new Honda Trail 90 the best trail buy on the market today.

change in the DPL format, it calls for St. Mary's to whip Mullen, Regis to beat St. Mary's, and Mullen to defeat Regis. This could be the top game of the fall in the conference.

UPSTATE AAA

GRAND JUNCTION 14 BOULDER 7 — South Central League teams couldn't have selected a better year to vote the Tigers out of the conference. Boulder should find out about that "long ride back across the mountains."

GEORGE WASHINGTON 14 SOUTH DENVER 0 — This matches two unbeaten teams, but Washington hasn't even yielded a touchdown.

LAKEWOOD 45 JEFFERSON 0 — The only thing that will slow down the Tigers is exhaustion from running across the goal line.

Others: Jeffco League — Arvada over Alameda, Wheat Ridge over Golden, Arvada West over Bear Creek.

Centennial League — Englewood over Cherry Creek, Aurora Central over Arapahoe, Littleton over Aurora Hinkley.

Northern League — Loveland over Greeley, Poudre Valley over Fort Morgan, Fort Collins over Sterling, Thomas Jefferson (Denver League) over Longmont.

Denver League — Lincoln over West Denver, North Denver over Manual.

Skyline League — Thornton over Westminster, Adams City over Mapleton, Fairview over Ranum.

Southwestern League — Durango over Delta, Montrose over Grand Junction Central. Cortez over Rio Grande, N. M. (non-league).

French Gals Take Golf Tourney Lead

By GARVEN HUDGINS

PARIS (AP) — Three, spirited French girls today will have a chance decisively to widen a narrow lead they hold over the U. S. team in the Women's World Golf Championship.

In a generally lackluster first round of the tournament being played over the 5,933-yard St. Germain course, only one player —France's 19-year-old Catherine LaCoste — matched par with a 72 score.

The stocky French girl, daughter of former French tennis star Rene LaCoste, appeared to have little trouble in her approach shots and putting, and barely missed a birdie on the 18th green when her putt rolled around the lip of the cup.

Together with French national champion Claudine Cros and French international champion Brigitte Varangot, Miss LaCoste posted a team score of 147, one point in front of the U. S. and British three-women teams, both with 148.

A combination of bad approach shots and unlucky putting dogged the American team of Carol Sorenson of Janesville, Wis., winner of the 1964 British Women's Amateur Golf Championship, blonde Barbara Fay White of Shreveport, La., and Barbara McIntire, U. S. women's champion from Colorado Springs, Colo.

The first bad news came when Miss McIntire shot an 80. Miss Sorenson came in next with a 75 and Miss White finished with a 73, one stroke behind Miss LaCoste.

Only the two best scores count for the team total.

"I just wasn't playing right, "Miss McIntyre said.

"This game is like baseball or any other sport," said Miss Sorenson. "If you get into trouble, you just have to pay for it. I misplayed one shot into the bush and three-putted two greens on the first round. I know I can play better."

The tournament runs four days with the final round Sunday.

Balding, McGowan Lead Fresno by Two Strokes

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — The mercury soared and the wind came up, but Jack McGowan and Al Balding played it cool to breeze into the second round of the $35,000 Fresno Open Golf Tournament Thursday with a two-stroke edge on their nearest opponent.

And defending champion Mason Rudolph, with a bogey-ridden first round 77, was a full 10 strokes back of the other tournament favorites were little better off.

Luck smiled on young McGowan, although he has never won a big tournament since joining the pro tour in 1960, and Balding, Canadian three-time PGA champion, as they played their opening round in perfect weather and putted for five birdies apiece on smooth greens unmarred by later heavy traffic.

The wind came up shortly after they finished and late starters, including Rudolph and other top contenders, started having their troubles on the bumpy greens.

McGowan, a wiry little tiger from Toledo, Ohio, made his score by reeling off five consecutive birdies on the front side, then filled the rest of his card with steady pars.

Balding toured the slightly more difficult back side in four under 32 and had only one bogey on his card.

Another shot back were rookie George Archer, Canadian Bob Panasiuk, Doug Sanders and Bob Bruno.

Rudolph, who came to Fresno as the favorite after finishing second at Seattle and third at Portland the preceding tournaments, was ruined by bogeys. The bespectacled Clarksville, Tenn., native admitted being in a temporary slump, but contended "the score isn't necessarily fatal."

Berra Bemoans Rainout Hurts Yanks Title Bid

NEW YORK (AP) — Yogi Berra, itching for a sip of champagne but still dry, was bemoaning rain after his New York Yankees, on the threshold of their 29th American League pennant, had dropped a twinbill to the Detroit Tigers and extended the AL race at least one more day.

"That rainout killed us," Berra said. "It forced us into back-to-back doubleheaders and they're always tough."

FLYING PHIL ACCOUNTS FOR TWO — Yankee shortstop Phil Linz leaps high in the seventh inning of the first game of a doubleheader against the Detroit Tigers at Yankee Stadium Thursday to make a double play throw to Joe Pepitone at first. Linz took the grounder by the Tigers' first baseman Norm Cash, stepped on second base to force out leftfielder Gates Brown (26) and then relayed to Pepitone. Looking on is Yankee second baseman Bobby Richardson. The League-leading Yankee went down to defeat in both games, 4-2 and 5-2. (AP Wirephoto)

Mathematical Experts Figure Reds, Phils Cannot Tie; Cards Pace Loop

CINCINNATI (AP) — Whatever may happen in the National League pennant race the next few days, the league is ready.

League President Warren Giles flipped a coin Thursday to start the drawing for pairing teams in case of a two, three or four-team playoff.

The National League has had four playoffs since 1946 — all of them involving the world champion Dodgers, who are not even in contention this season. The scramble now is among the St. Louis Cardinals, Cincinnati Reds, Philadelphia Phils and the San Francisco Giants.

The first-place Cardinals were idle Thursday night, while the Reds moved to within a half-game of the lead by beating Pittsburgh. The Phillies, 2½ games behind St. Louis, also were idle and the Giants, now three games out, defeated Houston.

In the event of a two-team playoff, the first game will be played Monday in the city which won the draw. The next two, if both were necessary, would be played in the other city.

Here are those possibilities:

If Cincinnati and St. Louis tie, the first game will be played in Cincinnati.

If St. Louis and Philadelphia tie, the first game will be played in Philadelphia.

The mathematical experts in league headquarters figured out the Reds and the Phils cannot tie.

In the event of a three-team tie, there will be a round robin playoff until two teams have lost two games.

There are three possibilities. One would involve St. Louis, Philadelphia and San Francisco. In that event the opening round would have Philadelphia at St. Louis, St. Louis at San Francisco and San Francisco at Philadelphia.

If no team has been eliminated by that time, lots will be drawn to determine the teams by number and the same schedule will be resumed. If one has been eliminated, lots will be drawn to determine the site of the final playoff between the two remaining teams.

That will apply in any three-team playoff.

If the three-team playoff should involve St. Louis, Philadelphia and Cincinnati, the first round will have Cincinnati at Philadelphia, St. Louis at Cincinnati an Philadelphia at St. Louis.

If it would involve St. Louis, San Francisco and Cincinnati, the first round would have Cincinnati at San Francisco, St. Louis at Cincinnati and San Francisco at St. Louis.

If the three-team playoff should involve St. Louis, Philadelphia and Cincinnati, the first round will have Cincinnati at Philadelphia, St. Louis at Cincinnati and Philadelphia at St. Louis.

If it would involve St. Louis, San Francisco and Cincinnati, the first round would have Cincinnati at San Francisco, St. Louis at Cincinnati and San Francisco at St. Louis.

Then there is the remote possibility of the four-team playoff.

In that event San Francisco will open at Cincinnati with the remaining two games, if both are necessary, at San Francisco. St. Louis will open at Philadelphia under the same arrangement.

The two winners then would meet with a drawing to be made later as to which would open at home.

This was the most involved playoff arrangement in the history of the league. Three teams — St. Louis, Cincinnati and Philadelphia already are in the process of having World Series tickets printed.

There will be no days off between games in any playoff and the first games will be played Monday — the day after the end of the regular season.

Bills Seek Fourth Win; Rams-Colts Tilt Tops NFL

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lou Saban, coach of Buffalo's unbeaten Bills, has a new but far more welcome set of worries.

"That's three we don't have to try and get back later," he said in discussing the Bills' three-game winning string. "It's an awful nice feeling. Now I can confine my worrying to continuing the winning string instead of worrying about breaking a losing one."

The Bills put that string, and hopes of at least temporary control of the top spot in the American Football League's Eastern Division on the line in one of two Saturday night games that opens the pro football weekend.

The Bills are at home to winless Oakland while New York's Jets hope for a crowd of 60,000 in Shea Stadium for a Saturday date with San Diego.

The rest of the action is scheduled Sunday, with the visit of the surprising Los Angeles Rams to Baltimore probably the most interesting of the lot.

The rest of the National Football League schedule has St. Louis at Washington, Dallas at Cleveland, Chicago at San Francisco, Pittsburgh at Philadelphia, Minnesota at Green Bay and New York at Detroit. In the AFL it's Houston at Kansas City and Boston at Denver.

Buffalo has rookie Joe Auer replacing Wray Carlton as the running mate of fullback Cookie Gilchrist. The Bills could be hurt by the injury loss of defensive tackle Tom Keating. Oakland is still waiting for Clem Daniels to show his explosive 1963 form.

San Diego will be in improved physical condition for the date with the Jets. Halfback Paul Lowe, out for two weeks, is expected back and defensive tackle Ernie Ladd is now ready for fulltime duty.

The big one Sunday has passing ace Johnny Unitas of the Colts vs. the Rams' fearsome defensive unit.

Oriole Rookie Faster on Road Than on Mound

BALTIMORE (AP) — Rookie Wally Bunker of the Baltimore Orioles wants to be known for his speed on the pitching mound rather than speed on the highways.

The 19-year-old pitching sensation, with a 19-5 record, was convicted of speeding in Baltimore Municipal Court Thursday. But Magistrate William M. Hudnet suspended a $10 fine and dismissed a reckless driving charge. Bunker paid the $2 court costs.

Bunker and Frank Bertaina, another rookie pitcher who was in Bunker's new sports car during a police chase, huddled with Manager Hank Bauer and Oriole President Lee MacPhail when they arrived at Memorial Stadium Thursday night.

THE NEW HONDA

A brand-New, all-new trail machine with power to spare for the great outdoors. Its 4-stroke, 90cc powerplant makes it 30% more powerful than the famous Honda Trail 55. It can carry heavier loads over rougher terrain than any other trail bike in the business. With a simple chain adjustment, the Trail 90 can do an honest 56 mph out on the open road. And go 160 miles on a gallon of gasoline. A rugged tube-framed skid plate; a four-speed with automatic clutch; and the famous Honda 46:1 gear ratio that lets you climb a 50% hillside. As for price: $379.00 makes the new Honda Trail 90 the best trail buy on the market today.

Women Jurors Are Blamed by Man

OAKHURST, Calif. (AP) — The defense attorney was polling the jury Thursday in Grub Gulch District Court after return of a guilty verdict in a drunk driving case.

He asked the only man on the jury, Benjamin Lemon, how he voted. Replied Lemon: "not guilty." The court was in an uproar.

"They made me do it," cried Lemon, pointing to the 11 women jurors.

Wall Street Report

NEW YORK (AP) — Motors weakened in an irregular stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

As the strike against General Motors entered its second week there were signs that its impact was being felt in some communities.

All Big Three autos declined, with Chrysler especially weak and down more than a point.

Steels moved irregularly lower after showing a slightly higher trend at the start of trading.

Aerospace stocks, drugs, oils and selected blue chips in various groups made gains, but the list as a whole was moving cautiously.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .1 at 325.5 with industrials up .2, rails up .1 and utilities unchanged.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .94 at 871.06.

GM and Ford were each down fractionally while American Motors and Studebaker were about unchanged.

U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Jones & Laughlin eased.

IBM dropped about 5. Sunray DX Oil slid more than a point.

Hilton Hotels spurted more than a point. Loral Electronics tacked on about a point, making a large percentage gain for this low-priced issue.

Sunshine Mining and Tidewater Oil were fractional gainers.

Xerox recovered more than 3. Polaroid added about a point.

Helping to bolster the list with fractional gains were American Telephone, Jersey Standard, Du Pont, American Cyanamid, United Aircraft, and International Harvester.

Off about a point were Air Reduction and Boeing. Down fractionally were Eastman Kodak, Union Carbide, Texaco, Santa Fe, Consolidated Edison and Caterpillar.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were generally higher.

Corporate bonds were firm. U.S. government bonds marked time in quiet dealings over the counter.

Grain Market

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybean and corn futures moved sharply higher on the Board of Trade today and other grains followed the higher trend.

Both soybeans and corn rallied from early declines on rumors that a private crop production report to be issued Friday would show a reduction of these commodities from previous estimates. The report had been expected Monday but the release time was moved up because of wide interest among grain dealers.

Talk that the report would prove to be bullish brought increased demand for beans and corn. Beans moved up as much as 7 cents a bushel at times and corn rallied a cent or more on the plus side.

Carlot receipts were: Wheat 5 cars, corn 170, oats 5, rye none, barley 22 and soybeans 64.

Three Alleged Bookies Indicted in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal grand jury has indicted three alleged top bookmakers whom government officials describe as member of the biggest gambling syndicate in the country.

The three men — reported to be now operating the first legalized gambling casino in the Grand Bahamas—were charged Wednesday with failure to purchase the $50 federal tax stamp required for all gamblers.

The defendants are listed as Morris Courtney, whose real name is Morris Schmertzler, 65; Frank Ritter, also known as Frank (Red) Reed, 51, and Charles Brudner, also known as Carlie Brud, 63, all of New York City.

Also named in the indictment was Dewey Lovitch, 67, of New York, who was charged with being a payoff man and collector.

The indictment covers a five-year period when the three men named as partners in the syndicate allegedly operated in New York and Miami, handling millions of dollars in bets on sporting events.

Three Alleged Bookies Indicted in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal grand jury has indicted three alleged top bookmakers whom government officials describe as member of the biggest gambling syndicate in the country.

The three men — reported to be now operating the first legalized gambling casino in the Grand Bahamas—were charged Wednesday with failure to purchase the $50 federal tax stamp required for all gamblers.

The defendants are listed as Morris Courtney, whose real name is Morris Schmertzler, 65; Frank Ritter, also known as Frank (Red) Reed, 51, and Charles Brudner, also known as Carlie Brud, 63, all of New York City.

Also named in the indictment was Dewey Levitch, 67, of New York, who was charged with being a payoff man and collector.

The indictment covers a five-year period when the three men named as partners in the syndicate allegedly operated in New York and Miami, handling millions of dollars in bets on sports events.

The crime charged is not an extraditable offense,

SANDLOT TEAMS BENEFIT

NEW YORK (AP)—When the Yankees beat the Mets in new Shea Staidum, gross receipts of $154,938.50 were realized from the Mayor's Trophy Game.

Federal and city admission taxes amounted to $14,972.00.

Disbursements of the net receipts will go to sandlot baseball and will be made at a later date. While 55,396 fans attended, 60,167 tickets were sold.

We wish to express our sincere gratitude and thanks for the cards, flowers and kind assistance of friends at the time of our recent bereavement.

The Family of Guy T. Smith

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Katherina Manyik wish to thank everyone for their visits to the hospital. A special thank you to the doctors and nurses who were so kind to our mother. We also wish to thank everyone for the good, flowers, prayers, help and kind words of expression during our recent bereavement. God Bless You All.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all of our many friends who were so kind and thoughtful to our Mother after the passing away of our Father, William S. McLeod, September 19, 1964. After 48 years of marriage the hurt is deep, but the many, many cards, and personal calls lessened the hurt, knowing how many real friends our father had.

Youth Fined, Loses City Driving Right

Police Cpl. C. J. Cates testified Thursday in Municipal Court that he felt that a defendant's statement about his speed Sept. 11 when he collided with another driver was "far too low" in view of the physical evidence he saw at the accident scene.

Don Higby, who was defending Rodney Wilson, 16, 120 Arrawanna on a charge of careless driving objected twice when Deputy City Attorney Bob Isaac attempted to question Cates on the skidmarks left by Wilson. Higby maintained that Cates was not qualified to tell how fast Wilson was driving because no skid test had been made following the accident.

The companion case involved Robert Shreve, 19, 730 N. Weber St., who was charged with failing to yield the right of way to Wilson.

Testimony by Cates was that Shreve, driving west on Willamette Street, stopped at the stop sign, looked both ways, saw no other cars approaching him, and proceeded out into the intersection. Wilson, driving north on Weber Street, honked his horn, but Shreve put on his brakes too late to stop the collision.

Wilson said he saw Shreve pull up to the stop sign when he was about 100 feet from the intersection. Isaac later noted that this was about 166 feet from the point of impact. Wilson said he saw Shreve stop, and he kept going, assuming Shreve would remain stopped, when he pulled out into the intersection. He said he honked his horn, but Shreve kept moving out. "I couldn't stop," Wilson said.

Cates estimated damages of both cars at about $150 each.

Wilson estimated his speed at the time at between 30 and 35 miles an hour, although he said he never glanced at his speedometer.

Isaac contended that Wilson, driving in such a way that he couldn't stop while his car was a third of a block away from the intersection, and seeing Shreve's car, was guilty of careless driving.

Judge Allan Asher held that Wilson's speed was grossly excessive, reminding the youth that he also had two previous speeding violations thus far this year.

Shreve was found not guilty.

Olgert Akmenkalns, 16, 723 W. Bijou St., was found guilty of failing to allow the intersection to clear, and was fined $10.

Fredrick Biondini, 16, 1623 E. Monument St., was found guilty of failing to yield the right of way and was fined $35. Judge Asher suspended $15 on condition the youth attend a traffic course Oct. 14 in El Paso County Court House.

Bonds of $15 each were ordered forfeited by Frank Delaney, 18, Denver, who failed to appear in court on a careless driving charge, and Ronald Terviel, 21, Arrow Hotel, who failed to appear on a speeding charge.

Jack Vaughn, 64, Denver, was also fined $40 on his guilty pleas to drunkenness and breach of peace. Hal Wriston, 53, 1533 N. Chestnut St., and Gilbert Roth, 42, 714 N. Corona St., each pleaded guilty to being drunk and were fined $25.

Eight Oil Tanks Burn in Missouri

MARYSVILLE, Mo. (AP)—An explosion spread fire among eight gasoline and fuel oil storage tanks at the east edge of Maryville, and firemen let the flames burn out today after blocking their path to more tanks and nearby buildings.

Seven of the tanks either exploded or ruptured. About half an hour after the initial explosion Thursday night, a sudden mushroom of flame and smoke erupted. Chief of Police David Archer estimated it was a block in diameter.

The only casualty reported was Gail Downing, who volunteered to help the firemen. Running back from the second big explosion, he fell and gashed a knee.

A little round perforated object, identified as part of a spinning device and found in the Newfoundland wilds, is the first known Viking household article ever unearthed on this continent.

Whittaker to Get Contract

Whittaker Corporation's Electronics Division of North Hollywood, Calif., was awarded a contract by the Federal Aviation Agency to manufacture 40 secondary surveillance radar beacon systems.

Dollar value of the award is in excess of $1.7 million and is a follow on to similar beacon interrogator systems currently being delivered by Whittaker to the FAA.

The new units will be used in conjunction with a modification program to update older systems still in operation.

Whittaker's secondary surveillance radar provides positive control of commercial and military aircraft while flying on any of the domestic U. S. and polar air routes monitored by the FAA in the western hemisphere. Whittaker systems are also in use by civil aviation authorities in Western Europe.

State Approves 1965 Fishing Regulations

The Colorado Game, Fish and Parks Commission has approved fishing regulations for the 1965 season.

Year around fishing is continued in Colorado and there are few changes over the 1964 season.

A major change is elimination of a charge for use of an extra pole in areas where the practice is approved, and removal of the one pole restriction on all lakes and reservoirs east of U.S. Highway 87.

Trappers' Lake in Garfield County and Lincoln Creek in Pitkin County have been added to areas set aside for fishing with flies and lures only.

Two miles have been added to the fly fishing only stretch on the Roaring Fork River near Aspen.

Grand Lake has been dropped from water on which there was a four fish limit and 15 inch size limit for mackinaw.

About four miles of the South Fork of the White River between Patterson and Buck Creeks have been added to areas set aside for fly fishing only.

A permanent date was set by the commission on which the bag limit changes from winter to summer restrictions.

The third Saturday in May will be the permanent date when the bag limit changes from six to 10 trout. Nov. 1 remains the date when the bag limit returns from 10 to six.

Coastal Gas Has Good Year

Continued was the growth that has characterized the company's operations since it was founded in November 1955.

Gains of 18 per cent in total revenues, 22 per cent in cash earnings and 33 per cent in net income were achieved over the previous year, according to the company's 1964 annual report.

Record revenues of $56.9 million in the 1964 fiscal year compared with $48.2 million the year before. Gathering sales were the major aspect of the company's operations, accounting for 80 per cent of revenues.

Author Elliott Arnold Weds Glynis Johns

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — British actress Glynis Johns, 40, and author Elliott Arnold, 41, were married Thursday. It was the fourth for each.

A $2,658,000 suit by actor William Bendix against the Columbia Broadcasting System has been settled out of court for a "very substantial" sum, says his lawyer. The suit charged breach of contract on the ground that CBS signed Bendix for a television series and then junked the show.

Orchestra leader George Liberace's fourth wife, Joan, obtained a divorce after testifying that "he became disenchanted from the beginning to discover that he had married a family instead of a fan club."

High Fashion Okay, Headmaster Says

LONDON (AP) — Anthony Chenevix-Trench, headmaster of Eton School, the incubator of British prime ministers, says adults should stop heckling boys who wear their hair so long they look like girls.

"Not all long-haired men are effeminate," Chenevis- Trench told a conference of teachers Thursday. "Teachers should not object to changes in fashion just because they dislike them."

RI Official Gives History Railroad, Region

Introducing himself as the "Rock Islands vice president in charge of operations, Oscar W. Limestall addressed the 47th meeting of the railroad's Surgical Association, which is being held at the Garden of the Gods Country Club.

Limestall then devoted the remainder of his speech to an explanation of his company's operations, as opposed to the sort of operations encountered by his audience.

He gave a brief history of the railroad which has served the agricultural regions of the nation for 112 years. He explained the extent of the vast areas connected by the Rock Island line and elaborated on its expanded sales program.

"Our progressive sales program is based on service and is carried on through a medium of personal contact with the shipping and traveling public, as well as through advertising and sales aids," he said.

He explained the growing application and concluded by telling his audience that he was proud to be a railroad man in a nation which railroads helped to build.

The Surgical Association concludes its two - day meeting today with a series of medical seminars.

Sears Supt. To Be Promoted, Sent to Dallas

Reese joined Sears in California in 1948 and moved to the Denver Sears in 1952. After managing the hardware and sporting goods departments there he was transferred to the Sears store in Colorado Springs.

He went to the Sears Westland Store in Denver in March 1962 as operating superintendent.

The promotion was announced by W. W. Mercer, group manager for Sears for Colorado and Wyoming.

Kaman Acquires Signal Company

Following a meeting of the Board of Directors of Kaman Aircraft Corp., Charles H. Kaman, company president, announced that the Bloomfield helicopter manufacturer had acquired all rights to the Power Pulse Control from the Newton Co. of Manchester, Conn., and that key personnel of the Newton Company would join Kaman Aircraft to continue production and sales of the device.

Power Pulse Control is a remote control electronic signal system which lets one man do the work of two in the operation of factory overhead cranes. Power Pulse Control sales and production will be managed by Kaman's Electronic Systems Division.

The acquisition of Power Pulse Control represents the first commercial item to be produced and sold by Kaman's Electronic Systems Division, and is in line with the division's development plan which projected entrance into the field of industrial electronic controls in 1965.

Lawrence A. Kaufman, General Manager of the Electronic Systems Division, pointed out that there are many similarities to the work which Kaman has done on remote control helicopters and Power Pulse Control, especially in the requirement for rugged reliability and low cost. It is expected that with the backing of Kaman Aircraft, sales of the Power Pulse Control will be increased substantially. Kaman announced that it has already received contracts for 18 of the units for delivery in 1965.

MEETING SET

DENVER (UPI) — Presidents of Colorado's colleges and universities will confer wiht Gov. John Love Oct. 6 to work out a draft for an overall plan for higher education in the state. Love said he hoped some agreement would be reached for recommendations to be brought before the 1965 General Assembly. The meeting will replace one which earlier had been scheduled for today.

Dear Abby--

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

He's No Twinkle Toes!

DEAR ABBY: My Julius is the only man in our crowd who doesn't dance. He never learned, and he won't even try. He just says he doesn't have any rhymth I told him I didn't care whether he had rhythm or not, I only wanted him to get out on the dance floor and walk around with me so I wouldn't have to sit and watch everyone else dance. Nothing can budge him. He's not old. He is 42. He says I knew he wasn't Gene Kelly when I married him. Don't you think if he really loved me he would try? —JULIUS'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: His "love" for you has nothing to do with his refusal to dance. Get off his back and you might have a better chance of getting him on his feet.

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 years old and am considered responsible and well-behaved by everyone but my mother. She doesn't trust me where boys are concerned. She says I am too young to have anything to do with boys. I have been asked for dates by several nice boys, but I have had to refuse every one of them because of my mother's strickness. My father is no help because he doesn't believe in taking sides. Can you help me? —BABIED

DEAR BABIED: Your mother should be talked to by someone whose judgment she respects. In my opinion if you are considered a well-behaved, responsible girl, you should certainly be allowed to date. Girls who have been denied the experiences of dating go wild when they get their first taste of freedom. Your mother may mean well, but she is doing you far more harm than good.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a father who picks on his 16-year-old son so much that the boy would rather be anywhere but home? That's my problem . He's a good boy, and he's never given us any trouble, but his father is constantly picking on him for something. I think I know why, too. My husband is bald and our son has a beautiful head of blond wavy hair. The boy goes to the barber shop every week without fail, and keeps his hair washed and combed at all times. I just know that every time my husband looks at the boy he gets mad because he is so envious. Our son is a good student and he wanted to go to college. But now he can't wait to join the service to get away from his father. What should I do? —HIS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Wait until your husband is in a good mood and then have a heart-to-heart talk with him. Don't attempt to reform him overnight with your amateur analysis (you would be wrong), but do prevail upon him to exercise a little more patience with the boy.

DEAR ABBY: When a 16-year-old girl goes for a ride in a car with a boy, how close should she sit to him? —CRITICIZED

DEAR CRITICIZED: Close enoug to talk—but not close enough to be talked about.

Carson Men Aid in Bolithe Search

Military and civilian agencies cooperated in the search which found the body of Louis Belitho who drowned in Park County's Jefferson Lake Sept. 23, said 1st Lt. Mark Engel, coordinator for Civil Air Patrol Emergency Services Squadron based at Ft. Carson.

Central Air Resuue, an Air Force coordinating agency, appointed Engel, who is a Ft. Carson Special Services civilian supervisor, as coordinator and asked for soldier searchers.

Ft. Carson's Leadership and Mountain Training School sent nearly 40 men headed by Capt. Vincent Vespia, commandant. They concentrated on ground search of the mountain valley in which the lake is located.

Boats were provided by the U.S. Forest Service and Park County Sheriff Joseph Hurst. Grappling hooks were rushed by Colorado State Patrol relay from Boy Scout Camp Tahosa west of Boulder.

Colorado School of Mines improvised glasses to see underwater at the request of R. W. Stevens of San Jose, Calif., Bolitho's brother - in - law, who sparked the military search mission.

Longmont Emergency Services Squadron. CAP, provided a sonar sounding device for use along the steep, crumbling shore line.

Denver Police Department divers were sent to the lake and one of them sighted the body in 30 feet of water while being towed by a boat manned by CAP members and soldiers.

Carson Civil Air Patrolmen on the mission were Engel, SFC Raymond J. Hopkins and Spec. 5. William Wacker, both of Company B, 705th Maintenance Battalion; Spec. 4 William C. Haibach, 75th Ordnance Company; and Nelson Corriher, Post Signal civilian.

Civil Air Patrol provided the final service by bringing Bolitho's body home to Golden before returning to Fort Carson.

United Fruit Co. to Pay 15-Cent Dividend

United Fruit Co.'s board of directors have declared a dividend of 15 cents payable Nov. 2 to stockholders of record Oct. 9.

They said it was "unlikely" any further dividend payments would be declared this year in view of the "earnings outlook."

They decided the company's cash position jusutified the dividend even though there has been a "complete reapprisal of the company's earnings outlook based on revised estimates of costs incurred during the first six months period ending June 1964." This was in projections of prices, costs and volume for the balance of this year and the immediate outlook for 1964.

Visitor Bureau Hires Promoters

Broyles, Allebaugh & Davis, Inc., Denver advertising agency, has been appointed to serve the Colorado Visitor's Bureau in its advertising and promotional activities. Notification to the agency was made by Paul A. Yetter, president of the bureau's directors. Yetter said the directors felt it would be logical for the same agency which serves the state's travel account to handle the same function for the Bureau.

Broyles,. Allebaugh & Davis has served the State of Colorado advertising department in its general tourist promotion for 23 years, and recently was selected, in addition, to handle hunting, fishing and winter sports promotion for the State. The agency also has other travel accounts, including Frontier Airlines, the Jerome Hotel and Aspen Skiing Corporation in Aspen. It is this agency that initiated the popular "Smile, you live in Colorado" campaign in March 1964.

Free Enterprise Aids S.A. Says David Rockefeller

By Sam Campbell
Santa Ana Register

David Rockefeller, president of New York's Chase Manhattan Bank, was in Los Angeles recently to issue a plea that American businessmen should begin to tell the story of free enterprise to Latin Americans

Sizable investments in Latin America have put the Rockefellers in close touch with the business climate down there, and he reported that the communists are making substantial gains with their anti-business salesmanship.

Just how he reconciled a program to counteract communism in South America with another program to become its logistical support is one of those mysteries that must be left to the keener minds of the eastern establishment to decipher.

Anyway, what the business branch of the Rockefeller family tree had to say in Los Angeles made a great deal of sense. Here are a couple of statements that got the message across:

First, we must develop an effective message — one that will explain clearly and affirmatively what we stand for and what we are trying to accomplish. In developing such a message, the key word is 'identification.' Each individual company, operating in Latin America or trading with Lat in America, must identify itself as a positive factor in the region's economic development."

Having developed such a message, the next step is to find out whom to deliver it to. Rockefeller's answer:

"Latin American businessmen constitute an audience which needs attention because many of them do not fully appreciate the role of foreign investments in their countries.

"Once aroused to the need for telling the free-enterprise story, they can be the most effective salesman in their efforts can be coordinated with those of the foreign business community, a hard-hitting program of public information, education and social action can be carried out in support of common business objectives."

To have the president of so important a banking institution speaking so forcefully in this wise way is certainly an encouraging turn of events. Of course the first step in communicating free enterprise is to understand it.

The initial problem is not the Marxist salesmen south of the Border, but the poorly informed American-ist salesmen north of the border.

West lent considerable comfort and assistance to his partner by taking charge of the defense against South's three no-trump contract, at a time when the issue was shrouded in mystery for East.

The South hand is worth 22 points when the extra point is added for having all four aces. North just managed to scrape up enough to raise his partner to game.

West opened the six of hearts. The jack was played from dummy and, when East covered with the queen, he was permitted to hold the trick. The ten of hearts was continued and South ducked again, following with the nine.

The moment of decision had now arrived for the defense. West realized that it was futile to continue the establishment of the heart suit inasmuch as he had no quick card of reentry. He decided further that East would see the necessity for switching to another suit; however, the latter might be uncertain where to attack.

A spade switch, for example, might appear more attractive to East, and yet West could provide no assistance in that direction. In order to relieve his partner of all guess, West decided to overtake the ten of hearts with the king in order to lead a diamond — the only suit in which he could contribute to the defensive cause.

West switched to the jack of diamonds and continued the suit when his partner gave him a come-on. The best South could do was to run eight tricks. Had East been permitted to hold the second heart, he might have been tempted to lead the king of spades which appears to be the more attractive shift. This play would have given South time to develop a ninth trick, by leading a spade through East subsequently toward the jack in his hand.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere gratitude and thanks for the cards, flowers and kind assistance of friends at the time of our recent bereavement.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Katherina Manyik wish to thank everyone for their visits to the hospital. A special thank you to the doctors and nurses who were so kind to our mother. We also wish to thank everyone for the good, flowers, prayers, help and kind words of expression during our recent bereavement. God Bless You All.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all of our many friends who were so kind and thoughtful to our Mother after the passing away of our Father, William S. McLeod, September 19, 1964. After 48 years of marriage the hurt is deep, but the many, many cards, and personal calls lessened the hurt, knowing how many real friends our father had.

Youth Fined, Loses City Driving Right

Police Cpl. C. J. Cates testified Thursday in Municipal Court that he felt that a defendant's statement about his speed Sept. 11 when he collided with another driver was "far too low" in view of the physical evidence he saw at the accident scene.

Don Higby, who was defending Rodney Wilson, 16, 120 Arrawanna on a charge of careless driving objected twice when Deputy City Attorney Bob Isaac attempted to question Cates on the skidmarks left by Wilson. Higby maintained that Cates was not qualified to tell how fast Wilson was driving because no skid test had been made following the accident.

The companion case involved Robert Shreve, 19, 730 N. Weber St., who was charged with failing to yield the right of way to Wilson.

Testimony by Cates was that Shreve, driving west on Willamette Street, stopped at the stop sign, looked both ways, saw no other cars approaching him, and proceeded out into the intersection. Wilson, driving north on Weber Street, honked his horn, but Shreve put on his brakes too late to stop the collision.

Wilson said he saw Shreve pull up to the stop sign when he was about 100 feet from the intersection. Isaac later noted that this was about 166 feet from the point of impact. Wilson said he saw Shreve stop, and he kept going, assuming Shreve would remain stopped, when he pulled out into the intersection. He said he honked his horn, but Shreve kept moving out. "I couldn't stop," Wilson said.

Cates estimated damages of both cars at about $150 each.

Wilson estimated his speed at the time at between 30 and 35 miles an hour, although he said he never glanced at his speedometer.

Isaac contended that Wilson, driving in such a way that he couldn't stop while his car was a third of a block away from the intersection, and seeing Shreve's car, was guilty of careless driving.

Judge Allan Asher held that Wilson's speed was grossly excessive, reminding the youth that he also had two previous speeding violations thus far this year.

Shreve was found not guilty.

Olgert Akmenkalns, 16, 723 W. Bijou St., was found guilty of failing to allow the intersection to clear, and was fined $10.

Fredrick Biondini, 16, 1623 E. Monument St., was found guilty of failing to yield the right of way and was fined $35. Judge Asher suspended $15 on condition the youth attend a traffic course Oct. 14 in El Paso County Court House.

Bonds of $15 each were ordered forfeited by Frank Delaney, 18, Denver, who failed to appear in court on a careless driving charge, and Ronald Terviel, 21, Arrow Hotel, who failed to appear on a speeding charge.

Max Meyers, 21, 618 E. Boulder St., was fined $40 on his guilty pleas to charges of disorderly conduct and carrying a concealed weapon.

Jack Vaughn, 64, Denver, was also fined $40 on his guilty pleas to drunkenness and breach of peace. Hal Wriston, 53, 1533 N. Chestnut St., and Gilbert Roth, 42, 714 N. Corona St., each pleaded guilty to being drunk and were fined $25.

Eight Oil Tanks Burn in Missouri

MARYSVILLE, Mo. (AP)—An explosion spread fire among eight gasoline and fuel oil storage tanks at the east edge of Maryville, and firemen let the flames burn out today after blocking their path to more tanks and nearby buildings.

Seven of the tanks either exploded or ruptured. About half an hour after the initial explosion Thursday night, a sudden mushroom of flame and smoke erupted. Chief of Police David Archer estimated it was a block in diameter.

The only casualty reported was Gail Downing, who volunteered to help the firemen. Running back from the second big explosion, he fell and gashed a knee.

A little round perforated object, identified as part of a spinning device and found in the Newfoundland wilds, is the first known Viking household article ever unearthed on this continent.

Whittaker to Get Contract

Whittaker Corporation's Electronics Division of North Hollywood, Calif., was awarded a contract by the Federal Aviation Agency to manufacture 40 secondary surveillance radar beacon systems.

Dollar value of the award is in excess of $1.7 million and is a follow on to similar beacon interrogator systems currently being delivered by Whittaker to the FAA.

The new units will be used in conjunction with a modification program to update older systems still in operation.

Whittaker's secondary surveillance radar provides positive control of commercial and military aircraft while flying on any of the domestic U. S. and polar air routes monitored by the FAA in the western hemisphere. Whittaker systems are also in use by civil aviation authorities in Western Europe.

State Approves 1965 Fishing Regulations

The Colorado Game, Fish and Parks Commission has approved fishing regulations for the 1965 season.

Year around fishing is continued in Colorado and there are few changes over the 1964 season.

A major change is elimination of a charge for use of an extra pole in areas where the practice is approved, and removal of the one pole restriction on all lakes and reservoirs east of U.S. Highway 87.

Trappers' Lake in Garfield County and Lincoln Creek in Pitkin County have been added to areas set aside for fishing with flies and lures only.

Two miles have been added to the fly fishing only stretch on the Roaring Fork River near Aspen.

Grand Lake has been dropped from water on which there was a four fish limit and 15 inch size limit for mackinaw.

About four miles of the South Fork of the White River between Patterson and Buck Creeks have been added to areas set aside for fly fishing only.

A permanent date was set by the commission on which the bag limit changes from winter to summer restrictions.

The third Saturday in May will be the permanent date when the bag limit changes from six to 10 trout. Nov. 1 remains the date when the bag limit returns from 10 to six.

Coastal Gas Has Good Year

Coastal States Gas Producing Co. experienced another record year in the 12 months ended June 31.

Continued was the growth that has characterized the company's operations since it was founded in November 1955.

Gains of 18 per cent in total revenues, 22 per cent in cash earnings and 33 per cent in net income were achieved over the previous year, according to the company's 1964 annual report.

Record revenues of $56.9 million in the 1964 fiscal year compared with $48.2 million the year before. Gathering sales were the major aspect of the company's operations, accounting for 80 per cent of revenues.

Author Elliott Arnold Weds Glynis Johns

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — British actress Glynis Johns, 40, and author Elliott Arnold, 41, were married Thursday. It was the fourth for each.

A $2,658,000 suit by actor William Bendix against the Columbia Broadcasting System has been settled out of court for a "very substantial" sum, says his lawyer. The suit charged breach of contract on the ground that CBS signed Bendix for a television series and then junked the show.

Orchestra leader George Liberace's fourth wife, Joan, obtained a divorce after testifying that "he became disenchanted from the beginning to discover that he had married a family instead of a fan club."

High Fashion Okay, Headmaster Says

LONDON (AP) — Anthony Chenevix-Trench, headmaster of Eton School, the incubator of British prime ministers, says adults should stop heckling boys who wear their hair so long they look like girls.

"Not all long-haired men are effeminate," Chenevis-Trench told a conference of teachers Thursday. "Teachers should not object to changes in fashion just because they dislike them."

RI Official Gives History Railroad, Region

Introducing himself as the "Rock Islands vice president in charge of operations, Oscar W. Limestall addressed the 47th meeting of the railroad's Surgical Association, which is being held at the Garden of the Gods Country Club.

The meeting is being attended by approximately 150 doctors from the 14 states served by the Rock Island railroad line.

Limestall commented on the growing acquaintance of the lay public with medical terminology through the viewing of TV medical shows.

Limestall then devoted the remainder of his speech to an explanation of his company's operations, as opposed to the sort of operations encountered by his audience.

He gave a brief history of the railroad which has served the agricultural regions of the nation for 112 years. He explained the extent of the vast areas connected by the Rock Island line and elaborated on its expanded sales program.

"Our progressive sales program is based on service and is carried on through a medium of personal contact with the shipping and traveling public, as well as through advertising and sales aids," he said.

He explained the growing application and concluded by telling his audience that he was proud to be a railroad man in a nation which railroads helped to build.

The Surgical Association concludes its two-day meeting today with a series of medical seminars.

Sears Supt. To Be Promoted, Sent to Dallas

James Reese, former hard lines merchandise manager in the Sears Roebuck & Co. Southgate Shopping Center store, has been promoted to manager of the largest Sears store in Dallas, Tex.

Reese joined Sears in California in 1948 and moved to the Denver Sears in 1952. After managing the hardware and sporting goods departments there he was transferred to the Sears store in Colorado Springs.

He went to the Sears Westland Store in Denver in March 1962 as operating superintendent.

The promotion was announced by W. W. Mercer, group manager for Sears for Colorado and Wyoming.

Kaman Acquires Signal Company

Following a meeting of the Board of Directors of Kaman Aircraft Corp., Charles H. Kaman, company president, announced that the Bloomfield helicopter manufacturer had acquired all rights to the Power Pulse Control from the Newton Co. of Manchester, Conn., and that key personnel of the Newton Company would join Kaman Aircraft to continue production and sales of the device.

Power Pulse Control is a remote control electronic signal system which lets one man do the work of two in the operation of factory overhead cranes. Power Pulse Control sales and production will be managed by Kaman's Electronic Systems Division.

The acquisition of Power Pulse Control represents the first commercial item to be produced and sold by Kaman's Electronic Systems Division, and is in line with the division's development plan which projected entrance into the field of industrial electronic controls in 1965.

Lawrence A. Kaufman, General Manager of the Electronic Systems Division, pointed out that there are many similarities to the work which Kaman has done on remote control helicopters and Power Pulse Control, especially in the requirement for rugged reliability and low cost. It is expected that with the backing of Kaman Aircraft, sales of the Power Pulse Control will be increased substantially. Kaman announced that it has already received contracts for 18 of the units for delivery in 1965.

MEETING SET

DENVER (UPI) — Presidents of Colorado's colleges and universities will confer wiht Gov. John Love Oct. 6 to work out a draft for an overall plan for higher education in the state. Love said he hoped some agreement would be reached for recommendations to be brought before the 1965 General Assembly. The meeting will replace one which earlier had been scheduled for today.

Dear Abby--

He's No Twinkle Toes!

DEAR ABBY: My Julius is the only man in our crowd who doesn't dance. He never learned, and he won't even try. He just says he doesn't have any rhymth I told him I didn't care whether he had rhythm or not, I only wanted him to get out on the dance floor and walk around with me so I wouldn't have to sit and watch everyone else dance. Nothing can budge him. He's not old. He is 42. He says I knew he wasn't Gene Kelly when I married him. Don't you think if he really loved me he would try? —JULIUS'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: His "love" for you has nothing to do with his refusal to dance. Get off his back and you might have a better chance of getting him on his feet.

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 years old and am considered responsible and well-behaved by everyone but my mother. She doesn't trust me where boys are concerned. She says I am too young to have anything to do with boys. I have been asked for dates by several nice boys, but I have had to refuse everyone of them because of my mother's strickness. My father is no help because he doesn't believe in taking sides. Can you help me? —BABIED

DEAR BABIED: Your mother should be talked to by someone whose judgment she respects. In my opinion if you are considered a well-behaved, responsible girl, you should certainly be allowed to date. Girls who have been denied the experiences of dating go wild when they get their first taste of freedom. Your mother may mean well, but she is doing you far more harm than good.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a father who picks on his 16-year-old son so much that tne boy would rather be anywhere but home? That's my problem . He's a good boy, and he's never given us any trouble, but his father is constantly picking on him for something. I think I know why, too. My husband is bald and our son has a beautiful head of blond wavy hair. The boy goes to the barber shop every week without fail, and keeps his hair washed and combed at all times. I just know that every time my husband looks at the boy he gets mad because he is so envious. Our son is a good student and he wanted to go to college. But now he can't wait to join the service to get away from his father. What should I do? —HIS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Wait until your husband is in a good mood and then have a heart-to-heart talk with him. Don't attempt to reform him overnight with your amateur analysis (you would be wrong), but do prevail upon him to exercise a little more patience with the boy.

DEAR ABBY: When a 16-year-old girl goes for a ride in a car with a boy, how close should she sit to him? —CRITICIZED

DEAR CRITICIZED: Close enough to talk—but not close enough to be talked about.

Carson Men Aid in Bolithe Search

Military and civilian agencies cooperated in the search which found the body of Louis Belitho who drowned in Park County's Jefferson Lake Sept. 23, said 1st Lt. Mark Engel, coordinator for Civil Air Patrol Emergency Services Squadron based at Ft. Carson.

Central Air Resuue, an Air Force coordinating agency, appointed Engel, who is a Ft. Carson Special Services civilian supervisor, as coordinator and asked for soldier searchers.

Ft. Carson's Leadership and Mountain Training School sent nearly 40 men headed by Capt. Vincent Vespia, commandant. They concentrated on ground search of the mountain valley in which the lake is located.

Boats were provided by the U.S. Forest Service and Park County Sheriff Joseph Hurst. Grappling hooks were rushed by Colorado State Patrol relay from Boy Scout Camp Tahosa west of Boulder.

Colorado School of Mines improvised glasses to see underwater at the request of R. W. Stevens of San Jose, Calif., Bolitho's brother-in-law, who sparked the military search mission.

Longmont Emergency Services Squadron, CAP, provided a sonar sounding device for use along the steep, crumbling shore line.

Denver Police Department divers were sent to the lake and one of them sighted the body in 30 feet of water while being towed by a boat manned by CAP members and soldiers.

Carson Civil Air Patrolmen on the mission were Engel, SFC Raymond J. Hopkins and Spec. 5. William Wacker, both of Company B, 705th Maintenance Battalion; Spec. 4 William C. Haibach, 75th Ordnance Company; and Nelson Corriher, Post Signal civilian.

Civil Air Patrol provided the final service by bringing Bolitho's body home to Golden before returning to Fort Carson.

United Fruit Co. to Pay 15-Cent Dividend

United Fruit Co.'s board of directors have declared a dividend of 15 cents payable Nov. 2 to stockholders of record Oct. 9.

They said it was "unlikely" any further dividend payments would be declared this year in view of the "earnings outlook."

They decided the company's cash position justified the dividend even though there has been a "complete reapprisal of the company's earnings outlook based on revised estimates of costs incurred during the first six months period ending June 1964." This was in projections of prices, costs and volume for the balance of this year and the immediate outlook for 1964.

Visitor Bureau Hires Promoters

Broyles, Allebaugh & Davis, Inc., Denver advertising agency, has been appointed to serve the Colorado Visitor's Bureau in its advertising and promotional activities. Notification to the agency was made by Paul A. Yetter, president of the bureau's directors. Yetter said the directors felt it would be logical for the same agency which serves the state's travel account to handle the same function for the Bureau.

Broyles, Allebaugh & Davis has served the State of Colorado advertising department in its general tourist promotion for 23 years, and recently was selected, in addition, to handle hunting, fishing and winter sports promotion for the State. The agency also has other travel accounts, including Frontier Airlines, the Jerome Hotel and Aspen Skiing Corporation in Aspen. It is this agency that initiated the popular "Smile, you live in Colorado" campaign in March 1964.

Free Enterprise Aids S.A. Says David Rockefeller

By Sam Campbell
Santa Ana Register

David Rockefeller, president of New York's Chase Manhattan Bank, was in Los Angeles recently to issue a plea that American businessmen should begin to tell the story of free enterprise to Latin Americans

Sizable investments in Latin America have put the Rockefellers in close touch with the business climate down there, and he reported that the communists are making substantial gains with their anti-business salesmanship.

Just how he reconciled a program to counteract communism in South America with another program to become its logistical support is one of those mysteries that must be left to the keener minds of the eastern establishment to decipher.

Anyway, what the business branch of the Rockefeller family tree had to say in Los Angeles made a great deal of sense. Here are a couple of statements that got the message across:

First, we must develop an effective message — one that will explain clearly and affirmatively what we stand for and what we are trying to accomplish. In developing such a message, the key word is 'identification.' Each individual company, operating in Latin America or trading with Lat in America, must identify itself as a positive factor in the region's economic development."

Having developed such a message, the next step is to find out whom to deliver it to. Rockefeller's answer:

"Latin American businessmen constitute an audience which needs attention because many of them do not fully appreciate the role of foreign investments in their countries.

"Once aroused to the need for telling the free-enterprise story, they can be the most effective salesman in their reefforts can be coordinated with those of the foreign business community, a hard-hitting program of public information, education and social action can be carried out in support of common business objectives."

To have the president of so important a banking institution speaking so forcefully in this wise way is certainly an encouraging turn of events. Of course the first step in communicating free enterprise is to understand it.

The initial problem is not the Marxist salesmen south of the Border, but the poorly informed American-ist salesmen north of the border.

West lent considerable comfort and assistance to his partner by taking charge of the defense against South's three no-trump contract, at a time when the issue was shrouded in mystery for East.

The South hand is worth 22 points when the extra point is added for having all four aces. North just managed to scrape up enough to raise his partner to game.

West opened the six of hearts. The jack was played from dummy and, when East covered with the queen, he was permitted to hold the trick. The ten of hearts was continued and South ducked again, following with the nine.

The moment of decision had now arrived for the defense. West realized that it was futile to continue the establishment of the heart suit inasmuch as he had no quick card of reentry. He decided further that East would see the necessity for switching to another suit; however, the latter might be uncertain where to attack.

A spade switch, for example, might appear more attractive to East, and yet West could provide no assistance in that direction. In order to relieve his partner of all guess, West decided to overtake the ten of hearts with the king in order to lead a diamond — the only suit in which he could contribute to the defensive cause.

West switched to the jack of diamonds and continued the suit when his partner gave him a come-on. The best South could do was to run eight tricks. Had East been permitted to hold the second heart, he might have been tempted to lead the king of spades which appears to be the more attractive shift. This play would have given South time to develop a ninth trick, by leading a spade through East subsequently toward the jack in his hand.

NATO Control of A-Bomb Seen by Richard Nixon

By GENE HEBERT

NEW CASTLE, N.H. (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon says Sen. Barry Goldwater's proposal to give NATO field commanders control of certain nuclear weapons is nothing new.

Both former Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy set up programs for use by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in an emergency, Nixon said Thursday night at a Republican fund-raising dinner. And so has President Johnson, he said.

GOP presidential nominee Goldwater's sharpest criticism has come from those who say the Arizona senator is "trigger happy" because of his nuclear-NATO proposal, Nixon said.

"Much has been made about Goldwater's statement that he would give control of nuclear weapons to NATO commanders," Nixon told some 200 Republicans at a $1,000-a-plate Citizens for Goldwater dinner.

"No one brings up the point that President Eisenhower set up a program for use by NATO in an emergency," he said. "So did John F. Kennedy. So did Lyndon B. Johnson.

"This is a false issue. The real issue is how do we develop leadership to avoid a time when the NATO commanders will be faced with a decision — when they will have to make a choice?"

The former vice president did not say specifically whether Eisenhower, Kennedy or Johnson stipulated in their programs that a decision to use nuclear weapons by NATO still would have to have presidential approval in any emergency.

Nixon headed for Iowa today after a one-day tour of New England. He spoke in Boston and Burlington, Vt., in addition to New Castle. It was the first day of a 33-day, 36-state speaking tour.

Nine East German Scientists Expelled

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — Nine East German scientists who posed as crew members of a ship that docked in Copenhagen Sunday have been expelled from Denmark after staying illegally for three days.

Police Inspector O. Stevens said none had travel permits from the Allied Travel Board in West Berlin.

They had no Danish visas either. According to rules of the North Atlantic alliance, East German citizens must obtain both Allied permits and visas, Stevns said.

THE HAGUE—Dutch imports are increasing monthly.

"Imagine! . . . . the biggest social event of the year and my dream man arrives in a new Ford pickup . . . a shiny red one at that!

Well, the atmosphere was pretty cool for a while but somehow we had more fun at the dance than ever . . . and before the evening was over everyone had to take turns driving down the bumpy old country club road to see how smooth the pickup rides.

Jim explained why the 1965 Ford pickups are stronger as well as smoother riding. . . . . about the twin eye beams and all that. Don't ask me what the headlights have to do with the way a pickup rides. I didn't understand a word of it! . . . but I didn't let on. I just made Jim promise that we could take the pickup again sometime . . . instead of the T-Bird."

HERE'S WHY THE 1965 FORD PICKUP HAS A SOFTER RIDE...IS MORE DURABLE AND MORE ECONOMICAL THAN ANY OTHER PICKUP

'65 Ford Pickups offer the biggest truck news in years . . . . two front axles . . . . Ford Twin-I-Beam independent front suspension. Ford's Twin-I-Beam is the first independent front suspension with big-truck durability. It is on all '65 Ford F-100 and F-250 2 wheel-drive trucks. At last ,you can get an easy riding truck front suspensionwith the toughness of steel I-beam. Ford's new Twin-I-Beam suspension is a completely new engineering concept. This unique Twin-I-Beam front suspension gives you not one but two front axles. Both are forged steel I-beams ,the type used in all makes of big trucks. The use of two front axles permits each front wheel to move independently of the other. Shocks at one wheel are not transmitted to the wheel on the other side. This result in a smoother, more confortable ride. Also you get better wheel alignment, easier maintenance, fewer repairs, and safer control. The Twin-I-Beam Suspension is not a passenger car type as is being used on some other makes of pickups.

That's only part of the news. For '65 Ford offers three new engines . . . . a 240-cu. in. Six, a 300-cu .in. Big Six and a 352-cu in. V-8 . . . . the most powerful V-8 ever put in a Ford pickup!

Plane Flies 4,420 Miles To Antarctic

By DAVID BURKE

BYRD STATION, Antarctica (AP) — A U.S. Navy transport plane touched down safely Wednesday after a 4,420-mile journey to frozen Antarctica — the first from the continent of Australia and the second longest in antarctic aviation history.

The ski-equipped 65-ton Hercules was scheduled to land at McMurdo base after the trip from Melbourne but was rerouted to Byrd Station because of bad weather. It carried a 14-man crew.

The flight was made over the south pole, where 22 U.S. scientists and Navy men are staffing Amundsen-Scott research station. The Hercules parachuted a 50-pound package of mail to the station.

"This flight has been a challenge to us as the last great air journey from an outside continent to Antarctica — that is why we have accomplished it," said Rear Adm. James R. Reedy, commander of the U.S. Navy's antarctic program and director of the flight.

The pilot on the epic journey was Cmdr. Fred Gallup, 41 Bruce Lane, Warwick, R.I.

Cmdr. Ken Alison, 615 West Ave., Corsicana, Tex., also was aboard.

Land Management Transfer Arranged

DENVER AP) —The State of Colorado and the U.S. Bureau of Land Management completed a land transfer today of 44,025 acres valued at $544,925.

Gov. John A. Love accepted title to 22,534 acres of public land in eastern Las Animas County in exchange for 21,491 acres of state land in and near Dinousaur National Monument in northwestern Moffat County.

The exchange of deeds was made by the governor and Lowell M. Puckett, director of the BLM in Colorado, in a ceremony in the governor's office.

Officials said the exchange was made on the basis of apraised valuation, rather than acreage. They said the exchange will help to eliminate problems connected with the administration of scattered tracts by consolidating larger blocks of land for each agency.

The Las Animas County tracts are northeast of Trinidad and range from 40 to 1,980 acres.

TONE'S HELMET FOR $1

WESTPORT, Conn. (AP) — A gilt helmet that Franchot Tone wore in "Caesar and Cleopatra" brought $1 at an auction of props used at the Westport Country playhouse but nobody wanted a backgammon set once used in a play starring Gloria Swanson.

The items were among a six-year accumulation of stage equipment raffled off by producer Laurence Feldman to clean out the storeroom. Other props were a cradle once rocked by Hal March, and an iron garden table Arlene Francis accidentally knocked off the stage.

A dilapidated portable typewriter drew the most spirited bidding, went to a new owner for $8.

NATO Control of A-Bomb Seen by Richard Nixon

By GENE HEBERT

NEW CASTLE, N.H. (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon says Sen. Barry Goldwater's proposal to give NATO field commanders control of certain nuclear weapons is nothing new.

Both former Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy set up programs for use by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in an emergency, Nixon said Thursday night at a Republican fund-raising dinner. And so has President Johnson, he said.

GOP presidential nominee Goldwater's sharpest criticism has come from those who say the Arizona senator is "trigger happy" because of his nuclear-NATO proposal, Nixon said.

"Much has been made about Goldwater's statement that he would give control of nuclear weapons to NATO commanders," Nixon told some 200 Republicans at a $1,000-a-plate Citizens for Goldwater dinner.

"No one brings up the point that President Eisenhower set up a program for use by NATO in an emergency," he said. "So did John F. Kennedy. So did Lyndon B. Johnson.

"This is a false issue. The real issue is how do we develop leadership to avoid a time when the NATO commanders will be faced with a decision — when they will have to make a choice?"

The former vice president did not say specifically whether Eisenhower, Kennedy or Johnson stipulated in their programs that a decision to use nuclear weapons by NATO still would have to have presidential approval in any emergency.

Nixon headed for Iowa today after a one-day tour of New England. He spoke in Boston and Burlington, Vt., in addition to New Castle. It was the first day of a 33-day, 36-state speaking tour.

Nine East German Scientists Expelled

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — Nine East German scientists who posed as crew members of a ship that docked in Copenhagen Sunday have been expelled from Denmark after staying illegally for three days.

Police Inspector O. Stevens said none had travel permits from the Allied Travel Board in West Berlin.

They had no Danish visas either. According to rules of the North Atlantic alliance, East German citizens must obtain both Allied permits and visas, Stevns said.

Three Local Men Honored At Cancer Society Meet

Three local men were honored Wednesday at the annual meeting of the El Paso County Unit of the Colorado Division of the American Cancer Society, held at the local Information Center, 1422 N. Hancock Ave.

Dr. Charles B. Nitka, outgoing president, presented citations to Fred E. Provenzano, who has served for four years as general crusade chairman; to Dr. Robert Dillon, who has served for five years as director, public education; and to Dr. Harry C. Bryan, for his service to the Colorado Medical Association, the Colorado Division of the American Cancer Society, and, especially the local unit. Dr. Bryan has also been chairman of the Governor's Committee on Cancer Control. Citations were also presented to the local news media.

Bernard L. Trott, incoming president, summarized the past year's progress. More than $35,000 was donated, although Trott felt that the scare resulting from the government report on cancer and cigarette smoking might be partially responsible for the increase over the previous year. He also mentioned the fashion show given at the Fine Arts Center.

Mrs. Ruth Garrison, executive director, gave an anlysis of the past year's neighbor-to-neighbor campaign. She said that 1,386 block envelopes had been circulated in the county. There were 3,000 more contributions than last year, of which 800 came from new contributors giving $5 or more. Contributions were higher in every category except memorials, where they were down $77, but, even so, more persons were honored with memorials than ever before. "Volunteers reached people where they are," she said.

New officers of the El Paso County Unit assumed their positions at the Wednesday meeting. Bernard L. Trott is to be president; Dr. William Lloyd, first vice president; L. D. Seatvet, second vice president; Gilbert B. Hesse, treasurer; and Mrs. Don Wise, secretary. Dr. Harry C. Bryan is life member.

Committee chairmen are as follows: Dr. Lee A. Steele, general crusade chairman; Mrs. Charles H. Roadman, honorary crusade chairman; Dr. George M. Lindeman, director, public education; Gary Berry, cancer education in School District 11; Frank D. Arnold, chairman, business division; W. L. Bowers, director, public information; Charles L. Heitman, Jr., chairman, GO clubs and employee groups; Fred E. Provenzano, co-chairman, special gifts; Dr. Charles B. Nitka, chairman, nominating committee and co-chairman, special gifts. Trott will also serve as ex-officio member of all committees; Lloyd, as director of professional education, Seatvet, as chairman for Security; and Hesse, as chairman, budget and finance committee.

It was mentioned that the Bohemia Foundation has elected not to join the American Cancer Society.

Daniel A. Belknap, executive director, Community Planning and Research Council, 25 E. San Rafael, explained the study of community needs which his group is undertaking. Traditionally, he said, such studies of community health and welfare have been undertaken by the United Fund or the Community Chest. Such areas as labor and county government were thus excluded from the studies. His group hopes to investigate health, welfare, youth, family, and recreation services, as well as federal, state, local, school, and religious agencies.

The Community Planning and Research Council operates on a [illegible],000 grant from El Pomar Foundation, administered by Colorado College. Belknap sees the group's role as that of problem and program analyzing and fact-gathering, not as a decision-making. He also hopes to investigate the role of the private physician, as compared to the community clinic. He does not anticipate any written reports until spring, but he hopes that there will be a continual gathering and sharing of information.

El Paso County Unit Board meetings were set for 4 p.m., the third Wednesday of every other month, and executive committee meetings for noon the third Wednesday of alternate months. The first meeting will be Oct. 21.

Large Crowd Expected for Penrose Event

One of the largest crowds on record is expected to turn out for the 29th annual Apple Day celebration at Penrose Saturday, it was announced this week by Mrs. Charles Shadford, publicity chairman for the sponsoring Penrose Community group.

Beginning at 9:30 Saturday morning with the crowning of Apple Day Queen Anne Heid at the famous Penrose fountain, the day - long fall festival will be concluded Saturday night with a dance at the Penrose school gym.

Honored guest this year in the colorful Penrose parade, which will be held at 10:30 a.m. will be Mrs. Bernice Rathke, a resident of Penrose since 1923.

A native of Loveland, Colo., Mrs. Rathke was married to Harry C. Rathke at Rosemont, Colo., July 14, 1915. After moving to Penrose in 1923, the Rathke family owned and operated extensive orchards and a cattle ranch in the Beaver Park area.

Rathke served several terms on the school board and was a member of the board when Apple Day was first started as a PTA project in 1935.

Saturday, Mrs. Rathke will ride in the Apple Day parade along with her children who have settled in the park and have played active parts in the community's growth. There are four generations of the pioneer Rathke family now living in the Penrose area.

At the queen ceremonis Saturday morning, Miss Heid will be honored as Apple Day queen and her attendants will be Carolyn Goodall and Jini Lewis.

He also mentioned the fashion show given at the Fine Arts Center.

Mrs. Ruth Garrison, executive director, gave an anlysis of the past year's neigbor-to-neighbor campaign. She said that 1,596 block envelopes had been circulated in the county. There were 3,000 more contributions than last year, of which 500 came from new contributors giving $5 or more. Contributions were higher in every category except memorials, where they were down $77, but, even so, more persons were honored with memorials than ever before. "Volunteers reached people where they are," she said.

New officers of the El Paso County Unit assumed their positions at the Wednesday meeting. Bernard L. Trott is to be president; Dr. William Lloyd, first vice president; L. D. Seatvet, second vice president; Gilbert B. Hesse, treasurer; and Mrs. Don Wise, secretary. Dr. Harry C. Bryan is life member.

Committee chairmen are as follows: Dr. Lee A. Steele, general crusade chairman; Mrs. Charles H. Roadman, honorary crusade chairman; Dr. George M. Lindeman, director, public education; Gary Berry, cancer education in School District 11; Frank D. Arnold, chairman, business division; W. L. Bowers, director, public information; Charles L. Heitman, Jr., chairman, GO clubs and employee groups; Fred E. Provenzano, co-chairman, special gifts; Dr. Charles B. Nitka, chairman, nominating committee and co-chairman, special gifts. Trott will also serve as ex-officio member of all committees; Lloyd, as director of professional education, Seatvet, as chairman for Security; and Hesse, as chairman, budget and finance committee.

It was mentioned that the Leukemia Foundation has elected not to join the American Cancer Society.

Daniel A. Belknap, executive director, Community Planning, and Research Council, 25 E. San Rafael, explained the stu- ty of community needs which his group is undertaking. Traditionally, he said, such stu- es of community health and elfare have been undertaken y the United Fund or the Com- unity Chest. Such areas as ancer and county government e thus excluded from the stu- es. His group hopes to inves- gate health, welfare, youth, mily, and recreation services, s well as federal, state, local, chool, and religious agencies.

The Community Planning a esearch Council operates on a 0,000 grant from El Pomar undation, administered by olorado College. Belknap ews the group's role as that of problem and program analyzing and fact-gathering, not as a decision-making. He also hopes to investigate the role of the private physician, as compared to the community clinic. He does not anticipate any written reports until spring, but he hopes that there will be a continual gathering and sharing of information.

El Paso County Unit Board meetings were set for 4 p.m., the third Wednesday of every other month, and executive committee meetings for noon the third Wednesday of alternate months. The first meeting will be Oct. 21.

Large Crowd Expected for Penrose Event

One of the largest crowds on record is expected to turn out for the 29th annual Apple Day celebration at Penrose Saturday, it was announced this week by Mrs. Charles Shadford, publicity chairman for the sponsoring Penrose Community group.

Beginning at 9:30 Saturday morning with the crowning of Apple Day Queen Anne Heid at the famous Penrose fountain, the day-long fall festival will be concluded Saturday night with a dance at the Penrose school gym.

Honored guest this year in the colorful Penrose parade, which will be held at 10:30 a.m. will be Mrs. Bernice Rathke, a resident of Penrose since 1923.

A native of Loveland, Colo., Mrs. Rathke was married to Harry C. Rathke at Rosemont, Colo., July 14, 1915. After moving to Penrose in 1923, the Rathke family owned and operated extensive orchards and a cattle ranch in the Beaver Park area.

Rathke served several terms on the school board and was a member of the board when Apple Day was first started as a PTA project in 1935.

Saturday, Mrs. Rathke will ride in the Apple Day parade along with her children who have settled in the park and have played active parts in the community's growth. There are four generations of the pioneer Rathke family now living in the Penrose area.

At the queen ceremonis Saturday morning, Miss Heid will be honored as Apple Day queen and her attendants will be Carolyn Goodall and Jini Lewis.

Youth Convicted in Glue-Sniffing Death

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — An 18-year-old Salt Lake City youth was convicted of second degree murder Thursday night for the death of a companion during a "glue-sniffing" session.

Ray Wayne Pierce had been charged with first degree murder in the knife slaying of Kenneth Jack Vaught in Pierce's apartment May 28.

The 12-man jury deliberated two hours before returning the lesser guilty verdict.

The defense contended that Pierce was temporarily insane as the result of sniffing glue.

Toxicologists and psychiatrists testified during the four-day trial that inhaling the chemicals in airplane glue could make a person irrational and not in control of his acts.

PROPOSAL APPROVED

DENVER (UPI)— The Interstate Commerce Commission was reported Wednesday to have approved a proposal of the Denver Chicago Trucking Co. to purchase the Red Ball Express Co. of Omaha, Neb. Denver-Chicago president Leslie G. Taylor said the Nebraska trucking operation would be run as a wholly-owned subsidiary and would maintain its Omaha headquarters under direction of Red Ball president Ralph Nogg.

KUHARICH IS BACK

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Joe Kuharich's appearance as coach of the Philadelphia Eagles marks his return to the National Football League. He previously coached the Washington Redskins and his last game before the 1964 season opened resulted in a 1958 Redskin victory over the Eagles. The score was 20-0.

No Anti-American Sentiment Is Found

Goldberg, along with Mrs. Goldberg, visited Italy, India, Ceylon, Malaysia, Hong Kong and Japan. He met with newsmen Thursday in his chambers here.

"I was cordially received everywhere," Goldberg said. "I was well received by the students and their questions were politely asked. In Japan. I found sentiment improved over what it was three years ago."

Goldberg visited Japan when he was secretary of labor, shortly after rioting over a announcement that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower planned a trip.

PAY FRANCKS TWICE

NEW YORK (AP) — All work means double pay for Don Frezncks, a Canadian singer making Broadway debut this season in "Kelly."

Under an agreement with the sponsors of the stage production, Francks is pledged for five years to any film or television projects under the same management. In exchange the 32-year-old performer is to get two salaries concurrently. The dollar terms were not disclosed.

More than half of the Bureau of Indian Affair's 11,758 regular employes have Indian blood.

The defense contended that Pierce was temporarily insane as the result of sniffing glue.

Toxicologists and psychiatrists testified during the four-day trial that inhaling the chemicals in airplane glue could make a person irrational and not in control of his acts.

PROPOSAL APPROVED

DENVER (UPI)— The Interstate Commerce Commission was reported Wednesday to have approved a proposal of the Denver Chicago Trucking Co. to purchase the Red Ball Express Co. of Omaha, Neb. Denver-Chicago president Leslie G. Taylor said the Nebraska trucking operation would be run as a wholly-owned subsidiary and would maintain its Omaha headquarters under direction of Red Ball president Ralph Nogg.

KUHARICH IS BACK

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Joe Kuharich's appearance as coach of the Philadelphia Eagles marks his return to the National Football League. He previously coached the Washington Redskins and his last game before the 1964 season opened resulted in a 1958 Redskin victory over the Eagles. The score was 20-0.

No Anti-American Sentiment Is Found

Goldberg, along with Mrs. Goldberg, visited Italy, India, Ceylon, Malaysia, Hong Kong and Japan. He met with newsmen Thursday in his chambers here.

"I was cordially received everywhere," Goldberg said. "I was well received by the students and their questions were politely asked. In Japan. I found sentiment improved over what it was three years ago."

Goldberg visited Japan when he was secretary of labor, shortly after rioting over a announcement that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower planned a trip.

PAY FRANCKS TWICE

NEW YORK (AP) — All work means double pay for Don Frezncks, a Canadian singer making Broadway debut this season in "Kelly."

Under an agreement with the sponsors of the stage production, Francks is pledged for five years to any film or television projects under the same management. In exchange the 32-year-old performer is to get two salaries concurrently. The dollar terms were not disclosed.

More than half of the Bureau of Indian Affair's 11,758 regular employes have Indian blood.

MAGGIE? I'M SO GLAD I REACHED YOU. AM I GETTING IN THE WAY?
NO, CHARLES. WE'VE JUST ENDED A LONG SESSION ON A LITTLE ITEM CALLED NEUROFIBROMAS...AND I CAN USE THE BREAK.
A MORE ATTRACTIVE BREAK, FROM MY POINT OF VIEW, WOULD BE DINNER TONIGHT...IN FACT, WHY DON'T WE INCLUDE DR. CASEY? I'D BE DELIGHTED TO ENTERTAIN YOU BOTH.
HE'S RIGHT HERE. I'LL ASK HIM. I'M SURE HE'LL ACCEPT.

I'VE MET CEDRIC! BUT WHERE HAVE YOU BEEN FOR SO LONG?
GRANDFATHER WAS DETERMINED THAT I CARRY ON IN HIS FOOTSTEPS!
I'D DONE WELL IN SCHOOL; AT SEVENTEEN I WAS READY FOR COLLEGE; BUT THE LAW HELD NO LURE FOR ME! THE JUDGE AND I HAD A BITTER, VIOLENT ARGUMENT!
THE JUDGE GAVE ME AN ULTIMATUM! EITHER I FOLLOWED HIS ORDERS OR HE WOULD DISINHERIT ME! WELL, THAT NIGHT I STOWED AWAY ON A FOREIGN FLAG FREIGHTER! WHERE HAVE I BEEN SINCE THEN? THIS WORLD, CAPTAIN! ALL OF IT!
I'LL BET THE JUDGE ADMIRED YOU FOR BEING AS TOUGH AS HE WAS!

MAGGIE? I'M SO GLAD I REACHED YOU. AM I GETTING IN THE WAY?
NO, CHARLES. WE'VE JUST ENDED A LONG SESSION ON A LITTLE ITEM CALLED NEUROFIBROMAS... AND I CAN USE THE BREAK.
A MORE ATTRACTIVE BREAK, FROM MY POINT OF VIEW, WOULD BE DINNER TONIGHT... IN FACT, WHY DON'T WE INCLUDE DR. CASEY? I'D BE DELIGHTED TO ENTERTAIN YOU BOTH.
HE'S RIGHT HERE. I'LL ASK HIM. I'M SURE HE'LL ACCEPT.

I'VE MET CEDRIC! BUT WHERE HAVE YOU BEEN FOR SO LONG?
GRANDFATHER WAS DETERMINED THAT I CARRY ON IN HIS FOOTSTEPS!
I'D DONE WELL IN SCHOOL; AT SEVENTEEN I WAS READY FOR COLLEGE; BUT THE LAW HELD NO LURE FOR ME! THE JUDGE AND I HAD A BITTER, VIOLENT ARGUMENT!
THE JUDGE GAVE ME AN ULTIMATUM! EITHER I FOLLOWED HIS ORDERS OR HE WOULD DISINHERIT ME! WELL, THAT NIGHT I STOWED AWAY ON A FOREIGN FLAG FREIGHTER! WHERE HAVE I BEEN SINCE THEN? THIS WORLD, CAPTAIN! ALL OF IT!
I'LL BET THE JUDGE ADMIRED YOU FOR BEING AS TOUGH AS HE WAS!

Railroad Official Travels by Bus

PORTLAND, Ore. ( (AP) — A high-ranking ladies' official in railroading took a 300-mile trip this week from Portland to Klamath Falls — by bus.

Hazel Hand, head of the ladies auxiliary to the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen, was unable to ride the morning train because its run had been discontinued for the winter.

The situation lent credibility to a statement Mrs. Hand had made earlier this week to a ladies group: "Railroading is harder on the wives than the husbands."

Button Gwinnett Buried Again In Georgia

By JACK STILLMAN

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — They've buried Button Gwinnett again. And Mayor George Sancken Jr. of Augusta says it makes no difference that they have buried him in Savannah.

Gwinnett died in 1777. He was one of the three signers of the Declaration of Independence from Georgia. Autograph collectors say his signature is among the rarest and has been sold for more than $50,000.

Both Augusta and Savannah wanted his bones.

Gwinnett's burial place was forgotten until State Rep. Arthur J. Funk of Savannah found it seven years ago in Savannah's old Christ Church Cemetery.

The remains, in a small copper box, were in Funk's custody until the reburial last week at a site where a monument will be built.

A dispute arose when Augusta officials attempted to have Gwinnett's remains sent to Augusta where the bodies of the other two signers are buried.

Former Mayor Millard A. Bechum of Augusta appealed to Georgia Secretary of State Ben Fortson in 1960 to intercede. But Fortson would have no part in the dispute. The state later approved $5,000 to help Savannah pay for a suitable monument.

Bechum contended that it was only right that Gwinnett should be buried with Georgia's other signers — George Walton and Lyman Hall.

But Sancken, who became mayor last January, said it makes no difference now. "We do think it would be nice if Savannah would let us have the body so they could all rest like one happy family," he said.

Sancken said Augusta city officials now are content to let the issue rest in peace.

"The die is cast," Sancken said in an interview. "We aren't going to try to pull any skeletons out of the closet — or the ground. As far as we are concerned, the issued is dead."

Gwinnett was mortally wounded by Gen. Lachlan McIntosh in a duel and died several days later.

She Realizes She Is Democrat

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — As a 22-year-old New Yorker, Jan Meserell volunteered to work for the Draft Eisenhower Committee in Washington, before the 1952 political convention.

As a lifelong Republican, Miss Meserell accompanied the general on his campaign for the presidency as a secretary to James Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary.

As Mrs. David Simmons now, she has become a Democratic precinct committeewoman.

"The more I read, the more I realized that I was a Democrat," Mrs. Simmons said Thursday.
